THE SQUARE IS OVERCROWDED

Chamber of Commerce President Says Traffic Congestion is Dangerous

French and Brookings Streets Should be Used for Relief Loop

Does Not Think Home Rule Committee Has Very Good Argument

Declaring that the argument of excessive cost to the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., without an immediate increase in revenue from fares, which is the only one offered against a proposition to loop certain cars through French and Brookings streets, if carried to its logical conclusion would forever prohibit any relief from the present congested conditions in Merrimack square, W. N. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, today voiced his attitude on the plan now that the home rule committee has gone on record as opposed to it.

"The traffic situation in Merrimack square is apparent to everyone," said the president of the chamber. "Practically all electric car transfer traffic occurs within the square between Central and Prescott streets.

At 10 o'clock this forenoon there were two automobiles, five electric cars, one horse-drawn wagon and an

GIRLS IN OVERALLS

Western Ladies Set Example in Boston

BOSTON, April 23.—Two fair pioneers from the middle west were responsible for the demand here today for ladies' overalls. Miss Jane Livermore of Chicago and Miss Edith Johnson of Evanston, Ill., were first to take advantage yesterday of a local theater's offer of free seats for women who appeared in overalls.

Several Boston young women followed the example of their western sisters and attended the play attired in denim overalls, jumpers and caps of various colors. One young miss said she is "black and tired of trying to keep stocked up with silk stockings and gorgeous crepe waisie. These are cheaper and honestly quite comfortable."

SAN REMO, April 23.—Prince Chika, Rumanian minister to France, arrived here today from Rumania. He is visiting San Remo for the purpose of following closely Russian questions before the supreme council which affects Rumania.

Railroads Reject Strikers' Appeal

NEW YORK, April 23.—Railroad managers today flatly rejected a direct appeal of strikers in the New York district that they be restored to duty with full seniority rights and that the strike be settled "in the public interest."

Threatens To Arrest Strike Leaders

CLEVELAND, April 23.—Immediate arrest of railroad strike leaders in Cleveland unless they ordered switchmen to return to work by tomorrow morning, was threatened by federal agents today.

The warning was given to F. J. O'Rourke, president of the Cleveland Yardmen's association by John Sawken of the department of justice, just before the executive committee of the association met at noon.

To Repeal Daylight Saving Law

ALBANY, N. Y., April 23.—The assembly today passed the Fowler bill designed to repeal the daylight saving law. The bill, which has already passed the senate, now goes to the governor.

OLD BOARD IS ABOLISHED

Municipal Council Passes Ordinance Removing Board of Engineers

Action on Oil Contract is Again Delayed—Twenty Jurors Drawn

The board of engineers of the fire department, an organization created a quarter of a century ago but which has been practically abandoned for some years past, was formally declared abolished at this morning's meeting of the municipal council when that body voted to adopt an ordinance repealing the ordinance adopted Dec. 4, 1896, whereby the board was created.

At the present time the powers and duties which were formerly vested in the board of engineers are now controlled by the commissioner at the head of the fire department. The board of engineers went out of existence as a working body when the new form of charter was adopted but it has never been formally declared abolished.

The ordinance calling for its abolition was introduced by Commissioner John F. Salmon and there was no opposition.

The council failed to take any action on awarding a contract for the furnishing of road oil to be used by the street department during the present year owing to the failure of the necessary papers to arrive here from the office of the Alden Spars Co. in Boston in time for the meeting.

ADVENTURERS RETURN

Three Boys in Boat Made of Barrel Staves, Etc., Caught in Storm in Boston Harbor

BOSTON, April 23.—Three boys in a boat made of barrel staves, hoops and canvas set out yesterday on a great adventure, and returned today in time for school. The lads had paddled well down the harbor, when a cold night rain came upon them. They landed on Governors Island and kept warm by a campfire while harbor police sent out searching parties. With daylight the started to return but their makeshift craft opened a seam and began to leak. One of the boys sat in the bottom of the boat to bail out the water, while the other two paddled with their barrel staves to the East Boston flats where the police picked them up.

THE DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW

Will Become Effective Here and Elsewhere on Sunday Morning

The Boston & Maine Railroad Will Adhere to Eastern Standard Time

It's Somewhat Confusing—But This Story May Help Some

At 2 a. m. on Sunday, April 25, the daylight saving law, enacted by the commonwealth of Massachusetts, will become effective in Lowell and throughout the state. It will continue in effect until 2 a. m. Sunday, Oct. 31, and during this period the standard time in Massachusetts will be advanced one hour.

Of paramount interest to Lowell people, living under the daylight saving plan, is the relationship of the public to the railroads, inasmuch as Massachusetts will be advanced one hour.

BILL TO RELIEVE

AUTOMOBILISTS

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 23.—A bill to relieve automobilists of many technical violations of the law was reported favorably today by the legislative committee on roads and bridges.

Under existing law, an automobile which is operated frequently in Massachusetts and in an adjoining state as well as required to be registered in both states, but the Massachusetts law provides that only Massachusetts plates may be shown while the vehicle is in this state. Consequently an owner registered here and operating in another state is required, under a technical interpretation of the law, to stop at the state line each time he crosses it and change his number plates.

To do away with this necessity the committee has reported a bill providing that "motor vehicles and trailers which are commonly operated in this commonwealth and in an adjoining state may display the register number plates of both states, whenever the motor vehicle or trailer is required by law or local regulation to be registered in this commonwealth and also in the adjoining state, provided, the said number plates on the front and the rear of the vehicle or trailer are always plainly discernible."

REED REJECTED AS DELEGATE

Missouri Democrats Resent Senator's Stand on League of Nations

Ballot Taken After All Night Session—Senator Denounced During Debate

JOPLIN, Mo., April 23.—United States Senator James A. Reed of Missouri, League of Nations opponent, was rejected as district delegate to the democratic national convention by vote of the democratic state convention here early today. The convention had been in session all night.

The vote was 1010 to 996. Lines were drawn sharply in the fight between adherents of Reed and the anti-Reed faction which disapproved Reed's opposition to the League of Nations covenant.

In the debate which preceded the vote, Senator Reed was denounced and praised by a number of speakers.

"Missouri has suffered long and has been patient, but her hour of vindication is here," said one speaker.

Ladies!

A penny saved is a penny earned. So said Ben Franklin.

If you buy your hat from us we don't save you pennies; we save you dollars. Our small overhead expense enables us to do this. We do not brag about being able to buy cheaper than others, any more than the man who runs a small, modest but clean hostelry can claim he buys food cheaper than the one who conducts a big, high class luxurious hotel. But he can and he does sell you the same wholesome clean food for half the price of the big PALACE, simply because, having a small expense, but a small profit is sufficient to cover it. Surely you are not going to pay $12 if we can sell you the same hat for $8. This is just what we do every day of the week. ## PETER TOOK THE COUNT

Mr. Blanchard Allows That One Charles H. Green is Hard Hitter

Charles H. Green of Lowell K.O'd Peter Blanchard, also of this city, in one round of fast fighting last evening.

The event was staged in a "Tylor" street rooming house and the principals didn't bother to engage the services of a referee.

Shortly after Peter took the count the police dropped in and took the pair to police headquarters—also the audience, which consisted of Ambrose Redmond of Plymouth and Agnes Richard. Several empty "jakey" bottles were also seized by the representatives of the law.

This morning in police court everyone told Judge Pickman about the scrap which, they unanimously agreed, was packed with action and thrills from the moment it began until Green ended the festivities with a well directed right hook to the jaw.

Peter was the first to tell his story. Peter couldn't talk very fluently, because several of his teeth were mis-ing as the result of the bombardment he had undergone.

Early in the evening he left the room where he and the rest of the party were visiting. Intent upon purchasing some "jakey." When he returned Green opened fire with a volley of left jabs and right hooks, he said, and, although he did his best to come back, he was hopelessly outclassed from the start.

He didn't know why Green had singled him out to display his pugilistic wares, but he freely admitted that Green sure did pack an awful wallop. Green said that it was Peter who had started the fuss and that he was forced to "lick him in self-defense."

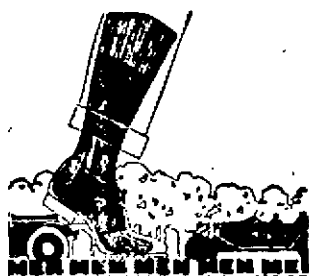

"I just hit him two or three cracks, Your Honor," he declared. "Then I picked him up off the floor, washed the blood off and laid him down on the 'b-d'."

Redmond and the Richard woman didn't have much to add to the story. Both admitted that they had put away considerable "jakey," however.

Judge Pickman didn't say much about the matter, either. Just fined Green $25 for assault and battery, gave the woman five months in the house of correction and ordered suspended sentences for the other two.

Case Continued

THREE SUDDEN DEATHS HERE IN TWO DAYS

There were three sudden deaths in this city yesterday and today. The first occurred yesterday morning when Geo. Stalias, aged 35, a coffee house proprietor in Market street, passed away at his home, 255 Market street. Mr. Stalias complained to his wife of a pain at the heart and before medical assistance could be summoned, the man breathed his last. The body was viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith, who pronounced death due to heart disease.

The second occurred yesterday afternoon when Daniel R. Plack, who for 25 years was employed as foreman at the Lamson company, passed away at his home, 145 Stevens street. Deceased is survived by his wife, Lillian R. Plack; a daughter, Miss Helen G. Plack and four brothers.

The third death occurred this morning at the Chelmsford street hospital and the victim was Edouard Buisson, aged 55 years, who died from cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Buisson had been an inmate at the hospital since 1917. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith, after viewing the body, attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage. Deceased is survived by a daughter.

HUMANE SOCIETY AGENT GRATEFUL

In regard to the "Be Kind to Animals Week," observed in this city during the week of April 12-15, in co-operation with the national campaign Agent C. F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society extended his thanks today to the various publicity mediums of Lowell. The campaign was an endeavor fostered by the American Humane Education society to awaken "particularly in the hearts of children, those principles of justice, fair play and active kindness towards every form of life capable of suffering, without which there can be no character worthy of citizenship in a free state."

In putting the campaign across in Lowell, Mr. Richardson, who was in charge here, secured the co-operation of the Strand, Merrimack Square and Keith's theatres, where very entertaining and instructive colored slides were cast upon the screens at every performance during the week, also the help of the public school teachers, who held daily instructions in their class rooms teaching the "seeds of kindness," and the aid of the local newspapers which brought forcibly before the public the idea of the campaign.

To all these mediums mentioned and to Supt. Molloy of the school department Mr. C. F. Richardson extends his thanks for the co-operation rendered for such a worthy cause.

SPRING VACATIONS IN THE SCHOOLS

The spring vacation of teachers and pupils of the local schools began half a day earlier than expected for the no-school signal was sounded at 12:15 this afternoon, suspending the afternoon sessions and the schools will not reopen until a week from next Monday morning, May 3.

AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mr. Goodell to Attend National Convention There

William N. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, leaves tomorrow to attend the national convention of the United States chamber of commerce at Atlantic City on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. He will be the only representative of the loyal organization.

On Monday he will sit as a counselor at the national council session and on the following three days, as a delegate to the convention. Although the keynote of this year's convention is a necessity of increased production, the delegates will be called upon to consider many questions of unusual importance, including admiralty suits against the government, Americanization, anti-trust laws, business codes, fire prevention, foreign trade, department of commerce, free zones inland navigation projects and last, but not least, Mexico.

In discussing the Mexican question

the delegates will consider the following resolution introduced by the St. Louis chamber of commerce:

"Resolved: That there be recognition of the high importance of placing before the people of the United States the concrete facts which demonstrate the financial, commercial, political and social progress of Mexico, thus bring to the new leadership, which the various organized agencies of Mexican life are developing, the assurance of the sympathy of the forward-looking men in the United States and the desire for practical co-operation—financial, industrial, social—on the part of the leaders of our thought and life."

LATER CAR SERVICE FOR HIGH STREET

Through the efforts of Thomas Lee, local manager of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., High street line will have later car service beginning next week. Since the recent rearrangement of the car schedules the last High street car leaves the square at 11:03, but as this was too late to connect with the 9:59 train from Boston, it was deemed advisable to extend the time. Next week the last High street car will leave the square at 11:29, but that time will not be effective for Sundays. No other changes will begin Sunday. The new schedule on the Tyngsboro line was put into effect recently.

New assignment of routes to the motormen and conductors of the street railway company was made recently and will go into effect Sunday.

ASSESSORS CALL THIS PROFITEERING

Forty dollars a month for a six-room cottage located on the outskirts of the city is the most flagrant example of alleged profiteering on the part of local landlords which has yet come to their attention, the local assessors said today in discussing their experiences in making their rounds this spring to assess real estate and personal property.

on a street leading from the Pawtucket boulevard and the assessors say that they have traced its origin to a cottage which formerly stood near the present filtration plant of the water department but which was sold in 1916 by the city to a local man. He moved it to its present location. Records at the water department office show that he paid in the vicinity of $300 for it. Today he is renting it for $40 per month.

This amount of rent has been charged since last December, the present tenants told the assessors. The house was valued at $2000 last year by the assessors; the amount of rent now being charged will undoubtedly be taken into consideration when the board comes to place a 1920 valuation on the property.

The assessors are meeting with many other instances that would seem to indicate unnecessarily high rent charges and are investigating each case as it comes along. Although it has no power to prosecute such cases the board will keep them in mind when it places a valuation on the various pieces of real estate involved.

FIREMEN ON VACATIONS

The following members of the local fire department will go on their annual vacation next Sunday and will return to work May 10: Capt. J. E. Burns, Capt. G. P. Flint, Lieut. G. H. Welch, J. A. Fletcher, W. E. Gorman, J. W. Jamison, W. O. Lucier and J. J. McCarthy.

The Daylight Saving Law

Sachusetts is the only New England state to adopt the time change. While Lowell as a whole will set watches and clocks ahead one hour on Sunday night and lose an hour's sleep thereby, the Boston & Maine railroad will adhere to eastern standard time, moving ahead all of its trains, rather than its timepieces.

The Boston & Maine, as an interstate carrier, in common with other railroads operating in Massachusetts, will continue to observe the old time, so-called, and, therefore, the time shown in folders and on railroad clocks will indicate 2 o'clock, for instance, when clocks conforming to Massachusetts daylight saving time indicate 3 o'clock. It is of particular importance that patrons keep this in mind when preparing for railroad journeys.

Trains Leave One Hour Earlier

All trains, local and through trains originating on the Boston & Maine system and terminating on the lines of other railroads will be scheduled one hour earlier than at present, effective, Monday, the 26th. Through trains from other railroads may be operated on revised schedules to be announced later.

This arrangement has been decided upon after most careful consideration as one which will accommodate the greatest number of people and occasion the minimum inconvenience. The present schedules are designed to serve the interests of all communities, irrespective of state boundaries and any attempt to adjust them to meet local conditions in various states due to difference in time would cause the breaking of many connections and a complete disruption of the present schedules, with consequent inconvenience to patrons.

The following examples are illustrative of the proposed schedules:

A train now leaving Boston for Lowell at 5 p. m. will be scheduled to leave at 4 p. m., eastern standard time, this being 5 p. m., Massachusetts daylight saving time.

Similarly, the train now scheduled to leave Lowell for Boston at 9:01 a. m. will be scheduled to leave at 8:01, eastern standard time, this being 9:01, Massachusetts daylight saving time.

Boiled down, this means that if you plan to get the 9:01 to Boston next week, you will go to the station at a time by your watch to catch this train, but the clock in the depot will show 8:01 when the train leaves. That is the difference which is liable to cause confusion and which traveling people are urged to keep in mind.

No Confusion Looked For

It is believed that Lowell will accept the new time with no apparent confusion in her workaday life. Farmers in nearby towns will be forced to adjust themselves to the new conditions, however. The dairyman, for example, claims to be injured in the daylight saving scheme, because he is required to get up an hour earlier in order to meet train schedules or milk delivery schedules and that his work continues into the evening as late as ever—thus, his day is lengthened by one hour. He claims that his workmen object to this condition and he will be unable to hire labor if daylight saving is continued.

Proponents of the daylight saving measure, however, say the dairyman will be taken care of by shifting milk train and delivery schedules. Very little milk brought into Massachusetts cities by morning trains is delivered the same morning, they say.

The Farmer's Situation

The farmer claims a loss of one hour's work under daylight saving because work must be delayed one hour in the morning until the dew is off the grass or vegetables. Answering this objection, proponents of the measure say that hay can be cut when wet with dew and frequently is cut when wet. They say the same holds true in regard to vegetables and that while it may be unpleasant to work while crops are damp, it is not actually injurious.

Lowell Industries in Favor

A report of investigations concerning the advent of daylight saving in Massachusetts and recently published by the Boston chamber of commerce, is of particular interest to Lowell, inasmuch as reference is made to a number of local industries, etc. The following Lowell industries have gone on record as favoring the state daylight saving law:

C. S. Dodge, The Lamson Co., Lowell Bleachery, Tremont & Suffolk mills, Wamsit Power Co., Waterhead Mills, Inc., George L. Cady & Sons, Burnham & Davis Lumber Co., Brookfield Woolen Co., H. H. Mawhinney Co., Columbia Textile Co., Davis & Sargent Lumber Co., D. Lovejoy & Son, Gillespie Mfg. Co., Park Worsted mills, Avery Chemical Co., C. I. Hood Co., C. F. Hatch Co., Pratt & Forrest, U. S. Bobbin & Shuttle Co., John Pilling Shoe, American Mason Safety Tread, T. C. Patwist Co., Knowles Scale Works and Saco-Lowell Shops.

In West Chelmsford, the H. E. clency.

Fletcher Co. favors it and in Littleton the measure is endorsed by Conant, Houghton & Co., Inc. The Talbot mills in North Billerica also favor it.

Local Employers Veto on Question

In a poll taken by the Boston chamber of commerce among the employers of several Lowell business houses, the result was as follows:

	For	Against
C. F. Hatch Co.	162	11
Park Worsted mill	41	0
D. Lovejoy & Son	30	0
Appleton Co.	1694	208
U. S. Cartridge Co.	624	43
Stirling mill	88	43
Belvidere Woolen	51	10
Lowell Gas Light	35	2
Gillespie Mfg. Co.	436	53
Saco-Lowell shops	123	45

A canvass of Lowell physicians resulted in 43 in favor and four against, while the Lowell General and St. John's hospitals, both reported in favor. Eight Lowell optometrists and opticians replied to a poll taken as favoring the new law. Two hundred and ninety-one opticians from 67 cities and towns in the state have gone on record in favor of daylight saving and gave the following reasons therefor: Lessen eye strain, benefits health, provides for additional recreation, reduces accidents and increases workers' efficiency.

AN INNOVATION

Democrats Pull New One in Convention Management

CHICAGO, April 23.—A new departure in political convention management has been launched by the democratic national committee, which has opened a transportation bureau here to care for the delegates, alternates and spectators who will go to San Francisco to attend the convention June 28. The shortage of railroad equipment and the flood of traffic on all roads is responsible for the innovation.

"See America First" tours to points of interest in the west, including Yellowstone park, the grand canyon, Los Angeles and others, are being planned by the democrats as a lure to attract at least a part of the travelers westward two or three weeks before the convention, thereby spreading the burden on the railroads over a longer period.

For the return trip from San Francisco a system has been worked out whereby the visitors can buy castbound tickets within 36 hours after the convention opens, the tickets to call for return passage eight hours after the convention closes. The biggest problem in convention transportation has always been the return trip, as the day and hour for the close is always uncertain.

E. K. Bixby, a transportation official of the Pennsylvania railroad system, has been loaned to the democratic committee to take charge of the transportation bureau. He has obtained the co-operation of the association of western passenger agents, and the Pullman company has promised him first call for its parlor car equipment.

The transportation committee of the national democratic committee, which is directing the work, includes Charles Boerschlein, Illinois, chairman; Isidore B. Blockweller, Calif.; W. W. Marsh, Iowa; Fred B. Lynch, Minn.; and Patrick J. Quinn, Rhode Island.

HOME BUILDING TO STOP PROFITEERING

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—A campaign for the building of homes is Philadelphia's answer to the question of how to keep rents down to a reasonable basis. The tenant population is in desperate straits, for rents have been going higher and higher and no end seems to be in sight. The scramble for homes in the suburbs is so acute that when one woman moved some of the furniture out of her home the other day, in order to clean the house, 25 persons tried to rent it from her within a few hours.

To stop the profiteering in rents and homes, several organizations are attempting to unite on a program of home building to continue for at least six months or until the shortage has been relieved. These organizations include Associations of Tenants, Trade unions, representatives of the building trades and mortgage companies. They have been asked to undertake this work by the department of public welfare.

Meanwhile camping ground accessible by street cars is in great demand. Tent manufacturers say more orders have been placed for tents this month than ever before in Philadelphia's history.

There is an unprecedented amount of building of cheap cottages and bungalows within a radius of 30 miles of Philadelphia to accommodate the rush of tenants that is expected when mild weather comes. Those erected in one community cost about $600 each and are eagerly rented at $350 for the season.

Old canal boats lying along the Schuylkill river are being fitted out as dwellings and families are glad to rent them as temporary homes.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots

There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as Othine—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of Othine—double strength—from any druggist and apply a little of it night and morning and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion.

Be sure to ask for the double strength Othine as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.—Adv.

HOUSE BUILT IN SEVEN DAYS!

CHICAGO—Carpenters say the erection of a new home in seven days at Melrose Park is a record building feat. The old house, owned by a carpenter, was razed in the recent tornado. Brother carpenters—a score of them—pitched in and donated their time, "off hours," to help him get up a new one in a hurry. It took the equivalent, in hours at various times, of seven days.

SHAWNEE CAMPERS' ANNUAL DANCE

The Shawnee Campers held their third annual dance in Lincoln hall last evening. It was a most successful affair with about 400 people present, who enjoyed the evening's amusement until a reasonable hour. The music of the evening was featured by Paul Angelo at the piano and John Clark at the drum. Too dancing by Miss Catherine Boyle was a feature of the entertainment. The balloon dance, which was held shortly after intermission, proved interesting to all. The officers of the party were as follows: John Bowers, general manager; Bernard O'Grady, assistant general manager; Arthur Krause, floor director; Alexander Reid, chief aid; James Creamer, treasurer.

Loss of Appetite

Pimples and Other Eruptions—Mental and Physical Weakness

They are all common at this time of year, and are all indications that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against infectious and contagious diseases, because they are all indications that it needs cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

It is important to give them attention—it is in fact hazardous to neglect them.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today and begin taking it at once, regularly after eating and if convenient in a little hot water.

Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. It builds up the whole system. It makes food taste good.

For a gentle laxative or an active cathartic, take Hood's Pills. You will like them.—Adv.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR HOTEL EXPANSION

The incorporators of the Harrisonia Hotel Co., Frank E. Harris, Frank L. Simpson and Charles Abbott, appeared before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at its meeting last night to further outline the plans for the development of the present Harrisonia hotel in Central street.

It was announced that papers of incorporation have been received and that work on the new building already has begun. The plans for financing the proposition call for a stock and bond issue, none of which will go out of Lowell. It is said. Common stock to the amount of $350,000; preferred stock, bearing interest at 7 per cent to the amount of $400,000, and $350,000 worth of bonds will be the total issue.

THE ANNUAL BOY SCOUT GALA DAY

The date for the annual Boy Scout Gala day has been set for May 29. A meeting of members in charge of the affair was held in scout headquarters in the Carney Bank building last evening. Besides the scout executive, Read E. Ripley, representatives from each of the scout troops were present.

It is most likely that the event this year will be held in Washington park. All the troops are preparing for special events, and there will be booths and the usual demonstrations of scout work. The other members of the committee in charge are: Carl Hilton, scoutmaster of troop 15; Willard Ryan, scoutmaster of troop 8; Deputy Commissioners Albert E. Thurston and Osborn Coburn.

WHY WEAR OVERALLS?

New York Clothing Store
Cuts Prices of Suits From
$55 to $37.50

NEW YORK, April 23.—One of New York's large ready-to-wear clothing houses, in advertising yesterday reductions to $37.50 in the prices of suits and overcoats ranging as high as $55 and reductions to $37.50 on those priced as high as $75, announced the drop as "a deliberate cutting of our own profit for the purpose of helping the movement to force down the high cost of clothing."

Thousands of New Yorkers reading the announcement contemplated what the profits at original prices must have been.

The advertisement was headed: "Why wear overalls?" and explained the reduction was the firm's "contribution to the national drive to cut the high cost of clothing."

The fund is to be collected among the members of the organization only. In the course of the evening a talk on "Spiritism" was given by the chaplain of the council, Rev. Daniel J. Jefferson.

HARVARD MEN ENTERED

BOSTON, April 23.—Harvard has entered eight varsity track men in the University of Pennsylvania relay carnival to be held May 1. It was announced today. For the field events Robert Harwood is entered in the pole vault, and C. G. Krogness in the high jump. The crimson will be represented in the races by Capt. O'Connell, Ned Gordin, P. C. Pearson, William Goodwin, Bayard Wharton and Richard Chute.

EVERY EGG AN OMELETTE

OAKLAND, Cal., April 17.—Eggs at $1 or even $1.50 per dozen wouldn't be so bad at that if all hens were like Lady Gray, a Rhode Island Red owned by Mrs. Ella L. Gray of this city. A dozen of Lady Gray's products weigh about six pounds. Her record-breaking "golden egg," shown above weighs six and a quarter ounces, is nine inches in circumference and seven and a half inches around. This is only slightly more than an ordinary egg for Lady Gray, who averages about six eggs a week, many weighing over four ounces. She has five sisters, none of whom has accomplished anything to become famous.

A LESSON IN ECONOMY

"HERE'S a simple problem that has been solved by a revolution."

"WHAT do you mean by a revolution?"

"THE idea back of the P&Q (Price and Quality) way of selling Clothes has revolutionized the old method of merchandising and its many profits—the maker's, the drummer's commission, the expensive hotel bills, the losses by bad accounts, all of which the wearer has to pay."

"IS that the reason I have always saved money when I bought P&Q Clothes?"

"YES! P&Q (Price & Quality) Clothes are sold direct to the wearer at one small profit saving the customer all the in-between charges that the ordinary clothing store must add."

"WELL now I understand why I get such great values—but how do you account for the wonderful Styles they show?"

"EASY enough! Every P&Q (Price & Quality) garment is designed and tailored in the P&Q sunlight tailor plant in New York City. The spirit of the great Metropolis permeates every line and every pattern."

"LOTS of my friends wear P&Q Clothes and all are enthusiastic about them—no wonder."

"TO sum up this lesson in economy P&Q Clothes are the best money's worth in America. 35 Stores in 32 great American Cities sell them. 500,000 men wear them and praise them."

"THANK YOU! You said something."

That's a lesson easy to learn, easy to remember.—It will pay you to study it!

LONDON WOMEN GIVE RUDDY "BARBER SHOP CHORD," CUTTING HAIR AND COSTS

LONDON.—The women of England have found a new way to cut the high cost of existence, and incidentally their hair. There's a string attached to it, but that doesn't prevent it's being a good hunch. They take a string, or gauge, fit it snugly about the head, apply the shears along the edge and accomplish a tidy and artistic haircut—with considerable saving. It would work well in America with "trimmings" threatening the 75 cents per week.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur Carpenter and Miss Helen Woodbury were married Wednesday evening by Rev. Edward Babcock, the ceremony being performed at the home of the officiating clergyman, the double ring service being used. The bride wore a pearl grey tulle-travelling suit with hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Woodbury, who was attired in a blue suit with pink georgette hat. The best man was Mr. Henry T. Carpenter a brother of the groom. The bride's gift to the bridegroom was a gold pin set with sapphires and pearls, while the groom's favor to the bride was a Masonic ring. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 11 D street and later the couple left on a wedding trip to New York. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Magnus—Mann

Mr. John J. Magnus, of Norwich, Conn., and Miss Rose Mann, of this city were married Wednesday at St. Patrick's rectory, the ceremony being performed by Rev. Joseph A. Curran. The bride was becomingly gowned in white duchesse satin and wore a veil caught up with lilacs of the valley and carried bridal roses. She was attended by her cousin, Miss Mary Ward, who wore blue crepe meteor with picture hat to match and carried sweet-ber of his suite with the duty of interposing questions during discussions for the purpose of giving the impression that if Germany should fail to exactly execute the treaty of Versailles, once it is revised, England would consent to sending her soldiers into the Ruhr valley in company with those of France.

"Maneuvers at San Remo having the purpose of overcoming French opposition to revision of the treaty are the culmination of conversations which have been going on at Berlin between officials of the German government and certain allied representatives. The arrival of the German note asking for a permanent army of 200,000 men is not a mere coincidence.

LONDON, April 23.—The Times today confirms the Paris reports of yesterday that Premier Lloyd George and Nitti had urged that a German representative be summoned to San Remo for the purpose of revising the treaty of Versailles, but that the proposal collapsed owing to French and Belgian opposition. To this the newspaper adds:

"We understand that any attempt to revise the treaty without consulting the United States will be resented by America, who will consider England responsible for any complication that may ensue."

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone; and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will suffer, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work—Adv.

MANY TURKS ARE JAILED

Mohammedans Join in Movement to "Free Sultan From Allied Influence"

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 21.—(By Associated Press)—Izzet Pasha, former grand vizier, was placed under arrest by entente authorities here today. General Akirza Pasha, and several other prominent Turks also were apprehended.

Izzet Pasha is one of the best known figures in Turkish politics and was asked to form a cabinet early in March when the government of Sali Pasha gave notice it intended to resign. He was one of the Turkish delegates named to go to Paris to receive the terms of peace from the allies.

Damud Ferid Pasha, grand vizier, today took charge of the war office because dissatisfaction there has threatened to embarrass the government in sending assistance to Anzavoor Pasha, chief of the sultan's forces in Asia Minor. He discharged a number of officials who were charged with being responsible for the trouble.

Rechid Bey, minister of the interior, has resigned, and there is general dissatisfaction in government circles. Many officials disapprove of wholesale arrests of nationalists in this city and are unwilling to act against Mustapha Kemal. Twelve hundred adherents of Mustapha Kemal are reported to have been arrested, and many are being thrown into jail daily. Officers of one entire section of the war office are reported to have deserted their desks and gone to Anatolia.

Government troops and forces under command of Mustapha Kemal have clashed in a number of skirmishes in western Anatolia and it is reported the latter held the dominant position there due to the fact they have the sympathy of the population. Suburban trains within an hour of Constantinople have been fired upon by snipers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 21.—(By Associated Press)—All Mohammedans are called upon to unite in a movement to "free the sultan from allied influence" in a proclamation issued by Col. Jafar Tatar, commandant at Adrianople, on April 15.

"We are not fighting against the sultan, but against his jailers," the proclamation declared. "The world knows Thrace is Turkish and Moslem. We have never broken bonds with the sultan, whom we regard as the supreme chief, but the example of Smyrna is before our eyes. We know the Greeks murdered our brothers and ruined Turkish villages, and we know the same fate awaits us at the hands of the Greeks if we are unprepared to defend ourselves.

"The nationalist movement grew out of the atrocities inflicted on the Turks by the Greeks when the latter occupied Smyrna and the same enemies are about to attack Thrace."

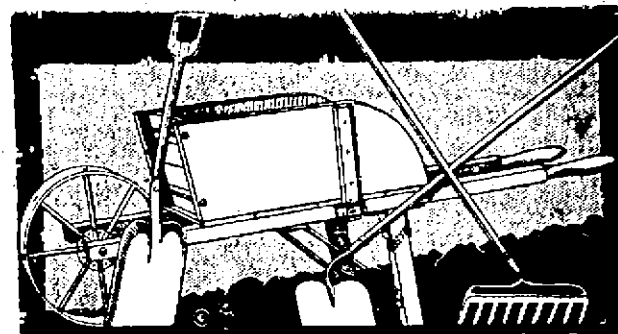

The attitude of Col. Jafar Tatar toward the sultan is evidently different from that of Mustapha Kemal who has disclaimed any allegiance to Constantinople.

The case of Rose Saba against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co., whereby the plaintiff seeks to recover $5000 for injuries alleged to have resulted from being thrown from an electric car at High and East Merrimack streets on August 23, 1919, went to trial in the superior civil court here late yesterday and was still on today. Plaintiff claims that the motorman of the car in question started so suddenly as to cause her to be thrown to the pavement.

U. S. Tobacco Too Good For Spanish Taste

MADRID, April 22.—American pipe and cigaret tobacco is too good for the Spanish taste, according to representatives of the company holding the tobacco monopoly in Spain. It is asserted the American government has offered a large amount of tobacco from its stores in France at an extremely advantageous price, but the monopolists have refused to take advantage of the bargain.

ORIGINATORS EXPLAIN OVERALL CLUB IDEA

TAMPA, Fla., April 23.—Whether the wearing of overalls and calicoes instead of blue serges, native Palm beaches, homespun, volles and other expensive clothing will bring down the high cost of dressing is an experiment first started here and now spreading through all Florida and into Alabama. The whole country now knows of it and has characterized it as "the Tampa idea."

The new style movement, its originators say, is dictated in the spirit of public duty and necessity and does not indicate any lessening of desire on the part of either men or women for good and stylish apparel. They think, however, that it is worth while to try to popularize overalls for men and calicoes and ginghams for women and it is no secret that the feminine experimenters are still looking for the return of silks, satins, organdies and the like to the limitations of their purses.

So it came about that Hatford Jones, secretary of an insurance company, started the Overalls club of Tampa. Each member pledged to wear overalls as a regular thing until clothing prices tumbled. Hundreds have joined and many are making good. Others say they are keeping the pledge just as faithfully by taking advantage of the clause which allows them to wear old clothes in lieu of overalls—just so they don't buy any new stuff.

When the men organized the women took up the battle, the New Thought and Unity club, headed by Mrs. Clara Lawton Metcalf, pledging its membership to calico dresses. All of this had its first public demonstration on Easter Sunday.

Men and women, correctly garbed to harmonize with the new idea, gathered in the court house square. Addresses were made, new pledges received, and petitions signed asking city, state and national officials to take notice and give aid. Merchants looked on and frowned, and later announced that their sales had not fallen off a bit. They are not the only ones who smile knowingly at the movement and predict that just as the foregoing of the luscious porthouse steak and choice rib roasts increased the cost of brisket, chuck and rump, the abandonment of beautiful silks and all wool garments will raise the cost of denims and calicoes.

"This overalls business is only a fool joke," says one of the leading clothiers. "Just as long as folks who work for wages demand 15-dollar silk shirts, three-dollar silk neckties and two and a half-dollar silk socks, they will get them. And while they're buying that sort of stuff you may lay your heaviest bet on their also buying the best suits of clothing the market affords."

The overall club, however, insists that the war has only begun and that they'll stick it out and are gaining recruits in hundreds.

The movement is being taken up all over the state. Clubs have been organized at Jacksonville, Lakeland, Centre Hill and other places. If someone would come along with a cartload of sabots the folks might buy and take revenge on the boot sellers.

A part of the Easter Sunday program was for the denims and calicoes to pair off and go to church. Only a few couples had the nerve to stick it out and they presented odd Darby and Joan contrast to besilled and befeathered women and tailor-moulder men.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION

8-Hour Day Adds to London's Troubles

LONDON, April 23.—London's traffic problem, which is if anything more serious than that of New York, has been made "difficult." It is announced by a parliamentary committee of investigation, by the eight-hour day.

The committee of which Kennedy Jones, member of parliament, is chairman, has been considering the subject for some time. Traffic congestion is severest, the committee found, between the hours of 7.30 and 9 a. m. and 5 and 7 p. m. It reached its maximum between the latter hours, and the committee says "Little or no relief can be looked for in the near future from any increase of the transport facilities during those hours."

Regarding the trouble as accentuated by the general adoption of the eight-hour day, the committee expresses the opinion that "if certain 'alien' businesses could arrange for the majority of their employees to leave their work between 4 and 4.15 p. m. instead of at 5 p. m. or later, appreciable benefit would result." It appeals to business houses to co-operate in this direction and asks shoppers to do as much of their shopping as they can manage to do between 10 a. m. and 4 p. m.

A man in Indian Orchard bet a long time ago that a small mountain of snow taken from the streets and piled on the common would not be wholly gone by April 15. Monday the man with whom he bet, seeing about two feet of solid ice remaining, hired two men to clear it away, there having been no stipulation as to how the snow should disappear. The other party to the wager learned of what was going on, drove the laborers away, and put up a big sign reading, "No Trespassing," to guard the mound.

These four Ladies have regained their health and strength by taking RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women

Saying a good word for RED PILLS

It is now six years since I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and I consider it my duty to praise them highly, for they have helped me so much that I am now strong and well. I eat well, sleep well and in fact cannot complain of anything. Two boxes of RED PILLS relieved me, and fifteen boxes put me in fine health. I now take pleasure in recommending RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, to my numerous friends.—Mrs. PHILIAS GAMACHE,

Left suffering by "La Grippe"

After recovering from a severe attack of "grippe" last fall, my constitution was run-down and in a weakened condition. I was constantly troubled with headaches, backaches, poor digestion, and was getting so weak that I had lost all interest in life. I started to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and it was not long before I started to feel stronger and better in many ways. In about four or five months my health was completely changed and I was feeling fine.—Mrs. MARY DALY, 363 Pond Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Good for the nerves

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women have strengthened me, they have calmed my nerves and helped my stomach. I took twenty-four boxes and was made well. I am now able to digest my food easily, I am strong and courageous and life seems brighter to me than ever before. I therefore do not hesitate one minute in recommending RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, so that others may have a chance of being benefited by their use, just as I have been.—

Mrs. PIERRE CARDIN,

145 Buttle Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Benefited fifteen years ago; still well

Fifteen years ago I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. I was so worn-out through overwork that I was completely exhausted and unable to do anything right. Some of my lady-friends who came to see me, were always speaking of RED PILLS and I grew to believe in them so much that I tried them. Only six boxes were necessary to help me, and I will take them again whenever I feel that I need a good tonic to build up my strength.—Mrs. O. FORGET, 138 Aiken Street, Lowell, Mass.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

WILL CELEBRATE DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

SPRINGFIELD, April 23.—Members of the 104th Infantry, the all-Massachusetts regiment, will celebrate a double anniversary in this city April 23, Apremont day, when the first annual meeting and reunion of the 104th Infantry Veterans' association will take place. It is the first regimental reunion called by any unit in the famous 26th (Vandee) Division, of which it was a part.

The gathering not only marks the second anniversary of the decoration of the regimental standards with the cross and colors of the French Croix de Guerre for gallantry in action at Apremont and the Bois Brule, but also the first anniversary of the founding of the regimental veteran association and the discharge of the members from federal service at Camp Devens.

An elaborate program has been prepared, and in addition to speaking, luncheon, election of officers, and the transaction of other business (which will include among other things the possibility of a change in name), the association officers have planned to have the regimental colors brought to Springfield from Boston. Preparation of a regimental history will be discussed also. Centralized committees in Springfield, which was the regiment's headquarters, have been at work for weeks perfecting details for the reunion, and they have been supplemented by local committees formed in the various cities and towns represented by companies or detachments in the original regiment.

The 104th Infantry made an enviable war record. It was organized from the old Second, Sixth and Eighth Massachusetts National Guard Regiments and mobilized in August, 1917, at Camp Bartlett, Westfield. Col. William C. Hayes of Springfield was assigned as its first commander, and the 104th Infantry had the distinction of being the first war strength regiment of approximately 4000 men to be paraded in the United States, the farewell review taking place at Springfield in September, 1917, two days before its departure for France.

As one of the units of the 26th Division, it was a component part of the first national guard division to be organized for overseas service and a part of the first complete division of the United States army to sail for foreign shores. The regiment was trained in the Neufchateau region for three months and suffered tremendous privations, the men drilling and preparing themselves for front line duty in snow, ice and mud, which was often to their knees.

It entered the trenches on the Chemin des Dames front in February, 1918, and with the division saw more continuous front line service than any other in the entire American army. The regiment gained its greatest fame, however, at the battle of Apremont or Bois Brule.

The 104th took over a sector from the French on the Gironville front northwest of Toul, April 1, 1918. Here for nine days it was subjected to terrific shellfire, and on the following day was attacked by picked storm troops. For four days the regiment was engaged in a vicious duel with the best the Germans had to offer and finally sent them back defeated after repeated attacks and counter-attacks.

In this action the regiment lost heavily but gained unusual distinction.

Quinnumbered, almost two to one, the 104th refused to give an inch of ground and when the battle ended the regiment occupied the same front it had at the beginning of the attack by the Boche storm troops.

Because of gallantry at Apremont, 116 members of the regiment were awarded the Croix de Guerre, and the regimental colors were decorated. The ceremony took place on a hill overlooking the village of Boucu on Sunday, April 28, 1918. Among those to win the coveted decoration were several members of the band, who acted as stretcher bearers during the battle. Thereafter the 104th Infantry band became known as the most decorated musical outfit in the entire army.

The distinction of being the first American regiment in history to be decorated by a foreign government never left the 104th. In its participation in the Aisne-Marne offensive or Chateau-Thierry, the reduction of the St. Mihiel salient and the battles of the Meuse-Argonne, the regiment upheld the traditions made in the Bois Brule. Its morale was never weakened and the 104th was proud of its share in the division record.

Although its losses were appalling, it was impossible to shake the spirit of the regiment. In the closing days of its career at Camp Devens it was decided to continue the traditions and associations through a veterans' organization. This brought about the formation of the 104th Infantry Veterans' association, which is to have its first reunion and annual meeting in Springfield on Apremont day, April 23.

CAR FARES IN ROME CONTINUE TO SOAR

ROME, April 23.—Carfares in Rome which were originally two cents and were lately raised to three and then four, it is now decreed, shall now be six cents from 8 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, after which they will be 5 cents.

Those who, going to their work before 8 a. m., used to pay one cent, will now pay three for the privilege of hanging to a strap in the overcrowded cars. Cabmen have also doubled their prices but, because the cost of a pair of shoes or boots now ranges from $25 to $50, it is more economical to ride than to wear out leather.

CHICAGO TRIES TO STOP RENT PROFITEERING

CHICAGO, April 23.—This city is attempting to prevent rent profiteering by regulating increases in rates and by organizing a $100,000,000 corporation to build homes and sell them on easy payments. Meanwhile Chicago's dwellers have been forming unions to wage an alleged profiteering and landlord and committee in the city council have been investigating increases in rents ranging up to 100 and even 200 per cent.

Several hundred families have solved their individual housing problems by taking their homes in houseboats moored in the branches of the Chicago river, the Calumet and lakes in south Chicago. Once in possession of a house boat, the owner only has to pay $1 a month for the privilege of mooring the craft. If he does not like his location he can move his home boat elsewhere. Many of these boats cost $100 each and have five rooms, parlor, dining rooms, kitchen and two bedrooms. In some cases groups of tenants have solved the rent problem by forming co-operative companies and buying the apartment houses in which they live.

The housing corporation, which has been financed by banks and business men, has under consideration a plan to build a row of model homes in Grant Park, on the lake front. Examples of many types of standardized homes would be erected, furnished and surrounded by settings of trees and shrubbery so that a prospective purchaser of a new home could look over the styles before placing his order.

Attempts have been made to check rent profiteering by co-operation of the city council and the Cook county real estate board which investigated complaints and, when increases were found to be excessive, advised the landlord to withdraw his demands. In general the investigators have allowed an increase of about 30 per cent. over last year's rentals.

A proposal was made to erect scores of portable houses but the carpenters' union declared its opposition to that plan even if the houses came from union factories.

The recent tornadoes which destroyed 100 houses and damaged 400 more in Chicago and its suburbs have augmented a housing shortage which had already become acute through suspension of building operations in the war and long-drawn builders' contracts.

SHORTAGE OF HOMES ALL OVER STATE

BOSTON, April 23.—Massachusetts has not yet been able to make up for its shortage of homes and keep rents from sky-rocketing. A state commission on the necessities of life is struggling with the problem, but meanwhile tenants in this city and elsewhere have obtained little relief. Several tenant groups recently refused to pay advances in rent demanded of them and by joint action avoided eviction which would have been legal upon 30 days' notice.

Two hundred tenants at Revere have formed a corporation known as the Tenants' league to combat rent increases and have announced that they will tolerate no more advances in rent and requested aid from the city's local department. The issue there is still in doubt.

An attempt to solve the problem by arbitration has been made in Brockton, a shoe manufacturing center. A board composed of two tenants, two landlords and a fifth member to be selected by the others is to decide whether rents have been unduly advanced when disputes arise between landlords and tenants.

The commission on the necessities of life has investigated the housing and rent problems and has contributed a number of suggestions for their solution but as yet has made no formal report. It has urged the cities to form housing corporations and take over and improve abandoned tenements by workmen who had moved to better ones. The commission found there were 3000 tenements which were unoccupied because the landlords would not remodel them so as to make them fit for occupancy.

At the suggestion of the commission a bill has been introduced into the legislature that would limit the return from investments in dwelling houses to eight percent. The purpose of it is to prevent speculation in homes. The commissioners found that many builders had stopped construction because of the high cost of labor and materials and had gone to speculating in real estate. The result was that frequent sales of property were followed by advances in rent. In many cases tenants were forced out of their homes so that the landlords might demand higher rates from new occupants. Massachusetts corporations have attempted to relieve the housing shortage by erecting community houses. Whole villages of attractive houses are being erected in New Bedford, Lawrence, Lowell and other mill cities, and will be rented or sold to employees on easy terms.

GIVE THE TELEPHONE AN ALCOHOL RUB

In the kitchen of her own home Slater Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

Every once in a while it's a good plan to give the telephone an alcohol rub.

Alcohol is one of the most powerful antiseptics and is used by surgeons when boiling-water-for-20-minutes is out of the question.

The mouthpiece needs special attention. Wring a cloth out of alcohol and wash the inside thoroughly. Do not wipe with a dry cloth but let the alcohol evaporate.

As telephone companies seem to object to the use of glass attachments one may humor the objection and keep the rubber mouthpiece perfectly sanitary by the simple expedient of using alcohol.

NEEDN'T DON THE DENIM

Multi-Millionaire to Rescue to Beat the London Profiteer

BY MILTON BRONNER.
European Manager N.E.A.
LONDON, April 23.—H. Mallaby-Deeley, multi-millionaire and member of parliament, has opened successful warfare on profiteers in men's clothing, and is making friends and money by the project. His prices for made-to-order suits, of the best material, are 50 per cent less than the regular merchants have been charging.
Mallaby-Deeley is a great land-owner and lord of the manors of Ravensbury, Bigger and Tamworth.
He once made a great purchase of London property and so captured the imagination of a novelist that he wrote a book about the man "who bought London."
Here is what Mallaby-Deeley says about his own enterprise in selling men's clothing: "Probably the greatest factor causing present unrest and great bitterness in Great Britain is the prohibitive price of necessities. If unchecked, the evil may shake our very constitution."
"I have secured the entire output of three large factories, which, during the war, were making khaki uniforms for the government. They have fine machinery and high-class cutters and workmen. The cloth is first-class tweed and worsteds for suits and overcoats.

"I am not claiming to be a philanthropist, nor to be giving charity. You don't kill profiteering that way. On the first 100,000 suits we sell, I make no profit, owing to the initial expenses of financing and advertising. After that I shall make a real profit."

He is selling men's suits as low as $14. The highest priced one is $25. There is no fitting. You are shown the samples of the goods, pick your kind, have your measurement taken, pay your money, get your receipt, and out you go. Later the suit comes to you by parcel post. If the suit is not satisfactory, it is altered. The number sold so far has averaged over 5000 per week.

OPPOSE VOTE TO GERMAN SOLDIERS

BERLIN, April 22.—Proposals to alter the draft of the election law so as to confer votes on soldiers during their term of enlistment, were voted down in the national assembly today.

Warnings against permitting politics to "creep into the army" were uttered by Herr Gessler, minister of defense, and other speakers asserted that if the vote was given soldiers, the army might become a tool for overthrowing the government as it is in some South and Central American countries.

A bill providing the national president is to be chosen by the people and not parliament, was passed by the assembly during the day.

An appetizing dinner was served and during the post prandial exercises, which were presided over by Mr. Redway there were addresses by Archibald M. C. Musical numbers were given by an orchestra and by Messrs. Frank J. McCarthy, Edward Colby and Jacob Cantor.

BIG SHORTAGE OF FARM LABOR

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A shortage of farm labor which will be as acute as that of 1918, threatens to curtail food production on American farms, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith said today in an appeal to business men and college students to spend their vacations working on farms, particularly as helpers in harvest fields.

The supply of farm labor is only 72 per cent of normal, carefully compiled reports to the department indicate, compared with 84 per cent, last year. The fact that the present situation exists despite an increase of 16 to 25 per cent in wages paid farm hands, is regarded as highly important by Secretary Meredith. As a result, more acreage will be put into grasses and other crops requiring but a minimum of labor.

Plans have just been completed to erect in Paris the greatest trade building in the world, to be known as the Marche du Monde (World's Market).

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE DISCUSSED

Plans for the coming Salvation Army drive—which will be held from May 10 to May 20 in an effort to raise $20,000 for a new headquarters building—were thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the executive committee in charge of the local campaign, held in the chamber of commerce rooms last evening. Chairman Dudley L. Page was unable to be present and the meeting was conducted by Hon. James B. Casey.

It was announced that the next meeting of the committee will be held next Thursday evening in the Com-

Says Every Railroad Man Should Read This

Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been trusting them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother brakeman to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your happy friend, Chas. J. Heyser, Battle Creek, Mich., 42 Glenwood Ave., January 12, 1916. "I know and dozens of people write me," says Peterson of Buffalo, "that Peterson's Ointment also cures eczema, old sores, salt rheum, piles and all skin diseases, and all druggists sell a big box for 35 cents." Representatives of many of the local fraternal and social organizations have been asked to attend this meeting and it is hoped that these organizations will form teams to aid in putting the drive across. ## LOCAL ELECTRICIANS RETURN TO WORK

The journeymen electricians of this city, who had been out on strike since last Tuesday, returned to their work this morning for a conference between the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the master electricians, which was held last night in the office of J. A. Derby, president of the Master Electricians' association, an agreement satisfactory to all concerned was reached. The men had asked for a minimum wage of $1 an hour for journeymen and 62 cents an hour for helpers, and a compromise was reached by which the minimum wage for the journeymen will be 90 cents an hour. The helpers will be graded, the first year to be arranged with the contractor, the second year 40 cents, the third year, 50 cents and the fourth year, 64 cents. Present at the conference were Messrs. Derby, Kelly and Favreau, representing the master electricians and Messrs. Robertson and Bredenberg, representing the journeymen.

LITHUANIANS MET IN HAMILTON HALL

The need for Lithuanian relief was brought out forcefully by local and out-of-town speakers at a meeting of Lithuanians held last evening in Hamilton hall, Middlesex street. The meeting was the forerunner of several others and was called under the auspices of the Lithuanian Red Cross, a branch of which exists in this city.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. Stanislaw Kuczas, pastor of St. Joseph's church, this city and the other speakers were Rev. John Svajdas of Montello and Rev. V. Paskunas of Norwood. Little Veronica Dzudullionis, aged 5 years, made a hit when she advocated the purchase of Lithuanian bonds. In the course of the evening there was music by a Lithuanian choir.

The game of billiards was brought to America by the Spaniards, who settled St. Augustine, Fla., in 1565.

Does 3¢ = Americanism?

Did you know that 3c is MORE than the churches average from each member per day?

WE AMERICANS may be thoughtless. Sometimes we may appear selfish. But when a great need arises, no one can say that we have ever shirked.

Ask any son of France. Ask any soldier of Great Britain. Or ask any Armenian mother or a girl with a red cross on her sleeve or one with a tambourine in her hand.

And now the churches come to us for help—our churches. Not begging. Not asking alms. But with heads lifted high facing a task so worthy that we, as loyal Americans, ought to feel it a privilege to help.

Here is the Plain, Unvarnished Truth

We don't need to be told that the church is the heart of the Nation. We admit its influence for lasting good in our children. We see its stabilizing influence on our communities. We know a little of its great hospitals, its homes for children, its schools and colleges here and abroad.

But most of us do not realize how pitifully inadequate the support of the churches is when compared to the urgent needs.

Less than 3¢ a day!

In spite of the great tasks which we expect our churches to carry out, those of us who give to the church—and the number is all too few—are now giving an average of less than 3¢ a day for all church purposes.

Less than 3¢ a day.

Shall our churches go on? It is for you to say.

Without your help the work of your church must be just that much less.

Give—and give from your heart as well as from your pocketbook.

A World Survey Was Made

Our churches know the needs that must be met. They know exactly how every dollar—every penny—will be used for the greatest good without waste.

A world survey was made by the churches that surrounds business men in its thoroughness. Country after country was studied; the countries of the world were visited and reported in minute detail.

How the Interchurch World Movement Originated

Our churches said: "The task of meeting the urgent needs shown by the world survey is too great for us to do individually as denominations. We must do this work together."

So thirty great denominations are cooperating—each keeping its own purpose and identity—but all working together under the name of the Interchurch World Movement.

Because of this cooperation, it is estimated that over one million dollars will be saved alone in eliminating waste and duplication.

the Morning

Unless you are constitutionally lazy, there is a reason why the morning call is unwelcome. You, undoubtedly, are afflicted with some form of catarrh from which ninety-seven percent of the people suffer. You need something to wake up and cleanse your entire system. By starting now, your health will be improved and you will be better able to resist disease and the enervating effects of hot weather to come.

MUTUAL SAVINGS BANKS

First National Conference Held at Boston—Discuss National Policies

BOSTON, April 23.—National policies with reference to thrift, housing, Americanization, municipal bonds, railroads and branch banks were discussed at the first national conference of mutual savings institutions held here today. More than half of the 627 mutual savings banks of the country were represented.

George E. Brock of Boston, is chairman of the convention. The program included speeches by Gov. Coolidge, Rep. John J. Esch of Wisconsin; Prof. Irving Fisher of Yale University; S. Davies Warfield of Baltimore, president of the National Association of Owners of Railroad Securities and Sam Davies Warfield of Baltimore, president of the National Association of Mutual Savings Banks.

An Important Letter

ELMIRA, N. Y. "Ever since I was a girl Doctor Pierce's medicines have been used by our family and all have proved very satisfactory. I always keep the 'Pleasant Pellets' in the house for use when needed. I have been subject to headaches and the 'Pleasant Pellets' seem to be the only medicine that gives me relief. Usually one is all that is required to rid me of these spells. Our whole family take the 'Pleasant Pellets'. They are especially good for indigestion or stomach trouble also for sluggish or inactive liver. They regulate one's whole system, and are very mild, never causing distress or pain. I also take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I find it excellent as a woman's tonic and nerve builder. I can highly recommend all of Doctor Pierce's medicines."—Mrs. M. E. THE STRAND
William Barnum in "Heart Strings," and Will Rogers in "Water, Water Everywhere," are the super-features on The Strand program for the week end. If you prefer the better class of pictures then don't miss these. They are truly superior and must be seen to be fully enjoyed. The remainder of the program is rounded out with a good comedy and the Universal Weekly which has another series of views taken from the German raiders. "Meow." It's the most thrilling of them all.

OPERA HOUSE
Miss Marguerite Fields and Miss Priscilla Knowles, are seen in two charming roles in this week's presentation of Chauncey D'Ott's delightful Irish drama, "The Isle o' Dreams," which is being produced by the Lowell Playhouse. Miss Fields is a charming young Irish lass and Miss Knowles portrays a lovable motherly character to perfection. Hopper L. Atchley is winding his way to success this week. Don't miss his vocal efforts. They are meritorious to say the least. Next week "She Walked in Her Sleep."

H. F. KEITH'S THEATRE
Whether it be classic evocation, jazz selection, patriotic number or double quartet singing, Ralph Dunbar's White Hussars demonstrate to the careful auditor that they excel as all-round musicians. They are headlining a wonderfully good bill at the H. F. Keith theatre this week, and many encores for their work are heard. Different from others, and invariably pleasing, are Harry Adler and Rose Dunbar, who give a quaint, "Frog Life," in which everything from a buzz saw to a queen bee is touched upon. And Low Hawkins, ye olden time minstrel, proves that he is as modern as many another blackface comedian. Still another good act is the sketch, "Mary Lou," played by Nancy Boyer & Co. Other acts are those of Helene Vincent, Keno & Wagner, and Burt & Florence Mayo.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
"The Valley of Tomorrow," the photoplay in which William Russell is being featured at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow, is essentially a drama of outdoor life demanding a setting of rugged heights. The story begins with a forest-clad peak called Eden situated in the wonderful Lake Tahoe section of the Sierra Nevada and after thrilling chapters of romance, pathos, tragic struggle, laughter, love and heartache, brings the spectator into the serenity of the Valley of Tomorrow. Other features of the current program include "The Strongest," a vital drama from the pen of the noted Georges Clemenceau, the Burton Holmes travel pictures and a comedy.

THE OWL THEATRE
Big and enthusiastic audiences were the order of the day at yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre. The combination of vaudeville and pictures is surely proving a big success. All of the vaudeville acts on yesterday's bill were of the big time type. Ellis and Brown, the personality pair, got many laughs, offering an unusually happy combination of singing and dancing. Keene and Foxworth have no superiors in eccentric acrobatic dancing and Miss Marie Hughes presents an exceptionally artistic character singing offering. Of unusual local interest Forrest Stanley, the former leading man of the Thompson-Tyng Stock Co. at Lowell Opera House in the spring of 1912 is supporting Miss Darriscale in her latest Robertson Cole special, "The Woman Who Understood." Being a Robertson Cole production it goes without saying that in detail, in casting, lighting or photography nothing has been overlooked. Miss Darriscale has never had a better story, has never done better work and has three wonderful child actors in the cast. To miss this bill will be to regret it. Continuous performances are the rule, starting daily at 1 p. m. Night patrons arriving by 8 o'clock will see the entire show.

CONCERT BY LOTUS MALE QUARTET

The Lotus Male quartet of Boston, aided by Miss Ethel Hinton, reader, gave a most enjoyable concert before a fair-sized audience in Colonial hall last evening. The event was held under the auspices of the Philathea class of the Palge Street Baptist church and embraced a pleasing mixture of both classic and popular selections. Miss Susan Mills acted as accompanist.

The program in detail follows:
Trumpet Calls Away ..... Dew
Stories ..... Lotus Quartet
Miss Hinton
He Maketh Wars to Cease ..... Scott
Mr. Raymond

N.E.A. Staff Special
NEW YORK, April 20.—Are the girls of today more captivating and more beautiful than the girls of 20 years ago? Father will probably say "No" and tell you of the charms of the original Florida sextet, most of whom married millionaires.

ENGINEERING SOCIETY OF TEXTILE SCHOOL

The engineering society composed of under-graduates of the Lowell Textile school is instrumental from time to time in the school year in securing the services of men who are in industrial life and who are interested in the various phases of the textile industry.

The society is very fortunate in arranging for a lecture by Mr. G. E. Stickney, illuminating engineer at the Edison Lamp works of the General Electric Co. Mr. Stickney will give his lecture entitled "Incandescent Light as Applied to the Textile Industries" on Monday evening, April 26. This lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides and by samples of equipment which he will bring with him.

The lecture will commence at 8 o'clock and will be in the assembly room of Southwick hall.

CRACK SHOTS WITH THE ROVING MARINES

Rifle and pistol shots of international fame headed by the undisputed rifle champion of the United States, form part of the "Roving Marines," the detachment of service entertainers who are coming to this city on Saturday. The Marine corps has long held a foremost position in rifle and pistol practice and the "Roving Marines" include a number of champions who have won laurels as marksmen within recent years. The "Roving Marines" will give a jazz smoker and entertainment at the Colonial theatre on Saturday evening at 8 o'clock. There is no admission being charged.

Foremost among the experts who accompany the detachment is Sergt. Theodore B. Crawley, winner of the individual match against a field of more than 1500 entries at Caldwell, New Jersey, last fall. On that occasion Mr. Crawley made a score which lacked only four points of being perfect. By winning this match Crawley became the undisputed rifle champion of the United States.

Before his victory last fall Crawley had made a long and distinguished record as a marksman. In 1915 he was a member of the Marine Corps Rifle team and was tied with another contestant for first place in the national individual championship at Jacksonville, Fla. In the same match he won a medal for high score in the slow fire event. He served in France, but because of his record as a marksman he was not allowed to compete in the general matches, but was entered in a special match in which he won a medal for high score.

Another distinguished rifle shot with the "Roving Marines" is Sergt. Morris Fisher. Sergt. Fisher was a member of the Marine corps rifle team which won the national match at Jacksonville in 1915 and he has won a great many army, navy and marine corps medals for marksmanship.

A pistol expert capable of many tricks of marksmanship attributed to Buffalo Bill, and the crack shots of the southwest, is Sergt. William E. Payne. Sergt. Payne's ability with the pistol was so widely known that his services were asked for instructing employees of banks in pistol shooting, following the epidemic of bank robberies in one of the nation's biggest cities.

BELGIAN CHILDREN'S BUREAU ORGANIZED

A national children's bureau has been established by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor.

Provincial committees will be established to decentralize the work of the bureau. The members of the local committees will meet regularly with the provincial committees to discuss problems of common interest. All committees are to respect religious and philosophic convictions of the families to which the children belong.

Five Physical Care

The infant consultation centers will provide for a regular and free physical examination of all children under three years of age in families cared for by the centers; free medical consultation for expectant mothers, and educational work on the value of infant hygiene. The bureau will also supervise placed-out children under seven years of age.

Features of The Sunday Supplement Tomorrow

The Whole Truth

What the immigrant was to America, the whole truth or only the half-truth about the United States? "The whole truth," he said, "the whole truth, no matter how painful," answered R. Justin Miller, and after a serious official row in which his scalp was demanded for "criticizing the government," he was appointed executive officer of the California immigration commission. Read about him in the Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

Prince Reprimanded

Maybe a king can do no wrong, but during his visit to San Diego the Prince of Wales, youthful heir to Britain's throne, let his democratic spirit cause him to commit some breach of English formality and was promptly called down by one of the personal staff that accompany him. See the "call down" picture in the Supplement. See the prince with his head bowed in humiliation while the reprimand is striking home. Could it be said, has now practically precluded any return of the prince to the United States.

Quarter a Century Ago

"Old Times" tells of the collapse of "No. 5 annex" of the Lawrence mills, a quarter of a century ago, when it fell into the Merrimack river, as the result of the freshet. The business boom in the mills 25 years ago when the operatives were receiving an average wage of a dollar per day and made a demand for the restoration of the cut-down of 1892. Also a number of weddings of Lowell people now observing their silver anniversaries.

Lady Lookabout

In addition to other topics of interest to women, this lady writer deals with the "call down" of the prince, the criticism of some prize fight men as fitted only for dyspeptic or housekeepers who can give their entire time to the work of procuring dainties.

Washington Letter

Richards, the Sun correspondent, writes a breezy letter as usual, on the recent events at the capital, the party bickering in congress, the proposed "far eastern junket" and the doings of the convention of the D.A.R. before which Gen. Pershing and Secretary Meredith of the department of agriculture spoke. Also the antics of Congressman Upshaw, who wears overalls in the house and brandishes one of his crutches whenever he delivers an address. Record of Gen. Hulings, member of congress, who had seven sons in various branches of the service during the war.

Alaska's "Mother"

"Mother" Tiffany, for a decade all that the name implies to the lonely and homesick of Nome, Alaska, is outside for the first time in 21 years. She has spent that number of years in the gold fields, welding pick and shovel like a man, nursing back to health those who fell sick, staking her claims, only to have them "jumped" again and again, befriending young and inexperienced—and at the end she came out victorious. During the war she was an indefatigable worker for the Red Cross and other patriotic activities. In her work she gathered 1400 tons of clothing for Belgian relief.

Smallest Millionaire

"Girls, pick the little fellows!" So says the bride of P. W. Myer of Long Beach, Cal., the smallest millionaire in the world. They have just returned from a three months honeymoon tour of the Orient and she says it "was some honeymoon." Billy weighs just 74 pounds, and she says he is "all sugar." She certainly does love her "little fellow" and she means to tell the whole wide world about it. See how cute they appear in their picture in the Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

tion has struck," Frank Curlee of St. Louis said in opening the debate for the opposition.

He declared that "Senator Reed's political offenses ante-dated his opposition to the League of Nations covenant," and asserted that by his course in the senate during the war the senator "equivocated and condoned until he led the country to wonder whether Missouri was not more pro-German than pro-American."

Floyd Jacobs and Col. E. M. Harbor, both of Kansas City, made pleas that Reed be sent to the convention for the sake of party harmony.

The senator, Mr. Curlee said, condoned the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine and after the war

Stomach Trouble

Generally speaking, this is the term usually applied to all impaired conditions of this important organ of the body.

Specifically, stomach trouble may arise from one of the following disturbances:

INDIGESTION
DYSPEPSIA
ULCERS

The stomach is the principal factor as well as the breeding center for almost all our ills. REBUILD and make VIGOROUS this most vital organ by taking the wonderful SINGER'S STOMACH COMPOUND. Contains no alcohol or injurious drugs. All druggists.

broke out opposed measures designed to win the war.

"While I was in the United States army," he said, "Senator Reed was in Washington opposing the food-control act upon which I depend for food."

Discussing Senator Reed's opposition to the league covenant he declared that "he had only hate for the president, hate for England; hate for humanity, hate for everyone, but the followers of his august personage."

"Today," he said in conclusion, "the despatches will carry to the far corners of the world the fact that Missouri is pure and patriotic and that her tyrant traducer has been de-throned."

"The most difficult problem the newly enfranchised democratic women voters have is explaining Senator Reed," declared Mrs. W. W. Martin of Cape Girardeau. "We can't explain how we can endorse the league and then send to the national convention a man who is opposed to it. The women do it think it logical. You ask us to help you keep Missouri in the democratic ranks this year. We can do it if you don't embarrass us with a handicap like Senator Reed."

Making the principal address in defense of the senator, Lee Marriweather of St. Louis said:

"We ought to thank God we have a man in Washington who can think for himself and not go to the White House every day to find out how he should stand. There was no Reed in the Roman senate to urge senators to think and so Rome lost its liberties."

OBJECTS TO EXPENSE

Home Rule Committee Opposes Chamber of Commerce Traffic Project

The street railway home rule committee went on record at its regular semi-monthly meeting held late yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall as being opposed to having the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. burdened by the expense entailed in carrying out the plan recommended by the streets committee of the chamber of commerce whereby French, Brookings and Paige streets would be utilized as traffic thoroughfares to relieve congestion in Merrimack square. The committee included in its vote the fact that it was in no way prejudiced against the plan advocated by the chamber of commerce committee merely as a plan, but it felt in view of the present financial condition of the company and the absence of any indication of more business for it by the adoption of the project, that the matter should be held in abeyance or else financed from other sources.

This decision followed lengthy discussion of the project and explanation of the company's position in the matter by Thomas Lees, manager of the Lowell division. It would cost nearly $10,000 merely to lay rails in accordance with the details of the plan, he said.

Otherwise, yesterday's meeting was more or less routine in nature. It was called at 4:20 by Chairman John J. O'Rourke. Messrs. Campbell, Carney and Ricard were absent.

Mrs. Burke said that she had received complaints from Chelmsford people on the lack of judgment of some of the conductors on that line in the matter of holding their cars at the top of the stairs leading to the Boston & Maine railroad station until people have a chance to get up from incoming trains. In some instances, he said, Chelmsford-bound cars will reach the station just as a train is unloading its passengers, many of whom want to go to Chelmsford and instead of holding the car a little while, the conductor gives the signal to go ahead and the would-be passengers are compelled to wait for the next car.

Manager Lees said that the company frequently received complaints of that nature, but specific cases were rarely brought to the office. The attention of conductors on the Westford street and Chelmsford Central lines is called to this matter frequently, he said.

Mr. Sullivan told about a lame man who boarded a Gosham street out-bound car recently. It was crowded to the doors and he was forced to stand in the front vestibule. He wished to get off at Davis square, but when the car got there it was so crowded that he could not make his way to the rear to have his ticket punched. He suggested to the motorman that the front door be opened so that he could go around to the rear and have the conductor punch the fare. The motorman refused and the passenger was forced to ride to Moore street before he could get off.

Manager Lees said that it would be difficult to frame a general rule allowing passengers to do as the lame man wished because people might take advantage of it and not pay their fare. However, he said, motormen and conductors were supposed to use their judgment in such a case as Mr. Sullivan cited.

Chairman O'Rourke spoke about the location of a pole in Broadway near Suffolk street. Its present location is beyond a curve and has been found inconvenient by many passengers. Mr. Lees said he would look into the matter.

Manager Lees then cited figures of interest regarding the road's financial condition. For the first three months of 1920, he said, the road had a deficit of about $57,000 as far as paying interest on the investment was concerned. The expense of snow removal for those three months was $32,313.35. That does not represent the entire expense caused by snow, he said, as it embraces only the cost of labor. Much of the company's equipment was damaged and will have to be repaired. It will be the middle of the summer before the company will have fully recovered from its losses from snow during the past winter, he asserted.

Chairman O'Rourke then brought up the proposition of the streets committee of the chamber of commerce whereby French, Brookings and Paige streets would be utilized as the company's traffic from Merrimack square.

Manager Lees said he had consulted his engineers and found that the project would cost $9500 for trackage alone.

Mr. O'Rourke said that he believed many people were in favor of the idea of one central square or transfer point. Mr. Sullivan said he understood employees of the local division were about to ask for an increase in wages. Mr. Lees said that they were.

"Well, I don't see how we can lower fares or extend zone limits if we have many additional expenses," Mr. Sullivan commented.

Mrs. Burke said that she did not see where the plan advocated would relieve congestion tremendously. She suggested that cars continue to come through the square, but that various lines have various places for letting people on and off. People coming from Belvidere might get off at Fairbairn's market, she said, and those going to Belvidere get on at the railroad tracks.

Manager Lees said he believed the committee should express itself formally on the chamber of commerce matter.

Secretary Curtin moved that the committee go on record as being opposed to the plan, but Mrs. Burke suggested that it was not the plan so much as the expense that was objectionable.

Mr. Dunfee amended Mr. Curtin's motion by moving that it be the sense of the committee that it does not approve the railway company being burdened with the expense embraced in the plan advocated by the chamber of commerce streets committee but that its action was in no way prejudicial as to the merits of the plan itself. It was so voted.

MONUMENT TO EDITH CAVELL

LONDON, April 23.—A monument to Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was shot by the Germans at Brussels, has been erected in Charing Cross road, just off Trafalgar square and almost under the shadow of the Nelson monument. The unveiling ceremony was conducted before a huge crowd by the Queen mother, Alexandra, being the first act of state she has performed in London since the death of her husband, King Edward VII.

The monument is of grey granite and stands 40 feet high. On the four panels are the words: Humanity, Sacrifice, Devotion and Fortitude. On the back is the British lion trampling on a serpent, and above it are the words: "Faithful Unto Death."

The statue, of white marble, shows Nurse Cavell standing erect in her nurse's uniform. On the base is the inscription:

"EDITH CAVELL, Brussels. Dawn October 12, 1915."

Other labor organizations of the city have also been asked to take formal action on the matter so that a consensus of opinion may be obtained.

Caillaux Gets Three Years

Continued

Finance, stands convicted of having placed his personal political ambition during the war higher than the interests of the country that honored him and gave him birth. Caillaux, while escaping conviction for high treason, was found to have been recklessly imprudent and very close to treasonably ambitious, for such is the interpretation of the verdict of "guilty of commerce and correspondence with the enemy," which was rendered yesterday against him by the French senate.

This is the first verdict of the sort rendered in any of the allied countries since the war began, "commerce," as interpreted by the senators, who were the judges, not meaning financial trading, but commerce by means of common ideas, while "correspondence" in this particular case is employed in the sense of association.

The senators entered Luxembourg palace yesterday afternoon determined to have finished with the affair, which has taken up their time during the past three months. No one took seriously the prediction that the verdict would be reached last evening. But after the court had disposed of the high treason charge and that of "intelligence with the enemy," and had declared its own sovereignty in less than four hours, word was passed that a decision was impending and Luxembourg gardens were filled to overflowing in the neighborhood of the palace by dense crowds and police reserves had to be called out.

The ballots followed one another rapidly. The partisans of the former premier were thrilled with joy and hope when the treason charge was so promptly eliminated and confidently predicted acquittal and began to apportion among themselves the portfolios in the cabinet which Caillaux was expected to form within six months after his release.

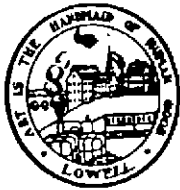

When they attempted to have the senate refrain from establishing itself as the highest constitutional authority, with power to find the accused not guilty as charged, but, guilty of a lesser offense, their enthusiasm waned.

The doors of the deliberation chamber were closed—almost hermetically sealed. Two ushers stood by each door for the purpose apparently of warding off inquisitive newspapermen. But occasionally a disheveled, perspiring senator would rush out of the chamber and make a direct line for the senate bar, where he was immediately surrounded by correspondents offering to purchase for him the best vignettes in France if only he would talk.

The verdict may mean a sentence of five years' banishment for Caillaux, which may, however, be diminished to one year, according as extenuating circumstances are found. Incarceration in a fortress is another sentence which may be pronounced when the high court reconvenes. It was the consensus of opinion that the sentence would be light and that the 12 months which Caillaux has spent in jail and a sanitarium would be taken into consideration.

The former premier's attorneys were disconsolate over the verdict and rushed in an automobile to the Neully sanitarium to inform M. Caillaux of the verdict. The defendant had remained in the sanitarium throughout the day's sitting. Before he started away, however, M. Moutet said to the Associated Press:

"M. Caillaux was convicted not for

SUNDAY SPORTS

At Commons, Shedd Park and Lincoln School

Sunday sports which become effective in Lowell next Sunday will be permitted on the North and South commons, Shedd park and Lincoln school playground, the park commission voted at meeting held late yesterday afternoon. The use of these playgrounds for sports on Sunday will be lawful only after a permit has been obtained from the superintendent of the park department. The same general regulations which have hitherto governed sports on Saturdays and holidays will cover Sunday sports.

An interesting feature of yesterday's meeting was the acceptance by the park commission of the quilt pen with which Clarence Coolidge signed the Sunday sports bill. The governor had given it to Representative Thomas J. Corbett of this city who in turn gave it to the park commission as a memento of its efforts to have Sunday sports made legal.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson conferred with the commission relative to the development of the Pawtucketville river bank and the First street oval. The financial condition of the city must be considered in both cases, he said, although he felt both projects should be considered favorably. In regard to the First street plan, he said he thought the city should acquire the oval provided the new highway is located on the river edge. On the other hand, if the new highway is to cut the oval in halves, he would be opposed to the city acquiring the land.

The Square is Overcrowded

ice team stationary within these limits. Undoubtedly they all were within their rights, but the situation was there, just the same, making it practically impossible for any traffic to move through the square. Within five minutes after that blockade had been removed, there were again five electric cars, three automobiles on the east side of the square and one loaded truck passing through on the west side, thus again making the square almost wholly occupied from Prescott to Central streets.

"I cite these two situations as fair examples upon a rainy morning, when traffic perhaps is not so heavy as in fair weather at the same hour. They came to my attention and each, for the time being, constituted a virtual blockade.

"Tears ago," continued President Goodell, "when the old horse cars were in operation, they occupied exactly the same amount of space as is being used at the present time. This space never has been increased, although it is obvious to the most casual observer, that with a great increase of population and electric cars necessary to serve public needs and increased vehicular traffic, this congestion must continue, as it has done. While today the situation is almost intolerable, unless some relief is afforded, this congestion is sure to be increasingly a public menace.

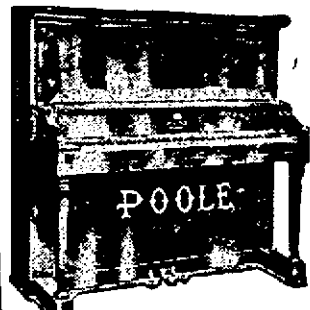

Necessary passing from curb to street car is a hazardous operation through such closely congested traffic, as is evidenced by the accident early this week, in which a woman was struck by a motorcycle. Serious accidents have been few, to be sure, but they are hardly averted almost hourly.

"The plan offered by the chamber of commerce to use French and Brookline streets as a loop for Centralville, Lakeview avenue and Lawrence line cars seemed to us like a practical one to effect a partial relief of conditions, at least. The only argument offered against it, as far as I can learn, is one lost, with an immediate guarantee of increased revenue from fares. This argument, carried to its logical conclusion, would seem to forever prohibit any relief from the present condition.

"When the chamber put forward this plan, there was no disposition on the part of anyone in the city to inflict any undue hardship upon the street railway company, but the members of the chamber who have had the matter under consideration stand firmly to the position that the relief of this congestion is a serious proposition and that no effort along lines to accomplish it should be lightly discarded.

These men firmly believe that the convenience and public safety of the great majority of our citizens is of paramount importance in this issue."

THE OVERALL CRAZE

Already a howl is raised against the overall craze as a protest against the high cost of clothing. It is alleged that the overall clubs will benefit principally the cotton growers of the south who at their recent session at Montgomery, Ala., passed a resolution to hold their cotton if possible for a price of sixty cents a pound.

This overall movement is said to come from the south and in proof of this it may be mentioned that a southern congressman was the first to enter the house of representatives in a suit of denim, while his wife appeared at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, also clad in cotton fabrics made in the south.

The people who have taken up this overall craze may not realize the extent to which they will advance the price of all cotton goods and thereby aid the cotton profiteers of the south, the cotton growers who are in a combine to push up the price of their staple. Not only will the price of overalls go up, but that of shirts and other cotton garments already too high. It is very evident that the continuance of this overall club business must fail in its object and not only that, it will throw out of work hundreds of thousands employed in the clothing trades in the eastern states, demoralize the dry goods business of the retailers, while not affecting the wholesalers who have their contracts made many months in advance.

What then is the remedy for the present state of affairs? Why has the price of clothing advanced 355 per cent over the average of 1913, and 64 per cent during the past year? There can be no justification for such prices. They are the result of profiteering, pure and simple and something should be done by the government which has the power to deal with the offenders. Congress and the administration at Washington are responsible for having failed to bring the country to a peace basis as soon as possible. The department of justice might do more than it has done; but with the attorney general engaged in promoting his candidacy for the presidency, he cannot be expected to do much in fighting the profiteers. Mr. Palmer should either resign his office or cease to be a candidate. He cannot perform his full duty in fighting the profiteers while conducting a political campaign for the highest office in the gift of the people.

If the attorney general wants to advance himself in the good opinion of the people throughout the United States, he will let his candidacy take care of itself and devote all his time to the profiteering sharks who are imposing upon the people. In saying this we do not mean to imply that any class of dealers is responsible for the high level of prices; but that in every branch of trade there are certain unscrupulous men who will extort unreasonable prices from the people unless they are held in check by the strict enforcement of law.

So far as the overall movement represents thrift and simplicity in dress, it deserves encouragement but as to its being a remedy for the high price of clothing, we fail to see its efficacy and with a great jump in the price of overalls even at this early stage in the campaign, the final result may well be imagined.

MENACE OF THE REDS

Most people will agree with the attitude of District Attorney Tufts toward the "Menace of the Reds," the subject which he discussed before the Rotary club in this city. Mr. Tufts believes in a firm policy towards every form of lawlessness, included in the various organizations designated in a general way as "radicals." By this is meant the agitators who are openly advocating the overthrow of the government of the United States. He would support the Department of Justice in his efforts to drive the worst of these offenders out of the country. He thinks the federal authorities have not been sufficiently active in the enforcement of the law against the Reds. It is rather remarkable, however, that in many quarters the government is criticized for deporting the radicals. Even Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church takes this stand in common with various other clergymen, holding that these people are not the dangerous characters they are represented to be and that by proper treatment they can be made peaceful and law abiding citizens. Such critics defend the radicals on the ground that all classes should enjoy absolute freedom of speech. This freedom had been in force without restriction before the war and it gave us such professional agitators and anarchists as Emma Goldman, Mr. Berkman and various others. It seems absurd to allow professional agitators to go about the country inciting ignorant foreigners to rise in revolt against our government.

That is practically what the I. W. W. leaders have been doing for some years past and they are advocating the same principles today under various disguises. They have fled to cover in the ranks of labor unions, from which they claim they can bore from the inside. We believe the government must adopt a stern policy towards such professional enemies and wherever they are found, if the evidence against them be sufficient to secure conviction, they should be deported. There are, however, native anarchists whom we have no right to deport. They are more dangerous than the foreigners and many of them are highly educated men, who hold high positions.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

On next Tuesday will be held in this state the presidential primaries for the choice of delegates to the national conventions of the two great political parties. It is remarkable that on the democratic side there is practically no drive for any particular candidate. The manner in which affairs have been conducted at Washington has given the democratic party no opportunity to secure the crystallization of sentiment in favor of any candidate.

The candidates whose names are announced on the democratic side are: Newton D. Baker, William J. Bryan, Champ Clark, James M. Cox, Josephus Daniels, Edward I. Edwards, James W. Gerard, G. M. Hitchcock, T. R. Marshall, William C. McAdoo, A. M. Palmer, William C. Redfield, Woodrow Wilson.

The republican candidates thus far are: Nicholas M. Butler, Arthur Capper, Calvin Coolidge, Albert B. Cummings, James P. Goodrich, Warren G. Harding, Charles E. Hughes, Herbert Hoover, Hiram W. Johnson, Frank O. Lowden, John J. Pershing, Miles Poindexter, William H. Taft, Leonard Wood.

Strange as it may appear, there is not much of the favorite son talk among the republicans in favor of Governor Coolidge. Frank E. Dunbar and Gardner W. Pearson are candidates for election as delegates to the republican convention and the latter is outspoken in favor of General Wood. Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan and Lawyer Joseph P. Donahue are the delegate candidates on the democratic side and, as on the republican, there is no opposition.

Thus far nobody seems to know just what will be the main issue between the parties and on neither side is there any preponderance of sentiment in favor of any particular candidate. Hiram W. Johnson seems to be the leading American candidate on the republican side and Hoover, who spent 23 years of his adult life in London, as a manipulator of mining properties, is a sort of international figure much in favor by England and other European nations.

AERIAL SUPREMACY

During the war the American government (you!) spent one billion dollars on airplanes and aviators. The great American stride forward in aviation was taken then. Shall this country now step backward?

European nations are not going back to their pre-war aviation standards. They are going ahead. Milten Brogger, American newspaper man in London, writes:

"All over Europe the wide-awake nations are pushing to the utmost the matter of civil aviation."

Great Britain, France, and even Germany, are forging forward, carrying mails via the air, passengers, freight. They are using the aerial equipments of war, with their war-trained aviators, to build up large peacetime aerial programs. They realize the future is in the air, and that years hence the question will not be: Who is supreme on land or sea? They are wide-awake to possibilities—commercial and military—of the air. And the question will be: Who is supreme in the air?

What is the United States doing? Nothing!

Harry B. Hunt, Washington correspondent, writes:

"Indications are that congress will not only fail to enact legislation to develop national strength in the air in any effective way, either military or commercial, but will permit the disintegration of the service to such an extent as to wipe out the greater part of the advantages purchased by the billion dollars already spent."

That may be the way congress feels about the matter. But it is not, this newspaper believes, the way the people of this country feel about it. They are not content to be last, nor even second, in the aerial race. They hope to be—First in the air!

A noteworthy ambition. Not impossible of achievement. But to attain it there is need for early, consistent, determined effort. Congress must lead the way.—N. E. A.

MUNICIPAL DANCING

Assuredly a municipal dancing pavilion would be useful in many ways. It would offer a suitable place in which to hold municipal dances which never can be successful on the green sod, despite the poetical allusions to the "village green." The pavilion would also serve as a shelter for women and children caught by sudden showers on the common. But not the least important use of such a structure, would be its convenience for various forms of organized play, which we understand is to be taken up this year with increased enthusiasm in view of its value from an educational and Americanization standpoint. Dance halls conducted under municipal authority are preferable to those directed by private parties whose sole object is to make money, regardless of the moral tone that should be maintained in all such places of amusement.

RAILROAD WAGES

Although the railroad men who some months ago were promised an early settlement of the wage question, expected that it would be forthcoming before May 1, there is now a proposition that the roads shall furnish data for the Railroad Labor board as a basis of settlement of all pending claims. Certain classes of railroad men have been fed on promises so long that their patience must be well nigh exhausted. Any further postponement, it seems, is liable to bring fresh interruption of the service at the busiest season of the year. The railroad men naturally protest that this new scheme would put the settlement off at least three months longer, which is very probably true. The government, it seems, is to blame for leaving such legacies of trouble to the railroad companies when the roads were transferred to private ownership.

MEXICAN REVOLT

It is difficult to judge of conditions in Mexico at the present time. The one thing certain seems to be, that several states have decided to follow certain leaders in rebellion against the Carranza government. Sonora was the first to raise the standard of rebellion and declare an independent republic. Now, however, it seems that if the rebels can defeat Carranza and choose his successor, they will probably be satisfied to drop the idea of independent states. Mexico, it seems, is destined to go through another bloody revolution. She will never have peace until some strong man arises to follow the rigorous methods of former President Diaz in quelling the disturbing elements.

The presidential election is due in July and the present troubles are what we might call part of the preliminary campaign.

According to the returns from Nebraska, it seems that General Pershing has been eliminated from the presidential contest in his own state. Running away behind ex-Senator Johnson and General Wood, he seems not to have been taken seriously. That is a rather surprising situation, considering the fact that Pershing is the war general who conducted the fighting while General Wood who leads him filled a minor place at home. But Wood is a politician and Pershing is merely a soldier.

"Oh, yes, we will. What are you?"

The Other Tooth

The physician deals largely with misery, but, just the same, humor comes into his life at times. For instance, a colored woman came to a physician in a little western town and complained that two of her teeth were aching. "I am no dentist," he said, "but I think I can pull them for you. I guess I'll have to, as long as there is no dentist here."

So he did pull one. He did not have the proper instrument or the proper experience. It was a long and painful operation. Finally, though, the tooth came out.

"Now," he said, "helping his brow, 'we'll go after the other one.'"

"No, indeed, Mistah Doctor Man," said the woman. "You've done scared that other tooth so bad now dat it'll nevah ache no more."

Dad Knows

How often have you heard a young fellow remark that "Dad always seems to know what's best in the business world for me. I go in his tips oftentimes—even against my own hunches—and they usually pan out pretty good."

What's the answer?

Maybe it's simply this: A dad is likely to know his own son from the point of what the boy will best fit in—he should know his son's ways and habits and general make-up. Consequently a dad is likely to advise from that standpoint.

The son has little youthful desires—maybe he likes a certain city; maybe he knows the bunch in a certain business establishment; maybe he wants to be located near her.

And he's likely—in youth days—to let that influence him.

Dad would have you where he thinks you ought to be. You may pick the place where you think you'd like to be.

Such Is Life

Oh the world's hard knocks are as sharp edged rocks.

On the highway to Success.

And the brilliant height that I hold in sight.

Is a long way off, I guess.

There are chasms vast that are yet unpassed.

And gaps that are still unspanned.

While a dingy room, with its close-drawn gloom.

Is my Hall of Fame, at hand.

And the plaster falls from the crackling walls.

But instead of lathes, I see

Through the openings there, in the distance fair.

A summit that beckons me.

And each barren space holds the kindly face.

Of one of the friends I've known.

They are at my side when my feet would slide.

They urge me to make my own.

That tower of hope on the glistening slope.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

One of the causes of Bolshevism is untidy streets, according to a pamphlet which Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy has received in connection with the present "Clean-up week" in this city. The author of the pamphlet says that much of the unrest current in the country at the present time can be traced to people who were brought up in unclean streets. He says in part: "Let us start a campaign for clean streets in our own cities and at the same time not confine this cleaning to our principal streets, show-places or high class residential sections. Let us take the cleaning department over to the workingmen's section and over to the poorer quarters for they have just as much right to clean streets as the up-town citizen has. Give them a chance at cleaner conditions and gradually they will become mentally clearer and we shall consequently have loyal citizens in our midst, who will repel the agitator and cast him forth as a menace to their peace and comfort."

HISTORICAL PAGEANT COMMITTEE MEETS

The executive committee in charge of the historical pageant to be given on the South common on June 5 under Community Service auspices met late yesterday afternoon with Mrs. Julian B. Kroyer, chairman, presiding. Good progress on formation of special committees has been made and it was reported that Mayor Thompson has promised to furnish a fund for the pageant. Albert Edmund Brown will be in charge of the music committee.

The pageant has been divided into five episodes and a prologue. The prologue will be taken over by the State Normal school, but the episodes have not been definitely assigned as yet. The executive committee is indebted to Mrs. Sara Swan Griffin, Frederick W. Colburn and Miss Mabel Hill for historical data, which is true have been compiled by Miss Katherine Bailey of the Girls' Community Service club staff.

The five episodes will be headed as follows:

1. Indian days.
2. Colonial and Revolutionary days.
3. Lowell developing.
4. Civil war era.
5. Lowell today.

"Death Valley," between Panamint and Funeral mountains in California, is the driest and hottest place in the United States.

LECTURED ON SCHOOL GARDENS

A very interesting lecture upon "School Supervised Gardening" was given at the Normal school yesterday by Miss Mabel E. Turner, garden supervisor at Malden. Her talk was illustrated by picture slides showing the progress of gardening in connection with the various schools in the state. The lecture was greatly appreciated by all members of the Normal school class.

The regular social of the school will be held at the school this evening under the direction of the School and Society League, and immediate supervision of Miss Emma Paresky. There will be many guests present.

LOWELL SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

With simple but impressive exercises the Lowell School of Religious Education graduated its second class of nine members at the First Congregational church last evening. The following graduates were presented diplomas by Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church: Miss Lillian Pearl Anderson, Mrs. Arthur Stanley Deale, Mrs. D. Gertrude Carmichael, Miss Ida J. Clark, Arthur Lundwell, Miss Viva A. Palmer, Miss Esther A. Sanders, Mrs. Frank E. Sweet and Thomas R. Williams.

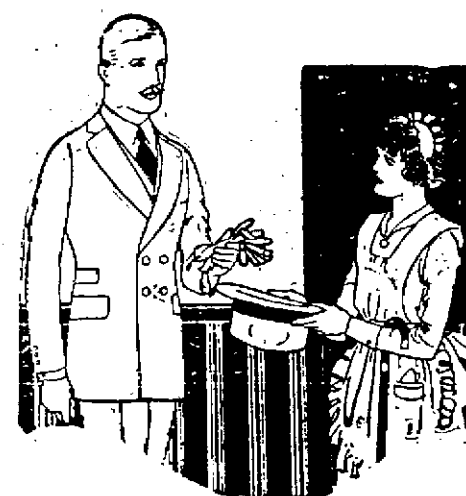

Dr. Arthur E. Bennett, dean of the department of religious education of Boston University, was the principal speaker. He stressed the need of religious education in the home and said that it is the duty of the church to provide social opportunities for young people. He also referred to the inter-church world movement and urged his hearers to aid in the work of spreading the gospel. Rev. T. A. Williams, director of the school, was in charge of the program.

The use of the word "lynching" to represent the action of mobs has become common since a Virginia farmer by that name instituted the first vigilance committee in America.

HABEAS CORPUS WRITS FOR 13 "RADICALS"

BOSTON, April 23.—Writ of habeas corpus were granted by the United States district court, yesterday to 13 alien radicals who have been ordered deported as undesirable. This action was taken by Judge George W. Anderson after he had declared that the arrest of radicals without warrants and their detention without proceedings for two weeks was a lawless proceeding, and that the round-up of radicals by department of justice and immigration agents seems to have been carried out on the theory of hang first and try afterward.

The writs were made returnable next Saturday at which time, the court announced, bail of the 13 persons involved will be reduced from amounts now $10,000 in some cases to $500 each. Judge Anderson explained that it would probably be six weeks before he would be able to return a decision on the petitions to prevent deportation, and probably six months before final action could be taken on an appeal.

William Collier of Wellesley, who, with his wife, Mrs. Amy Collier, is the principal figure in the group awaiting deportation, announced that he did not wish his freedom on bail. Collier and his wife now are at liberty under $10,000 bonds. He told the court he preferred to return to the barracks at Deer Island where the radicals have been held because "the United States having taken out means of livelihood, it does not seem too much to ask that it pay our board for a while." Collier said he and his wife had $1200 between them.

The court's expression of opinion regarding the procedure of federal agents in effecting the round-up of last January came during the testimony of Ivan Hymenok, who was arrested at a communist meeting here. It developed that although Hymenok was arrested on Jan. 2, the warrant for his detention was issued by telegraph on Jan. 15.

When Judge Anderson remarked that the case appeared to have been conducted on the theory of "hang first and try afterward," Assistant United States Attorney Louis Goldberg asserted that proceedings in the form followed by the federal agents were sanctioned by the supreme court in cases involving the immigration laws.

"I am familiar with those cases," replied Judge Anderson. "I wish you would show me one case in which the department of justice has the authority to arrest persons and hold them for two weeks without warrants. A more lawless proceeding is hard to conceive. Talk about Americanization—what we need is Americanization of those who carry on such proceedings. I can hardly sit on the bench as an American citizen and restrain my indignation. I view with horror such proceedings as this."

Robert M. Valkenhild, an agent of the department of justice, who testified that he had detained persons without having a warrant, was asked by the court if that was his notion of liberty under the law. Attorney Goldberg interjected that the agent was acting under orders from Washington, to which Judge Anderson replied, "Any citizen with a knowledge of Americanism should resign when given such instructions."

MINSTREL SHOW

And Dance by the Crescent Hill Association

The first annual minstrel show and dance of the Crescent Hill association held last night in Associate hall, was so successful that that organization must now be considered one of the foremost of local amateur entertainers. The hall was filled to capacity last evening and the financial returns were more than gratifying to the members.

The minstrel show was a top-notch. Charles D. Slattery was the director, Joseph Terry the interlocutor and Leo Belletcourt, the musical supervisor. Since encores were demanded of each entertainer, special mention of any particular one is needless.

The program was as follows: Prologue—Let the Rest of the World Go By. Opening chorus—Yamp. The Land of Make Believe. When You're Alone. Soldier Chorus From Faust. Chorus. I Might Be Your Uncle-in-a-While. Frances O'Donnell. Dear Old Pal of Mine. Frank Connor. Mocking Bird—Whistling solo. James Kennedy. When Cherry Blossoms Fall. Beata Giedreau. Specialty—On Boy. b—In Away Ahead of the Times. c—Naughty Waltz. McGrath and Walker. I'll See You in Cuba. William Collins. Love Blossoms. Mrs. Anastasia Tobin. Darktown Dan's School. John Keefe. a—That's Getting the Beautiful Girls. b—All the Quakers Are Shoulder Shakers. Daphanella. Oh By Jingo. Crescent Hill Double Quartet. You Never Can Tell. Alice Dion. Mahoney, general manager; James Manning, assistant; Fred Burke, floor director; John H. Mahoney, assistant; John Manning, chief; young men of the association; James McCann, chairman of the reception committee; William J. Manning, treasurer.

The officers of the association are as follows: John J. Mahoney, president; Thomas F. Garvey, Jr., vice president; Fred Decoteau, financial secretary; William J. Manning, treasurer; Thomas Casey, secretary; Henry Decker, sergeant-at-arms; Fred Burke, Joseph Terry, John Bagley, John McNamara, John J. Mahoney, Thomas Casey, William J. Manning, Thomas F. ### Catarrrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathe should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of all ear troubles are caused by catarrrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment. ## COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP FOR ESSAY AWARD

WASHINGTON, April 23.—High school pupils of the country are to be given an opportunity to compete for a four years' university scholarship to be awarded for the best essay submitted in connection with ship by truck—Good Roads' week, May 17-22, according to an announcement made today, which said that the essays will be read and the prizes awarded by judges to be appointed by the federal bureau of education.

The contest, it is said, is for the purpose of focusing public attention on the necessity for good roads and the feasibility of the motor truck as a short haul medium.

According to plans approved by Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton, contestants, to be eligible to compete for the national prize, first must have won one of the prizes to be awarded by various organizations and individuals in their respective communities. The national prize is to be known as the H. S. Firestone university scholarship, and will be given in any college or university chosen by the winner. All high school pupils may submit a 500-word essay, which must be entitled, "Ship by Truck and Good Roads," but if the national prize is won by any pupil other than a senior, the award will be deferred until the winner is ready to matriculate at the institution of his choice.

Judges who will make the national award will be named by Commissioner Claxton before May 22, by which time all essays must be submitted. School superintendents and principals of high schools are being acquainted this week with the terms of the contest and, it is expected, more than one million essays will be written upon this subject, serving to accentuate the interest and to widen the scope of discussion to be created by Ship by Truck—Good Roads' week, during which time caravans of motor trucks will tour every section of the country.

Organizations whose members are lending the weight of their influence and activities toward making this week a success, include the American Automobile association, the United States chamber of commerce, the American automobile chamber of commerce, the national grange, the ship by truck bureau, the army, the navy, and churches and schools generally.

State superintendents of instruction are being requested to direct their contents within their commonwealth. Prizes are to be awarded in each community and will be determined by local committees.

Announcement of other national prizes to be awarded by organizations which are lending their support to the program for the week is expected to be made soon. H. S. Firestone, donor of the scholarship, is originator and sponsor of the ship by truck movement.

GIBBS AND CURRY DRAW
MANCHESTER, N. H., April 23.—Sailor Joe Gibbs of Boston and Joe Curry of New Haven fought 12 rounds to a draw here last night. Joe Morgan of Manchester defeated Kid Lee of Chelsea in 10 rounds and Kewpie Roy of Manchester stopped Young Dundee of Jamaica in two.

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT
ANTWERP, April 23.—The United States hockey team will play Switzerland in the opening round of the Olympic games hockey tournament here on Saturday afternoon, according to the draw made for the seven contesting nations last night. Unless there is an unexpected upset, it is the consensus of opinion among hockey experts that the United States team will face the Canadian Falcons of Winnipeg in the championship match Monday night.

When Shoes From the Sea Rival Shoes From
The Cattle Ranch, Will Prices Drop?

NEW YORK, April 21—"Shoe leather is going up!"
"Price of shoes to drop!"
"Shoe price may become prohibitive!"
What is she to think—mildly of fashion, housewife, business woman, or school girl? Amid conflicting predictions she has not an idea of what will really happen. Not one, except that, come what may, she must wear shoes.

Leather From Fish Skin

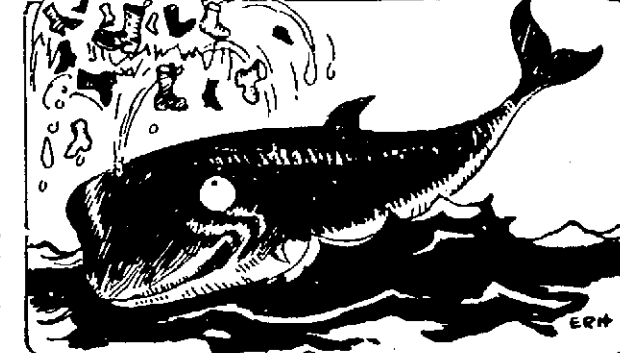

But one man has a very definite idea of one thing which will happen in the shoe industry. That man is Alfred Ehrenreich, president of the Ocean Leather company, and more—inventor of the process by which leather is being made out of fish skin!

Mr. Ehrenreich proposes to make leather out of the skins of such sea creatures as sharks, dogfish and porpoises. He first had the idea 11 years ago.

Years of Experiments

In his time he had been a great fisherman, and he conceived the idea that a valuable source of leather was not being utilized. He set to work and many times saw his experiments fail. But one day he drew out of the tanning vat a perfect sheet of leather, a shark skin, covering an area of almost a hundred square feet.

Today the daily haul of fish for

Mr. Ehrenreich's plant is likely to be anywhere from 1000 to 15,000 fish. This fact, he believes, points to a future when everyone will be using shark skin in some form, inevitably helping to reduce the high cost of shoes and other leather goods.

Cheap and Durable

It is said that sea leather is more durable, cheaper and takes color and finish better than steer or cowhide. It is also amenable to splitting and to thinning by friction. Sea leather tans in from one to two weeks; leather of land animals takes from one to two years. The cost of producing the sea leather is almost nothing, and the supply practically unlimited.

As yet it has not proved profitable to use the skins of scale fish. The removal of the scales leaves minute holes and shows scars. Just as a picked bird shows a scar for every plucked feather. Leather made from scale fish is, however, very decorative for toilet articles, for where the scales have been there remains a pattern.

Upholstery, cardcases, boots, gloves, whip, book bindings—these are only a few of the ways in which the new leather can be employed.

Riotous Scenes at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—Indianapolis was quiet today, following riotous scenes last night when the police dispersed a mob of more than 1200 persons intent upon lynching William Ray, colored, who is alleged to have confessed to the murder of Martha Huff, a young white girl. One person was wounded in an exchange of shots in the vicinity of the Marion county jail, where Ray is confined, and the police made 15 arrests. The entire city police force was held in readiness today in anticipation of possible further demonstrations.

LOWELL MOOSE TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY

The ninth anniversary of Lowell lodge, No. 618, Loyal Order of Moose, will be held in Associate hall on Tuesday evening, May 11th. The evening's entertainment will be split up into a concert from 8 o'clock to 9, and dancing from 9 o'clock to 12. Last year the annual celebration was a great success, the concert being provided by the best of local talent and this year an equally pleasing program is planned. Soloists who have made hits with Lowell audiences at every appearance in the past will take part and repeat their many successes as well as surprise the audience with new selections specially chosen for the occasion. An exclusive dance order is being planned and the music will be furnished by one of the foremost orchestras in the city. The affair will be entirely complimentary and any of the 900 members of the Lowell Lodge of Moose has tickets.

Mr. Ernest A. Parsons, present dictator of the local fraternity, states that the organization in this city has shown a remarkable growth within the past few months. At the last two meetings a total of 75 applications for membership were considered.

NEW TAXATION PLAN IN CANADA

OTTAWA, April 23.—A new plan of taxation by which the Dominion government would become a partner in business concerns instead of taking money from them in the form of excise profits taxes, was proposed today by H. H. Stevens, unionist member of parliament for Vancouver. Under the plan advocated by Mr. Stevens the Dominion would not collect the sums due as taxes but would allow the money to remain in the concerns as capital and draw interest or dividends as earned. He proposes to make the plan retroactive to April 1, 1919.

ERZKROM GIVEN TO ARMENIA
SAN REMO, April 23.—(Havas) The afternoon session of the council was devoted to the Turkish treaty. After hearing the statement of the Armenian delegation, the conference gave Erzkrum to Armenia.

The control of Constantinople also was taken up, and the project recently advanced from London for a high commission composed of England, France and Italy was considered.

The advance of the Bolshevik forces on Batoum was taken up. The military experts gave it as their opinion that the Bolshevik troops were too strong for the forces at Batoum, which should be evacuated.

"GEOPHONER" LISTENING THROUGH HALF A MILE OF SOLID ROCK

HEARS THROUGH 2000 FEET OF SOLID COAL

The "geophone" has been converted into a rescue agency in locating entombed miners.

The device has a capacity of catching vibration sounds through a mined-out area for a distance of 1500 feet, through solid coal for 2000 feet, and detects sounds through solid rock for one-half mile.

The apparatus consists of an iron ring, three and one-half inches in diameter, within the center of which is suspended a lead weight that is fastened by a bolt through two metal discs, one of which covers the top and the other the bottom of the ring. Two brass cap pieces are fastened with bolts to the iron ring, the top brass cap having an opening in the center to which is fastened a rubber tube leading to a stethoscopic earpiece.

In practice, the instrument simply consists of a lead weight suspended between two thin discs, which extend across a small air-tight box. Pounding or digging in the vicinity of the instrument causes the earth waves to shake the geophone case. Vibrations are transmitted to the ear drum, the rapid air waves producing sound effects.

Talking can be understood through 50 feet of the solid coal, and detected 150 feet away.

The geophone locates leaks in water mains. In Pittsburgh the water company had spent two weeks of fruitless effort in locating one leak—the geophone accomplished the job in a few minutes, the leak being heard from the surface from any point within a circle 60 feet in diameter.

ASSESSORS WANT AN AUTOMOBILE

Unless the municipal council sees fit within a short time to make some provision for automobile service for the board of assessors, members of that body will be forced to hire a machine at $10 per day to carry on their real estate valuation work properly, Chairman Albert J. Blazon says.

At the present time the assessors are making their annual rounds in a 1913 Buick model which they claim is next to worthless for the nature of the work in which they are engaged. The old carry-all used in the days before autos were common was more satisfactory than the present machine, Mr. Blazon asserts.

"We don't care what kind of a car we get as long as it gives us the service," Chairman Blazon said this morning. "All the assessors have cars of their own if they want any joy-riding, but we ought to have some sort of a suitable vehicle to make our rounds."

U. S. AMBASSADOR MEETS KING OF ITALY

ROME, April 22.—Robert Underwood Johnson, American ambassador to Italy, presented his credentials to King Victor Emmanuel today, driving from the embassy to the Quirinal palace in gala court carriages with outriders.

Mr. Johnson later left for San Remo, where he will meet the secretary of the American embassy in Paris who has been ordered by the state department at Washington to go to the scene of the conference of the supreme allied council.

The ambassador was met at the Quirinal by Marquis Borea Dalmo, prefect of the palace. Mr. Johnson was introduced to the king and had a cordial audience with the sovereign for about 20 minutes. He then presented the personnel of the embassy, with whom the king conversed.

WLL HOLD DRILL THIS EVENING

The O.M. I. Cadets will hold a drill tonight in their armory in East Merrimack street, and as it may be the last chance for many of the boys to get in trim for the battalion night exercises to be held next Wednesday night in Associate hall, a record attendance is expected. The cadets who are to drill for the prizes have been put under several hard grillings by the instructors and are now working like machines, so precise are they in the manual of arms. The other features to be presented next Wednesday will receive attention tonight.

Col. Alfred Burns will be present and he states that a very important meeting for the officers will be held after the drill. Instructions will be given and final plans outlined in regard to the exhibition and dance.

WHO WANTS A BABY?

NEW YORK—Although janitors are supposed to be prospering these days, the Carden family decided it was too large to combat the high cost of living. Mr. and Mrs. Carden have had nine children. Margaret Carden, their mother, has advertised for adoption the three youngest children, shown in this picture. "I'd rather have someone else keep them than to have them go hungry," said Mrs. Carden.

To Investigate Events in Siberia

VLADIVOSTOK, April 23. (By Associated Press.)—Decision to investigate recent events in Siberia was reached by the inter-allied railway commission here today. This action was a sequel of many complaints that the Japanese military command in Siberia had violated the allied military agreement. The commission also sent an address to the provisional government here, asking it to induce railway workers to return to their posts, "in the interest of the Russian people."

LOWELL SHOEMAKER GIVES TESTIMONY—HARD WORKING PEOPLE HEED WHAT HE SAYS

Leon Lamothe is a shoemaker by trade. He lives at 119 Salem street, Lowell, Mass.

Here is the story he told: "I am 35 years old. I have been a shoemaker since the age of 15. Very often I have worked from 7 a. m. till 11 p. m. I lost my appetite. I had pains in my stomach, which were very severe. I was constipated. I could not sleep well. I got up in the morning feeling tired. I followed a treatment by one of the best physicians in the city and tried everything I was told about, with no results whatever, and thought I should have to give up work. A neighbor asked me to try a few of his tablets which were Iron-Lax-Tonic tablets from which he had received nooks."—Adv.

BRIDES OF THE AGES

Puff Sleeves, Small Bodices, for Gibson "American Girl"

BY CORA MOORE,

New York's Fashion Authority.

NEW YORK, 23.—Not so long ago, at least not more than twenty years ago, short sleeves were emphatically "in." But not the abbreviated, unobtrusive affairs of today. They might be elbow length or half of that, but always they were of balloon-like fullness.

Fashionable gowns of that day had distinctly tight bodices which might be pointed, and quite evident hips. Skirts were long, sweeping the floor, and of a crinolined stiffness, though far from the hoop-skirts.

Heavy satins, corded silks and velvets were popular. Foulards were at the height of their reign, and lighter dresses of chambray were in favor.

Heavy, pearl-white satin was chosen for the gown in which Olie La Vaine, French mannequin, poses as the Chas. Dana Gibson bride of that period, in the "Brides of the Centuries" feature of "What's in a Name?" A great four-in-hand bow of tulle behind an orange blossom bandeau is her head dress.

The constitution further provides that "no member under 21 years of age shall have the right to vote at meetings of the Corporation."

TO THOSE NOT YET MEMBERS

In Lowell we have the Community Club for Service Men, Ex-Service Men and Civilians. This Club is the Center for General Activities.

We also have the Community Service Club for Girls and a Center for Women's and Girls' Activities.

These were established and maintained, the former up to January 31st, 1920, and the latter up to November 1st, 1919, out of funds supplied out of the United War Work Fund, later partly by the National Community Service and privately. Both are invaluable to Lowell and a responsibility Lowell is asked to assume, else they must be given up sooner or later, if the People of Lowell do not unite to support and maintain them. Lowell Organizations, Leaders and People in the Community have had the matter placed in their hands. Over 8000 People have responded to the call to establish their own Community Service, but less than $5000 has been subscribed, and there is a population of 100,000 in the Community.

What is the matter? Is Lowell going to fall down?

The Board of Directors have done their best—they have fairly and squarely done their part; organized and planned so that the Lowell Community, including each individual, could have a part in this Organization of Service to Lowell.

The President appreciates the right of any and all to throw him and the Board of Directors down and will make no complaint, but to throw down the Men who have been in the Service, to throw out the girls and the Service Center, the value of which is so well known, would be a crime and a disgrace to Lowell, and a reflection on the organization and individuals, who refuse to assist through being too self-centered or too indifferent to Lowell's needs, failing to see their responsibilities, as members of the Community.

The Election takes place April 28th. What will be handed to the new Board of Directors? WHAT DOES LOWELL SAY?

Body May Be That of "Blink" McCloskey

PARIS, April 23.—"Blink" McCloskey, an American pugilist, who for the past nine or ten years has been prominent in fistie circles of Europe, has been missing since March 8. The torso of a man found in the Seine just outside of Paris recently has been viewed by men well acquainted with McCloskey and they have expressed the opinion the body may be that of the missing pugilist. McCloskey left his hotel on March 8, having $200 on his person which he told Johnny Conlon and "Bix" Mackay, also American fighters, he intended to convert into francs.

FRENCH REDS PARADE WITH KNIVES BETWEEN THEIR TEETH

PARIS—Here's the red flag, and a group of French Bolsheviks looking hard-boiled as possible, with knives, their "emblems," clenched between their teeth.

PETER TOOK THE COUNT

Mr. Blanchard Allows That One Charles H. Green is Hard Hitter

Charles H. Green of Lowell K.O'd Peter Blanchard, also of this city, in one round of fast fighting last evening.

The event was staged in a Tyler street rooming house and the principals didn't bother to engage the services of a referee.

Shortly after Peter took the count the police dropped in and took the pair to police headquarters—also the audience, which consisted of Ambrose Redmond of Plymouth and Agnes Richard.

Several empty "jakey" bottles were also seized by the representatives of the law.

This morning in police court everyone told Judge Pickman about the scrap which, they unanimously agreed, was packed with action and thrills from the moment it began until Green ended the festivities with a well directed right hook to the jaw.

Peter was the first to tell his story. Peter couldn't talk very fluently, because several of his teeth were missing.

ing as the result of the bombardment he had undergone.

Early in the evening he left the room where he and the rest of the party were visiting, intent upon purchasing some "jakey." When he returned Green opened fire with a volley of left jabs and right hooks, he said, and although he did his best to come back, he was hopelessly outclassed from the start.

He didn't know why Green had singled him out to display his pugilistic wares, but he freely admitted that Green sure did pack an awful wallop. Green said that it was Peter who had started the fuss and that he was forced to "lick him in self-defense."

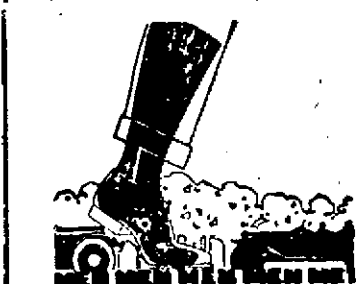

"I just hit him two or three cracks. Your Honor," he declared. "Then I picked him up off the door, washed the blood off and laid him down on the bed."

Redmond and the Richard woman didn't have much to add to the story. Both admitted that they had put away considerable "jakey," however.

Judge Pickman didn't say much about the matter, either. Just fined Green $25 for assault and battery, gave the woman five months in the house of correction and ordered suspended sentences for the other two.

Case Continued

Charged with assault and battery, Charles W. Lombard pleaded not guilty.

THREE SUDDEN DEATHS HERE IN TWO DAYS

There were three sudden deaths in this city yesterday and today. The first occurred yesterday morning when Geo. Stalias, aged 38, a coffee house proprietor in Market street, passed away at his home, 358 Market street. Mr. Stalias complained to his wife of a pain at the heart and before medical assistance could be summoned, the man breathed his last. The body was viewed by Medical Examiner T. B. Smith, who pronounced death due to heart disease.

The second occurred yesterday afternoon when Daniel E. Plack, who for 25 years was employed as foreman at the Lamson company, passed away at his home, 446 Stevens street. Deceased is survived by his wife, Lillian R. Plack; a daughter, Miss Helen G. Plack and four brothers.

The third death occurred this morning at the Chelmsford street hospital and the victim was Edouard Buisson, aged 55 years, who died from cerebral hemorrhage. Mr. Buisson had been an inmate at the hospital since 1917. Medical Examiner T. B. Smith, after viewing the body, attributed death to cerebral hemorrhage. Deceased is survived by a daughter.

HUMANE SOCIETY AGENT GRATEFUL

In regard to the "Be Kind to Animals Week," observed in this city during the week of April 12-18, in co-operation with the national campaign Agent C. F. Richardson of the Lowell Humane society extended his thanks today to the various public mediums of Lowell. "The campaign was an endeavor fostered by the American Humane society to awaken 'particularly in the hearts of children, those principles of justice, fair play and active kindness towards every form of life capable of suffering, without which there can be no character worthy of citizenship in a free state.'"

In putting the campaign across in Lowell, Mr. Richardson, who was in charge here, secured the co-operation of the Strand, Merrimack Square and Kelly's theatres, where very entertaining and instructive colored slides were cast upon the screens at every performance during the week, also the help of the public school teachers, who held daily instructions in their class rooms teaching the "seeds of kindness," and the aid of the local newspapers which brought forth before the public the idea of the campaign.

To all these mediums mentioned and to Supt. Melloy of the school department Mr. C. F. Richardson extends his thanks for the co-operation rendered for such a worthy cause.

SPRING VACATIONS IN THE SCHOOLS

The spring vacation of teachers and pupils of the local schools began half a day earlier than expected for the no-school signal was sounded at 12:15 this afternoon, suspending the afternoon sessions and the schools will not reopen until a week from next Monday morning, May 3.

AT ATLANTIC CITY

Mr. Goodell to Attend National Convention There

William N. Goodell, president of the Lowell chamber of commerce, leaves tomorrow to attend the national convention of the United States chamber of commerce at Atlantic City on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of next week. He will be the only representative of the loyal organization.

On Monday he will sit as a councillor at the national council session and on the following three days, as a delegate to the convention. Although the keynote of this year's convention is a necessity of increased production, the delegates will be called upon to consider many questions of unusual importance, including admiralty suits against the government, Americanization, anti-trust laws, business codes, fire prevention, foreign trade, department of commerce, free zones inland navigation projects and last, but not least, Mexico.

In discussing the Mexican question

the delegates will consider the following resolution introduced by the St. Louis chamber of commerce:

"Resolved: That there be recognition of the high importance of placing before the people of the United States the concrete facts which demonstrate the financial, commercial, political and social progress of Mexico, thus bring to the new leadership, which the various organized agencies of Mexican life are developing, the assurance of the sympathy of the forward-looking men in the United States and the desire for practical co-operation—financial, industrial, social—on the part of the leaders of our thought and life."

LATER CAR SERVICE FOR HIGH STREET

Through the efforts of Thomas Lees, local manager of the Western Massachusetts Street Railway Co., High street line will have later car service beginning next week. Since the recent rearrangement of the car schedules the last High street car leaves the square at 11:09, but as this was too late to connect with the 9:59 train from Boston, it was deemed advisable to extend the time. Next week the last High street car will leave the square at 11:29, but that time will not be effective for Sundays. No other changes will begin Sunday. The new schedule on the Tyngsboro line was put into effect recently.

New assignment of routes to the motormen and conductors of the street railway company was made recently and will go into effect Sunday.

ASSESSORS CALL THIS PROFITEERING

Forty dollars a month for a six-room cottage located on the outskirts of the city is the most flagrant example of alleged profiteering on the part of local landlords which has come to the attention of the local assessors today in discussing their experiences in making their rounds this spring to assess real estate and personal property.

on a street leading from the Pawtucket boulevard and the assessors say that they have traced its origin to a cottage which formerly stood near the present filtration plant of the water department but which was sold in 1916 by the city to a local man. He moved it to its present location. Records at the water department office show that he paid in the vicinity of $300 for it. Today he is renting it for $10 per month.

This amount of rent has been charged since last December, the present tenants told the assessors. The house was valued at $2000 last year by the assessors; the amount of rent now being charged will undoubtedly be taken into consideration when the board comes to place a 1920 valuation on the property.

The assessors are meeting with many other instances that would seem to indicate unnecessarily high rent charges and are investigating each case as it comes along. Although it has no power to prosecute such cases the board will keep them in mind when it places a valuation on the various pieces of real estate involved.

The Daylight Saving Law

Continued

Massachusetts is the only New England state to adopt the time change.

While Lowell as a whole will not watches and clocks ahead one hour on Sunday night and lose an hour's sleep thereby, the Boston & Maine railroad will adhere to eastern standard time, moving ahead all of its trains, rather than its timepieces.

The Boston & Maine, as an interstate carrier, in common with other railroads operating in Massachusetts, will continue to observe the old time, so-called, and, therefore, the time shown in folders and on railroad clocks will indicate 2 o'clock, for instance, when clocks conforming to Massachusetts daylight saving time indicate 3 o'clock. It is of particular importance that patrons keep this in mind when preparing for railroad journeys.

Trains Leave One Hour Earlier

All trains, local and through trains originating on the Boston & Maine system and terminating on the lines of other railroads will be scheduled one hour earlier than at present, effective, Monday, the 26th. Through trains from other railroads may be operated on revised schedules to be announced later.

This arrangement has been decided upon after most careful consideration as one which will accommodate the greatest number of people and occasion the minimum inconvenience. The the interests of all communities, irrespective of state boundaries and any attempt to adjust them to meet local conditions in various states due to difference in time would cause the breaking of many connections and a complete disruption of the present schedules, with consequent inconvenience to patrons.

The following examples are illustrative of the proposed schedules: A train now leaving Boston for Lowell at 5 p. m. will be scheduled to leave at 4 p. m., eastern standard time, this being 5 p. m., Massachusetts daylight saving time.

Similarly, the train now scheduled to leave Lowell for Boston at 9:01 a. m. will be scheduled to leave at 8:01, eastern standard time, this being 9:01, Massachusetts daylight saving time.

Boiled down, this means that if you plan to get the 9:01 to Boston next week, you will go to the station at a time by your watch to catch this train, but the clock in the depot will show 8:01 when the train leaves. That is the difference which is liable to cause confusion and which traveling people are urged to keep in mind.

No Confusion Looked For

It is believed that Lowell will accept the new time with no apparent confusion in her workaday life. Farmers in nearby towns will be forced to adjust themselves to the new conditions, however. The dairyman, for example, claims to be injured in the daylight saving scheme, because he is required to get up an hour earlier in order to meet train schedules or milk delivery schedules and that his work continues into the evening as late as ever—thus, his day is lengthened by one hour. He claims that his workmen object to this condition and he will be unable to hire labor if daylight saving is continued.

Proponents of the daylight saving measure, however, say the dairyman will be taken care of by shifting milk train and delivery schedules. Very little milk brought into Massachusetts cities by morning trains is delivered the same morning, they say.

The Farmers' Situation

The farmer claims a loss of one hour's work under daylight saving because work must be delayed one hour in the morning until the dew is off the grass or vegetables. Answering this objection, proponents of the measure say that hay can be cut when wet with dew and frequently is cut when wet. They say the same holds true in regard to vegetables and that while it may be unpleasant to work while crops are damp, it is not actually injurious.

Lowell Industries in Favor

A report of investigations concerning the advent of daylight saving in Massachusetts and recently published by the Boston chamber of commerce, is of particular interest to Lowell, inasmuch as reference is made to a number of local industries, etc. The following Lowell industries have gone on record as favoring the state daylight saving law:

C. S. Dodge, The Lamson Co., Lowell Bleachery, Tremont & Suffolk mills, Wamsit Power Co., Waterhead Mills, Inc., George L. Cady & Sons, Burham & Davis Lumber Co., Brookfield Woolen Co., H. H. Mawhinney Co., Columbia Textile Co., Davis & Sargent Lumber Co., D. Lovejoy & Son, Gillespie Mfg. Co., Park Worsted mills, Avery Chemical Co., C. L. Hood Co., C. E. Hatch Co., Pratt & Forrest, U. S. Bobbin & Shuttle Co., John Pilling Shoe, American Mason Safety Tread, T. C. Entwistle Co., Knowles Scale Works and Saco-Lowell Shops.

In West Chelmsford, the H. E. agency.

Fletcher Co. favors it and in Littleton the measure is endorsed by Conant, Houghton & Co., Inc. The Tabor mills in North Billerica also favor it.

Local Employers Vote on Question

In a poll taken by the Boston chamber of commerce among the employees of several Lowell business houses, the result was as follows:

	For	Against
C. F. Hatch Co.	162	11
Park Worsted mill	41	9
D. Lovejoy & Son	40	9
Appleton Co.	160	203
U. S. Cartridge Co.	621	43
Stirling mills	28	82
Belvidere Woolen	81	81
Lowell Gas Light	35	10
Gillespie Mfg. Co.	435	63
Saco-Lowell shops	123	45

A canvass of Lowell physicians resulted in 43 in favor and four against, while the Lowell General and St. John's hospitals, both reported in favor. Eight Lowell optometrists and opticians replied to a poll taken as favoring the new law. Two hundred and ninety-one opticians from 61 cities and towns in the state have gone on record in favor of daylight saving and gave the following reasons therefor: Lessen eye strain, benefits health, provides for additional recreation, reduces accidents and increases workers' efficiency.

The Infanta Cristina, daughter of King Alfonso, of Spain, is much less concerned with the state problems which make royalty an uncertain profession these days than she is with her pet donkey. ## AN INNOVATION

Democrats Pull New One in Convention Management

CHICAGO, April 23.—A new departure in political convention management has been launched by the democratic national committee, which has opened a transportation bureau here to care for the delegates, alternates and spectators who will go to San Francisco to attend the convention June 28.

The shortage of railroad equipment and the flood of traffic on all roads is responsible for the innovation.

by the democrats as a lure to attract at least a part of the travelers westward two or three weeks before the convention, thereby spreading the burden on the railroads over a longer period.

For the return trip from San Francisco a system has been worked out whereby the visitors can buy eastbound tickets within 36 hours after the convention opens, the tickets to call for return passage eight hours after the convention closes. The biggest problem in convention transportation has always been the return trip, as the day-and-hour for the close is always uncertain.

E. K. Bizby, a transportation official of the Pennsylvania railroad system, has been loaned to the democratic committee to take charge of the transportation bureau. He has obtained the co-operation of the association of western passenger agents, and the Pullman company has promised him first call for its parlor car equipment.

The transportation committee of the national democratic committee, which is directing the work, includes Charles Roosenstein, Illinois, chairman; Isidore H. Lockweiler, Calif.; W. W. Marsh, Iowa; Fred B. Lynch, Minn.; and Patrick M. Quinn, Rhode Island.

HOME BUILDING TO STOP PROFITEERING

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—A campaign for the building of homes is Philadelphia's answer to the question of how to keep rents down to a reasonable basis. The tenant population is in desperate straits, for rents have been going higher and higher and no end seems to be in sight. The scramble for homes in the suburbs is so acute that when one woman moved some of the furniture out of her home the other day, in order to clean the house, 25 persons tried to rent it from her within a few hours.

To stop the profiteering in rents and homes, several organizations are attempting to unite on a program of house building to continue for at least six months or until the shortage has been relieved. These organizations include Associations of Tenants, Trade unions, representatives of the building trades and mortgaging companies. They have been asked to undertake this work by the department of public welfare.

Meanwhile camping ground accessible by street cars is in great demand. Tent manufacturers say more orders have been placed for tents this month than ever before in Philadelphia's history.

There is an unprecedented amount of building of cheap cottages and bungalows within a radius of 30 miles of Philadelphia to accommodate the rush of tenants that is expected when mild weather comes. Those erected in one community cost about $600 each and are eagerly rented at $350 for the season.

Old canal boats lying along the Schuylkill river are being fitted out as dwellings and families are glad to rent them as temporary homes.

HOUSE BUILT IN SEVEN DAYS!

CHICAGO—Carpenters say the erection of a new home in seven days at Melrose Park is a record building feat. The old house, owned by a carpenter, was razed in the recent tornado. Brother carpenters—a score of them—pitched in and donated their time, "off hours," to help him get up a new one in a hurry. It took the equivalent, in hours at various times, of seven days.

SHAWNEE CAMPERS' ANNUAL DANCE

The Shawnee Campers held their third annual dance in Lincoln hall last evening. It was a most successful affair with about 400 people present, who enjoyed the evening's amusement until a reasonable hour. The music of the evening was featured by Paul Angelo at the piano and John Clark at the drum. The dancing by Miss Catherine Boyle was a feature of the entertainment. The balloon dance, which was held shortly after intermission, proved interesting to all. The officers of the party were as follows: John Bowers, general manager; Bernard O'Grady, assistant general manager; Arthur Krause, floor director; Alexander Reid, chief aid; James Creamer, treasurer.

Loss of Appetite

Pimples and Other Eruptions—Mental and Physical Weariness

They are all common at this time of year, and are all indications that the blood is wanting in the power to defend the body against infectious and contagious diseases, because they are all indications that it needs cleansing, enriching and vitalizing.

It is important to give them attention—it is in fact hazardous to neglect them.

Get Hood's Sarsaparilla today and begin taking it at once, regularly after eating and if convenient in a little hot water.

Remember, this medicine has given satisfaction to three generations, for the blood, stomach, liver and kidneys. It builds up the whole system. It makes food taste good.

For a gentle laxative or an active cathartic, take Hood's Pills. You will like them.—Adv.

OUTLINE PLANS FOR HOTEL EXPANSION

The incorporators of the Harrisonia Hotel Co., Frank E. Harris, Frank L. Simpson and Charles Abbott, appeared before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at its meeting last night to further outline the plans for the development of the present Harrisonia hotel in Central street.

It was announced that papers of incorporation have been received and that work on the new building already has begun. The plans for financing the proposition call for a stock and bond issue, none of which will go out of Lowell. It is said. Common stock to the amount of $350,000; preferred stock, bearing interest at 7 per cent to the amount of $400,000, and $350,000 worth of bonds will be the total issue.

THE ANNUAL BOY SCOUT GALA DAY

The date for the annual Boy Scout Gala day has been set for May 23. A meeting of members in charge of the affair was held in scout headquarters in the Cornoy Bank building last evening. Besides the scout executive, Read I. Ripley, representatives from each of the scout troops were present.

It is most likely that the event this year will be held in Washington park. All the troops are preparing for special events, and there will be booths and the usual demonstrations of scout work. The other members of the committee in charge are: Carl Hilton, scoutmaster of troop 15; Willard Ryan, scoutmaster of troop 8; Deputy Commissioners Albert E. Thurston and Osborn Coburn.

WHY WEAR OVERALLS?

New York Clothing Store Cuts Prices of Suits From

$55 to $37.50

NEW YORK, April 23.—One of New York's large ready-to-wear clothing houses, in advertising yesterday reductions to $37.50 in the prices of suits and overcoats ranging as high as $56 and reductions to $37.50 on these priced as high as $75, announced the drop as "a deliberate cutting of our own profit for the purpose of helping the movement to force down the high cost of clothing."

Thousands of New Yorkers reading the announcement contemplated what the profits at original prices must have been.

The advertisement was headed: "Why wear overalls?" and explained the reduction was the firm's "contribution to the national drive to cut the high cost of clothing."

EVERY EGG AN OMELETTE

A LESSON IN ECONOMY

"HERE'S a simple problem that has been solved by a revolution."

"WHAT do you mean by a revolution?"

"THE idea back of the P&Q (Price and Quality) way of selling clothes has revolutionized the old method of merchandising and its many profits—the maker's, the drummer's commission, the expensive hotel bills, the losses by bad accounts, all of which the wearer has to pay."

"IS that the reason I have always saved money when I bought P&Q Clothes?"

"YES! P&Q (Price & Quality) Clothes are sold direct to the wearer at one small profit saving the customer all the in-between charges that the ordinary clothing store must add."

"WELL now I understand why I get such great values—but how do you account for the wonderful styles they show?"

"EASY enough! Every P&Q (Price & Quality) garment is designed and tailored in the P&Q sunlight tailor plant in New York City. The spirit of the great Metropolis permeates every line and every pattern."

"LOTS of my friends wear P&Q Clothes and all are enthusiastic about them,—no wonder."

"TO sum up this lesson in economy P&Q Clothes are the best money's worth in America. 35 Stores in 32 great American Cities sell them. 500,000 men wear them and praise them."

"THANK YOU! You said something."

That's a lesson easy to learn, easy to remember.—It will pay you to study it!

LONDON WOMEN GIVE HUSBY "BARBER SHOP CHORD," CUTTING HAIR AND COSTS

LONDON.—The women of England have found a new way to cut the high cost of existence, and incidentally their hair. There's a string attached to it, but that doesn't prevent it's being a good hunch. They take a string, or gauge, fit it snugly about the head, apply the shears along the edge and accomplish a tidy and artistic haircut—with considerable saving. It would work well in America with "trimming" threatening the 75 cents per week.

MATRIMONIAL

Mr. Arthur Carpenter and Miss Helen Woodbury were married Wednesday evening by Rev. Edward Babcock, the ceremony being performed at the home of the officiating clergyman, the double ring service being used. The bride wore a pearl grey tricotone travelling suit with hat to match. She was attended by her sister, Miss Nellie Woodbury, who was attired in a blue suit with pink georgette hat. The best man was Mr. Henry T. Carpenter a brother of the groom. The bride's gift to the bridesmaid was a gold pin set with sapphires and pearls, while the groom's favor to the best man was a Masonic ring. At the close of the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the bride, 17 D street and later the couple left on a wedding trip to New York. Upon their return they will make their home in this city.

Tension Has Been Lessened

had opportunity for a private conversation. The tension between the British and French delegations is said to have been considerably lessened in consequence.

PARIS, April 23.—Premier Lloyd George of Great Britain would approve of Anglo-French occupation of the Ruhr district of Germany in the event the Berlin government should refuse to suitably live up to the revised terms of the Versailles treaty, says "Pertinax," political editor of the Echo de Paris. He says intimation to this effect has come through a member of the British premier's suite for the purpose of overcoming Premier Millerand's opposition to revision of the German treaty.

"The representative of England," asserts Pertinax in the course of his article, "charged a high military member of his suite with the duty of interposing questions during discussions for the purpose of giving the impression that if Germany should fail to exactly execute the treaty of Versailles, once it is revised, England would consent to sending her soldiers into the Ruhr valley in company with those of France.

"Maneuvers at San Remo having the purpose of overcoming French opposition to revision of the treaty are the culmination of conversations which have been going on at Berlin between officials of the German government and certain allied representatives. The arrival of the German note asking for a permanent army of 200,000 men is not a mere coincidence.

LONDON, April 23.—The Times today confirms the Paris reports of yesterday that Premier Lloyd George and Nitti had urged that a German representative be summoned to San Remo for the purpose of revising the treaty of Versailles, but that the proposal collapsed owing to French and Belgian opposition. To this the newspaper adds:

"We understand that any attempt to revise the treaty without consulting the United States will be resented by America, who will consider England responsible for any complication that may ensue."

You Can't Brush Or Wash Out Dandruff

The only sure way to get rid of dandruff is to dissolve it, then you destroy it entirely. To do this, get about four ounces of ordinary liquid arvon; apply it at night when retiring; use enough to moisten the scalp and rub it in gently with the finger tips.

Do this tonight, and by morning, most if not all, of your dandruff will be gone; and three or four more applications will completely dissolve and entirely destroy every single sign and trace of it, no matter how much dandruff you may have.

You will find, too, that all itching and digging of the scalp will stop at once, and your hair will be fluffy, lustrous, glossy, silky and soft, and look and feel a hundred times better.

You can get liquid arvon at any drug store. It is inexpensive and never fails to do the work.—Adv.

MANY TURKS ARE JAILED

Mohammedans Join in Movement to "Free Sultan From Allied Influence"

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 21.—(By Associated Press)—Izzet Pasha, former grand vizier, was placed under arrest by entente authorities here today. General Alirza Pasha, and several other prominent Turks also were apprehended.

Izzet Pasha is one of the best known figures in Turkish politics and was asked to form a cabinet early in March when the government of Sali Pasha gave notice it intended to resign. He was one of the Turkish delegates named to go to Paris to receive the terms of peace from the allies.

Danush Ferid Pasha, grand vizier, today took charge of the war office, because disaffection there has threatened to embarrass the government in sending assistance to Anzour Pasha, chief of the sultan's forces in Asia Minor. He discharged a number of officials who were charged with being responsible for the trouble.

Rehid Bey, minister of the interior, has resigned, and there is general dissatisfaction in government circles. Many officials disapprove of wholesale arrests of nationalists in this city and are unwilling to act against Mustapha Kemal. Twelve hundred adherents of Mustapha Kemal are reported to have been arrested, and many are being thrown into jail daily. Officers of one entire section of the war office are reported to have deserted their desks and gone to Anatolia.

Government troops and forces under command of Mustapha Kemal have clashed in a number of skirmishes in western Anatolia and it is reported the latter held the dominant position there due to the fact they have the sympathy of the population. Suburban trains within an hour of Constantinople have been fired upon by snipers.

CONSTANTINOPLE, April 21.—(By Associated Press)—All Mohammedans are called upon to unite in a movement to "free the sultan from allied influence" in a proclamation issued by Col. Jafar Tayar, commandant at Adrianople, on April 15.

"We are not fighting against the sultan, but against his jailers," the proclamation declared. "The world knows Thrace is Turkish and Moslem. We have never broken bonds with the sultan, whom we regard as the supreme chief, but the example of Smyrna is before our eyes. We know the Greeks murdered our brothers and ruined Turkish villages, and we know the same fate awaits us at the hands of the Greeks if we are unprepared to defend ourselves.

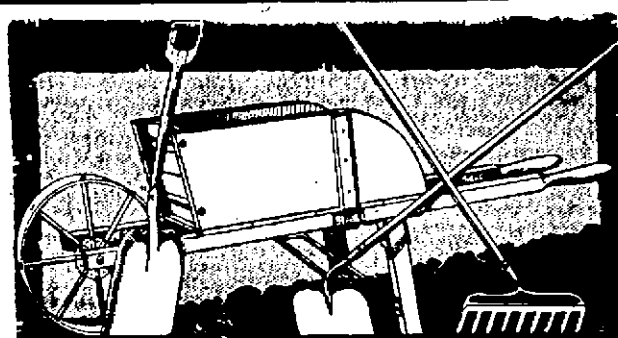

"The nationalist movement grew out of the atrocities inflicted on the Turks by the Greeks when the latter occupied Smyrna and the same enemies are about to attack Thrace."

The attitude of Col. Jafar Tayar toward the sultan is evidently different from that of Mustapha Kemal who has disclaimed any allegiance to Constantinople.

U. S. Tobacco Too Good For Spanish Taste

MADRID, April 22.—American pipe and cigaret tobacco is too good for the Spanish taste, according to representatives of the company holding the tobacco monopoly in Spain. It is asserted the American government has offered a large amount of tobacco from its stores in France at an extremely advantageous price, but the monopolists have refused to take advantage of the bargain.

ORIGINATORS EXPLAIN OVERALL CLUB IDEA

TAMPA, Fla., April 23.—Whether the wearing of overalls and calicoes instead of blue serge, native Palm beaches, homespun, volles and other expensive clothing will bring down the high cost of dressing is an experiment first started here and now spreading through all Florida and into Alabama. The whole country now knows of it and has characterized it as "the Tampa idea."

The new style movement, its originators say, is dictated in the spirit of civic duty and necessity and does not indicate any lessening of desire on the part of either men or women for good and stylish apparel. They think, however, that it is worth while to try to popularize overalls for men and calicoes and ginghams for women and it is no secret that the feminine experimenters are still looking for the return of silks, satins, organdies and the like to the limitations of their purses.

So it came about that Hafford Jones, secretary of an insurance company, started the Overalls club of Tampa. Each member pledged to wear overalls on a regular thing until clothing prices tumbled. Hundreds have joined and many are making good. Others say they are keeping the pledge just as faithfully by taking advantage of the clause which allows them to wear old clothes in lieu of overalls—just so they don't buy any new stuff.

When the men organized the women took up the battle, the New Thought and Unity club, headed by Mrs. Clara Lawton Motcalf, pledging its membership to calico dresses. All of this had its first public demonstration on Easter Sunday.

Men and women, correctly garbed to harmonize with the new idea, gathered in the court house square. Addresses were made, new pledges received, and petitions signed asking city, state and national officials to take notice and give aid. Merchants looked on and frowned, and later announced that their sales had not fallen off a bit. They are not the only ones who smile knowingly at the movement and predict that just as the foregoing of the luscious porterhouse steak and choice rib roasts increased the cost of whiskey, chuck and rum, the abandonment of beautiful silks and all wool garments will raise the cost of denim and calicoes.

"This overalls business is only a foot joke," says one of the leading clothiers. "Just as long as folks who work for wages demand 15-dollar silk shirts, three-dollar silk neckties and two and a half-dollar silk socks, they will get them. And while they're buying that sort of stuff you may lay your heaviest bet on their also buying the best suits of clothing the market affords."

The Overall club, however, insists that the war has only begun and that they'll stick it out and are gaining recruits in hundreds.

The movement is being taken up all over the state. Clubs have been organized at Jacksonville, Lakeland, Centre Hill and other places. If someone would come along with a cartload of sabots the folks might buy and take revenge on the boot sellers.

A part of the Easter Sunday program was for the denim and calicoes to pair off and go to church. Only a few couples had the nerve to stick it out and they presented odd Darby and Joan contrast to beset and befeathered women and taller-moulder men.

TRAFFIC CONGESTION

8-Hour Day Adds to London's Troubles

LONDON, April 23.—London's traffic problem, which is if anything more serious than that of New York, has been made "difficult" it is announced by a parliamentary committee of investigation, by the eight-hour day.

The committee of which Kennedy Jones, member of parliament, is chairman, has been considering the subject for some time. Traffic congestion is severe, the committee found, between the hours of 7.30 and 9 a. m. and 5 and 7 p. m. It reached its maximum between the latter hours, and the committee says "little or no relief can be looked for in the near future from any increase of the transport facilities during those hours."

Regarding the trouble as accentuated by the general adoption of the eight-hour day, the committee expresses the opinion that "if certain allied businesses could arrange for the majority of their employees to leave their work between 4 and 4.15 p. m. instead of at 5 p. m., or later, appreciable benefit would result." It appeals to business houses to co-operate in this direction and asks shoppers to do as much of their shopping as they can manage to do between 10 a. m. and 1 p. m.

A man in Indian Orchard bet a long time ago that a small mountain of snow taken from the streets and piled on the common would not be wholly gone by April 15. Monday the man with whom he bet, seeing about two feet of solid ice remaining, hired two men to clear it away, there having been no stipulation as to how the snow should disappear. The other party to the wager learned of what was going on, drove the laborers away, and put up a big sign reading, "No Trespassing," to guard the mound.

These four Ladies have regained their health and strength by taking RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women

Saying a good word for RED PILLS

It is now six years since I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and I consider it my duty to praise them highly, for they have helped me so much that I am now strong and well. I eat well, sleep well and in fact cannot complain of anything. Two boxes of RED PILLS relieved me, and fifteen boxes put me in fine health. I now take pleasure in recommending RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women to my numerous friends.—Mrs. PHILIAS GAMACHE, 2 Coolidge, Lowell, Mass.

After recovering from a severe attack of "grippe" last fall, my constitution was run-down and in a weakened condition. I was constantly troubled with headaches, backaches, poor digestion, and was getting so weak that I had lost all interest in life. I started to take RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, and it was not long before I started to feel stronger and better in many ways. In about four or five months my health was completely changed and I was feeling fine.—Mrs. MARY DALY, 363 Pond Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Good for the nerves

RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women have strengthened me, they have calmed my nerves and helped my stomach. I took twenty-four boxes and was made well. I am now able to digest my food easily, I am strong and courageous and life seems brighter to me than ever before. I therefore do not hesitate one minute in recommending RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women, so that others may have a chance of being benefited by their use, just as I have been.—

Mrs. PIERRE CARDIN, 145 Buttle Street, Woonsocket, R.I.

Benefited fifteen years ago; still well

Fifteen years ago I took RED PILLS for Pale and Weak Women. I was so worn-out through overwork that I was completely exhausted and unable to do anything right. Some of my lady-friends who came to see me, were always speaking of RED PILLS and I grew to believe in them so much that I tried them. Only six boxes were necessary to help me, and I will take them again whenever I feel that I need a good tonic to build up my strength.—Mrs. O. FORGET, 138 Aikman Street, Lowell, Mass.

RED PILLS are for Women only

They are always sold in boxes of fifty pills, 50 cents box, 6 boxes for $2.50. See that the name of the "FRANCO-AMERICAN CHEMICAL COMPANY LIMITED" is on every box.

WILL CELEBRATE DOUBLE ANNIVERSARY

SPRINGFIELD, April 23.—Members of the 104th Infantry, the all-Massachusetts regiment, will celebrate a double anniversary in this city April 25, Apremont day, when the first annual meeting and reunion of the 104th Infantry Veterans' association will take place. It is the first regimental reunion called by any unit in the famous 26th (Yankee) Division, of which it was a part.

The gathering not only marks the second anniversary of the decoration of the regimental standards with the crosses and colors of the French Croix de Guerre for gallantry in action at Apremont and the Bois Brule, but also the first anniversary of the founding of the regimental veteran association and the discharge of the members from federal service at Camp Devens.

An elaborate program has been prepared, and in addition to speaking, luncheon, election of officers, and the transaction of other business (which will include among other things the possibility of a change in name), the association officers have planned to have the regimental colors brought to Springfield from Boston. Preparation of a regimental history will be discussed also. Centralized committees in Springfield, which was the regiment's headquarters, have been at work for weeks perfecting details for the reunion, and they have been supplemented by local committees formed in the various cities and towns represented by companies or detachments in the original regiment.

The 104th Infantry made an enviable war record. It was organized from the old Second, Sixth and Eighth Massachusetts National Guard Regiments and mobilized in August, 1917, at Camp Bartlett, Westfield. Col. William C. Hayes of Springfield was assigned as its first commander, and the 104th Infantry had the distinction of being the first war strength regiment of approximately 4000 men to be paraded in the United States, the farewell review taking place at Springfield in September, 1917, two days before its departure for France.

As one of the units of the 26th Division, it was a component part of the first national guard division to be organized for overseas service and a part of the first complete division of the United States army to sail for foreign shores. The regiment was trained in the Neufchateau region for three months and suffered tremendous privations, the men drilling and preparing themselves for front line duty in snow, ice and mud, which was often to their knees.

It entered the trenches on the Chemin des Dames front in February, 1918, and with the division saw more continuous front line service than any other in the entire American army. The regiment gained its greatest fame, however, at the battle of Apremont or Bois Brule.

The 104th took over a sector from the French on the Gironville front northwest of Toul, April 1, 1918. Here for nine days it was subjected to terrific shelling, and on the following day was attacked by picked storm troops. For four days the regiment was engaged in a vicious duel with the best the Germans had to offer and finally sent them back defeated after repeated attacks and counter-attacks.

In this action the regiment lost heavily but gained unusual distinction.

Outnumbered, almost two to one, the 104th refused to give an inch of ground and when the battle ended the regiment occupied the same front it had at the beginning of the attack by the Boche storm troops.

Because of gallantry at Apremont, 116 members of the regiment were awarded the Croix de Guerre, and the regimental colors were decorated. The ceremony took place on a hill overlooking the village of Boucon on Sunday, April 28, 1918. Among those to win the coveted decoration were several members of the band, who acted as stretcher bearers during the battle. Thereafter the 104th Infantry band became known as the most decorated musical outfit in the entire army.

The distinction of being the first American regiment in history to be decorated by a foreign government never left the 104th. In its participation in the Aisne-Marne offensive or Chateau-Thierry, the reduction of the St. Mihiel salient and the battles of the Meuse-Argonne, the regiment upheld the traditions made in the Bois Brule. Its morale was never weakened and the 104th was proud of its share in the division record.

Although its losses were appalling, it was impossible to shake the spirit of the regiment. In the closing days of its career at Camp Devens it was decided to continue the traditions and associations through a veterans' organization. This brought about the formation of the 104th Infantry Veterans' association, which is to have its first reunion and annual meeting in Springfield on Apremont day, April 25.

CAR FARES IN ROME CONTINUE TO SOAR

ROME, April 23.—Carfares in Rome which were originally two cents and were lately raised to three and then four, it is now decreed, shall now be six cents from 5 o'clock in the morning until 10 at night, after which they will be 5 cents.

Those who, going to their work before 5 a. m., used to pay one cent, will now pay three for the privilege of hanging to a strap in the overcrowded cars. Cabmen have also doubled their prices but, because the cost of a pair of shoes or boots now ranges from $25 to $50, it is more economical to ride than to wear out leather.

CHICAGO TRIES TO STOP RENT PROFITEERING

CHICAGO, April 23.—This city is attempting to prevent rent profiteering by regulating increases in rates and by organizing a $100,000,000 corporation to build homes and sell them on easy payments. Meanwhile Chicago's flat dwellers have been forming unions to wage on alleged profiteering landlords and committees in the city council have been investigating increases in rents ranging up to 160 and even 200 per cent.

Several hundred families have solved their individual housing problems by making their homes in houseboats moored in the branches of the Chicago river, the Calumet and lakes in south Chicago. Once in possession of a house boat, the owner only has to pay $1 a month for the privilege of mooring his craft. If he does not like his location he can move his home boat elsewhere. Many of these boats cost $1000 each and have five rooms, parlor, dining room, kitchen and two bedrooms. In some cases groups of tenants have solved the rent problem by forming co-operative companies and buying the apartment houses in which they live. The housing corporation, which has been financed by banks and business men, has under consideration a plan to build a row of model homes in Grant Park, on the lake front. Examples of many types of standardized homes would be erected, furnished and surrounded by settings of trees and shrubbery so that a prospective purchaser of a new home could look over the styles before placing his order.

Attempts have been made to check rent profiteering by co-operation of the city council and the Cook county real estate board which investigated complaints and, when increases were found to be excessive, advised the landlord to withdraw his demands. In general the investigators have allowed an increase of about 30 per cent. over last year's rentals.

A proposal was made to erect scores of portable houses but the carpenters' union declared its opposition to that plan even if the houses came from union factories.

The recent tornadoes which destroyed 100 houses and damaged 400 more in Chicago and its suburbs have augmented a housing shortage which had already become acute through suspension of building operations in the war and long-drawn builders' contracts.

BOSTON, April 23.—Massachusetts has not yet been able to make up for its shortage of homes and keep rents from sky-rocketing. A state commission on the necessities of life is struggling with the problem, but meanwhile tenants in this city and elsewhere have obtained little relief. Several tenant groups recently refused to pay advances in rent demanded of them and by joint action avoided eviction which would have been legal upon 30 days' notice.

Two hundred tenants at Revere have formed a corporation known as the Tenants' league to combat rent increases and have announced that they will tolerate no more advances in rent and requested aid from the city's local department. The issue there is still in doubt.

An attempt to solve the problem by arbitration has been made in Brockton, a shoe manufacturing center. A board composed of two tenants, two landlords and a fifth member to be selected by the others is to decide whether rents have been unduly advanced when disputes arise between landlords and tenants.

The commission on the necessities of life has investigated the housing and rent problems and has contributed a number of suggestions for their solution but as yet has made no formal report. It has urged the cities to form housing corporations and take over and improve abandoned tenements by workingmen who had moved to better ones. The commission found there were 2000 tenements which were unoccupied because the landlords would not remodel them so as to make them fit for occupancy.

At the suggestion of the commission a bill has been introduced into the legislature that would limit the return from investments in dwelling houses to eight percent. The purpose of it is to prevent speculation in homes. The commissioners found that many builders had stopped construction because of the high cost of labor and materials and had gone to speculating in real estate. The result was that frequent sales of property were followed by advances in rent. In many cases tenants were forced out of their homes so that the landlords might demand higher rates from new occupants. Massachusetts corporations have attempted to relieve the housing shortage by erecting community houses. Whole villages of attractive houses are being erected in New Bedford, Lawrence, Lowell and other mill cities, and will be rented or sold to employees on easy terms.

GIVE THE TELEPHONE AN ALCOHOL RUB

In the kitchen of her own home Sister Mary cooks daily for a family of four adults. She brought to her kitchen an understanding of the chemistry of cooking, gained from study of domestic science in a state university. Consequently the advice she offers is a happy combination of theory and practice. Every recipe she gives is her own, first tried out and served at her family table.

(Copyright, 1920, N.E.A.)

Every once in so often it's a good plan to give the telephone an alcohol rub.

Alcohol is one of the most powerful antiseptics and is used by surgeons when boiling-water-for-20-minutes is out of the question.

The mouthpiece needs special attention. Wring a cloth out of alcohol and wash the inside thoroughly. Do not wipe with a dry cloth but let the alcohol evaporate.

As telephone companies seem to object to the use of glass attachments one may humor the objection and keep the rubber mouthpiece perfectly sanitary by the simple expedient of using alcohol.

A state commission on the necessities of life is struggling with the problem, but meanwhile tenants in this city and elsewhere have obtained little relief. Several tenant groups recently refused to pay advances in rent demanded of them and by joint action avoided eviction which would have been legal upon 30 days' notice.

Two hundred tenants at Revere have formed a corporation known as the Tenants' league to combat rent increases and have announced that they will tolerate no more advances in rent and requested aid from the city's local department. The issue there is still in doubt.

An attempt to solve the problem by arbitration has been made in Brockton, a shoe manufacturing center. A board composed of two tenants, two landlords and a fifth member to be selected by the others is to decide whether rents have been unduly advanced when disputes arise between landlords and tenants.

The commission on the necessities of life has investigated the housing and rent problems and has contributed a number of suggestions for their solution but as yet has made no formal report. It has urged the cities to form housing corporations and take over and improve abandoned tenements by workingmen who had moved

NEEDN'T DON THE DENIM

Multi-Millionaire to Rescue to Beat the London Profiteer

BY MILTON BRONNER,
European Manager N.E.A.

LONDON, April 23.—H. Mallaby-Deeley, multi-millionaire and member of parliament, has opened successful warfare on profiteers in men's clothing, and is making friends and money by the project. His prices for made-to-order suits, of the best material, are 50 per cent less than the regular merchants have been charging.

Mallaby-Deeley is a great land-owner and lord of the manors of Ravensbury, Bigger and Tamworth. He once made a great purchase of London property and so captured the imagination of a novelist that he wrote a book about the man "who bought London."

Here is what Mallaby-Deeley says about his own enterprise in selling men's clothing: "Probably the greatest factor causing present unrest and great bitterness in Great Britain is the prohibitive price of necessities. If unchecked, the evil may shake our very constitution."

"I have secured the entire output of three large factories, which, during the war, were making khaki uniforms for the government. They have fine machinery and high-class cutters and workmen. The cloth is first-class tweed and worsteds for suits and overcoats.

"I am not claiming to be a philanthropist, nor to be giving charity. You don't kill profiteering that way. On the first 100,000 suits we sell, I make no profit, owing to the initial expenses of financing and advertising. After that I shall make a real profit."

He is selling men's suits as low as $14. The highest priced one is $25. There is no fitting. You are shown the samples of the goods, pick your kind, have your measurement taken, and out you go. Later the suit comes to you by parcel post. If the suit is not satisfactory, it is altered. The number sold so far has averaged over 5000 per week.

OPPOSE VOTE TO GERMAN SOLDIERS

BERLIN, April 22.—Proposals to alter the draft of the election law so as to confer votes on soldiers during their term of enlistment, were voted down in the national assembly today.

Warnings against permitting politics to "creep into the army" were uttered by Herr Gessler, minister of defense, and other speakers asserted that if the vote was given soldiers, the army might become a tool for overthrowing the government as it is in some South and Central American countries.

A bill providing the national president is to be chosen by the people and not parliament, was passed by the assembly during the day.

An appetizing dinner was served and during the post prandial exercises, which were presided over by Mr. Redway there were addresses by Archibald F. C. Musical numbers were given by an orchestra and by Messrs. Frank J. McCarthy, Edward Colby and Jacob Cantor.

BIG SHORTAGE OF FARM LABOR

WASHINGTON, April 23.—A shortage of farm labor which will be as acute as that of 1918, threatens to curtail food production on American farms, Secretary of Agriculture Meredith said today in an appeal to business men and college students to spend their vacations working on farms, particularly as helpers in harvest fields. The supply of farm labor is only 75 per cent of normal, carefully compiled reports to the department indicate, compared with 84 per cent last year. The fact that the present situation exists despite an increase of 15 to 25 per cent in wages paid farm hands, is regarded as highly important by Secretary Meredith. As a result more acreage will be put into grasses and other crops requiring but a minimum of labor.

Plans have just been completed to erect in Paris the greatest trade building in the world, to be known as the Marche du Monde (World's Market).

SALVATION ARMY DRIVE DISCUSSED

Plans for the coming Salvation Army drive—which will be held from May 10 to May 20 in an effort to raise $20,000 for a new headquarters building—were thoroughly discussed at a meeting of the executive committee in charge of the local campaign, held in the chamber of commerce rooms last evening. Chairman Dudley J. Page was unable to be present and the meeting was conducted by Hon. James B. Casey.

It was announced that the next meeting of the committee will be held next Thursday evening in the Com-

Says Every Railroad Man Should Read This

Peterson's Ointment Co., Inc., Buffalo, N. Y. Dear Sirs: I was afflicted with what the doctors said were Varicose Ulcers, and up until about five weeks ago I have been treating them for about a year and five months. With all the treatments that were prescribed to me by several doctors I received little benefit, and they kept spreading and gave me much distress and caused me to quit my work. I was induced by a brother brakeman to try Peterson's Ointment, and after I had used two boxes I saw wonderful results. You can tell suffering ones troubled with ugly, painful and horrid ulcers that your Ointment is a cure for them when everything else fails, as I have tried about everything. Thanking you many times over I am, your happy friend, Chas. J. Heyser, Battle Creek, Mich., 42 Glenwood Ave., January 12, 1918. "I know and dozens of people write me," says Peterson of Buffalo, "that Peterson's Ointment also cures eczema, oil sores, salt rheum, piles and all skin diseases, and all druggists sell a big box for 35 cents." ## LOCAL ELECTRICIANS RETURN TO WORK

The journeymen electricians of this city, who had been out on strike since last Tuesday, returned to their work this morning for a conference between the members of the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers and the master electricians, which was held last night in the office of L. A. Derby, president of the Master Electricians' association, an agreement satisfactory to all concerned was reached. The men had asked for a minimum wage of $1 an hour for journeymen and 62 cents an hour for helpers, and a compromise was reached by which the minimum wage for the journeymen will be 80 cents an hour. The helpers will be graded, the first year to be arranged with the contractor, the second year 40 cents, the third year, 60 cents and the fourth year, 64 cents. Present at the conference were Messrs. Derby, Kelly and Farvean, representing the master electricians and Messrs. Robertshaw and Breidenberg, representing the journeymen.

LITHUANIANS MET IN HAMILTON HALL

The need for Lithuanian relief was brought out forcefully by local and out-of-town speakers at a meeting of Lithuanians held last evening in Hamilton hall, Middlesex street. The meeting was the forerunner of several others and was called under the auspices of the Lithuanian Red Cross, a branch of which exists in this city.

The meeting was presided over by Rev. Stanislaw Kuczas, pastor of St. Joseph's church, this city and the other speakers were Rev. John Svajdas of Montello and Rev. V. Paskunas of Norwood. Little Veronica Daudzlowa, aged 3 years, made a hit when she advocated the purchase of Lithuanian bonds. In the course of the evening there was music by a Lithuanian choir.

The game of billiards was brought to America by the Spaniards, who settled St. Augustine, Fla., in 1565.

Does 3¢ = Americanism?

Did you know that 3c is MORE than the churches average from each member per day?

WE AMERICANS may be thoughtless. Sometimes we may appear selfish. But when a great need arises, no one can say that we have ever shirked.

Ask any son of France. Ask any soldier of Great Britain. Or ask any Armenian mother or a girl with a red cross on her sleeve or one with a tambourine in her hand.

And now the churches come to us for help—our churches. Not begging. Not asking alms. But with heads lifted high facing a task so worthy that we, as loyal Americans, ought to feel it a privilege to help.

Here is the Plain, Unvarnished Truth

We don't need to be told that the church is the heart of the Nation. We admit its influence for lasting good in our children. We see its stabilizing influence on our communities. We know a little of its great hospitals, its homes for children, its schools and colleges here and abroad.

But most of us do not realize how pitifully inadequate the support of the churches is when compared to the urgent needs.

Less than 3¢ a day!

In spite of the great tasks which we expect our churches to carry out, those of us who give to the church—and the number is all too few—are now giving an average of less than 3¢ a day for all church purposes.

Less than 3¢ a day.

Shall our churches go on? It is for you to say.

Without your help the work of your church must be just that much less.

A World Survey Was Made

Our churches know the needs that must be met. They know exactly how every dollar—every penny—will be used for the greatest good without waste.

A world survey was made by the churches that surrounds business men in its thoroughness. Country after country was studied; the countries of the world were visited and reported in minute detail.

How the Interchurch World Movement Originated

Our churches said: "The task of meeting the urgent needs shown by the world survey is too great for us to do individually as denominations. We must do this work together."

So thirty great denominations are cooperating—each keeping its own purpose and identity—but all working together under the name of the Interchurch World Movement.

Because of this cooperation, it is estimated that over one million dollars will be saved alone in eliminating waste and duplication.

An Important Letter

ELMIRA, N. Y. "Ever since I was a girl Doctor Pierce's medicines have been used by our family and all have proved very satisfactory. I always keep the 'Pleasant Pellets' in the house for use when needed. I have been subject to headaches and the 'Pleasant Pellets' seem to be the only medicine that gives me relief. Usually one is all that is required to rid me of these spells. Our whole family take the 'Pleasant Pellets'. They are especially good for indigestion or stomach trouble also for sluggish or inactive liver. They regulate one's whole system, and are very mild, never causing distress or pain. I also take Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription and I find it excellent as a woman's tonic and nerve builder. I can highly recommend all of Doctor Pierce's medicines."—Mrs. M. E. ## AMUSEMENT NOTES

By Theatres' Own Press Agents

THE STRAND

William Farnum in "Heart Strings," and Will Rogers in "Water, Water Everywhere," are the wags featured on The Strand program for the week-end. If you prefer the hotter climes of pictures then don't miss these. They are truly superior and must be seen to be fully enjoyed. The remainder of the program is rounded out with a good comedy and the Universal Week-ly which has another series of views taken from the German raider, "Moewe." It's the most thrilling of them all.

OPERA HOUSE

Miss Marguerite Fields and Miss Priscilla Knowles are seen in two charming roles in this week's presentation of Chauncey Olcott's delightful Irish drama, "The Irishman's Boy," which is being produced by the Lowell Players. Miss Fields is a charming young Irish lass and Miss Knowles portrays a lovable motherly character to perfection. Hooper L. Atchley is singing his way to success this week. Don't miss his vocal efforts. They are meritorious in any way. Next week "She Walked in Her Sleep."

R. V. KEITH'S THEATRE

Whether it be classic overture, jazz selection, patriotic number or double quartet, Ralph Dunbar's careful auditors that they excel all-around musicians. They are headlining a wonderfully good bill at the R. V. Keith theatre this week, and many encores for their work are heard. Different from others, and invariably pleasing, are Harry Adler and Rose Dunbar who give a quaint "Study From Life" in which everything from a buzz saw to a queen bee is touched upon. And Lew Hawkins, 35, olden time minstrel, proves that he is as modern as many another blackface comedian. Still another and act is the sketch, "Mary Lou," played by Nancy Boyer & Co. Other acts are those of Helena Vincent, Keno & Warner, and Bert & Florence Mayo.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

"The Valley of Tomorrow," the photoplay in which William Russell is featured at the Merrimack Square theatre today and tomorrow, is essentially a drama of outdoor life demanding a setting of rugged heights. The story begins with a forest-dad peak called Eden situated in the wonderful Lake Tahoe section of the Sierra Nevada and after thrilling chapters of romance, pathos, tragic struggle, laughter, love and heartache, brings the spectator into the serenity of the Valley of Tomorrow. Other features of the current program include "The Strongest," a vital drama from the pen of the noted Georges Clemenceau, the Burton Holmes travel pictures and a comedy.

THE OWL THEATRE

Big and enthusiastic audiences were the order of the day at yesterday's performances at the Owl theatre. The combination of vaudeville and pictures is surely proving a big success. All of the vaudeville acts on yesterday's bill were of the big time type. Mills and Brown, the personality pair, got many laughs, offering an unusually happy combination of singing and dancing. Keene and Foxworth have no superiors in eccentric acrobatic dancing and Miss Marie Hughes presents an exceptionally artistic character singing offering. Of unusual local interest Forest Stanley, the former leading man of the Thompson Flynn Stock Co. at Lowell Opera House in the spring of 1912 is supporting Miss Barriecale in her latest Robertson Cole special, "The Woman Who Understood." Being a Robertson Cole production, it goes without saying that in detail, in casting, lighting or photography nothing has been overlooked. Miss Barriecale has never had a better story, has never done better work and has three wonderful child actors in the cast. To miss this bill will be to regret it. Continuous performances are the rule, starting daily at 1 p. m. Night patrons arriving by 8 o'clock will see the entire show.

The Lotus Male quartet of Boston, aided by Miss Ethel Hinton, reader, gave a most enjoyable concert before a fair-sized audience in Colonial hall last evening. Miss Susan Ellis acted as accompanist.

That in Africa there is one missionary for 1,500,000 people? Not much opportunity to learn about God.

That in Assam with a population of 7,000,000 there is not a single hospital for women? What if your mother lived there?

That in Bengal only one per cent of the people can read? Not much outlook for progress.

The engineering society composed of under-graduates of the Lowell Textile school is instrumental from time to time in the school year in securing the services of men who are in industrial life and who are interested in the various phases of the textile industry.

The society is very fortunate in arranging for a lecture by Mr. G. E. Stickney, illuminating engineer at the Edison Lamp works of the General Electric Co. Mr. Stickney will give his lecture entitled "Incandescent Light as Applied to the Textile Industries" on Monday evening, April 26. This lecture will be illustrated by lantern slides and by samples of equipment which he will bring with him.

A national children's bureau has been established by the children's bureau of the United States department of labor.

Provincial committees will be established to decentralize the work of the bureau. All committees are to respect religious and philosophic convictions of the families to which the children belong.

Free Physical Care
The infant consultation centers will provide for a regular and free physical examination of all children under three years of age in families cared for by the centers; free medical consultation for expectant mothers; and educational work on the value of infant hygiene. The bureau will also supervise placed-out children under seven years of age.

The word anecdote is derived from three Greek words meaning "not given out." In other words, an anecdote meant something not to be told, instead of the opposite meaning now current.

IVORY ANIMAL HEADS
Animal heads carved in ivory or wood as umbrella handles, are the latest fashion fad from Paris. The ultra-fashionables are using portraits of their pets worked out in this manner.

Before his victory last fall Crawley had made a long and distinguished record as a marksman. In the same match he won a medal for high score in the slow fire event. He served in France, but because of his

The Whole Truth

Shall the immigrant who are to be admitted to the United States be only the half-truth about the United States? The whole truth, no matter how painful, answered H. J. Muller, and after a serious official row in which his seat was demanded for "criticizing the government," he was appointed executive officer of the California immigration commission. Read about him in the Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

Prince Henriard

Maybe a king can do no wrong, but during his visit to San Diego the Prince of Wales, youthful heir to Britain's throne, let his democratic spirit cause him to commit some breach of English formality, and was promptly called down by one of the personal staff that accompanied him. See the "cul-de-pot" picture in The Supplement. See the prince with his head bowed in humiliation while the reprimand is being handed out. Cupid, it is said, has now probably precluded any return of the prince to the United States.

Quarter Century Ago

"Old Times" tells of the collapse of "No. 5 mines" of the Lawrence hills, a quarter of a century ago, when it fell into the sea, leaving a ruin, as the result of the freshet. The business boom in the mills 25 years ago, when the operatives were receiving an average wage of a dollar per day and made a demand for the restoration of the cut-down of 1893. Also a number of weddings of Lowell people now observing their silver anniversaries.

Lady Lookabout

In addition to other topics of interest to women, this lady writer deals with the overall fad, the suffrage question, criticizes some prize meat menus as fitted only for dyspeptics or housekeepers who can give their entire time to the work of preparing dainties.

Washington Letter

Richards, the Sun correspondent, writes a breezy letter as usual on the recent events at the capital, the party bickerings in congress, the proposed "far eastern junket," and the doings of the convention of the D.A.R., before which Gen. Pershing and Secretary Meredith of the department of agriculture spoke. Also the antics of Congressman Upshaw, who wears overalls in the house and brandishes his crutches whenever he delivers an address. Record of Gen. Hulings, member of congress, who had seven sons in various branches of the service during the war.

Alaska's "Mother"

"Mother" Tiffany, for a decade all that the name implies to the lonely and homesick of Nome, Alaska, is "outside" for the first time in 21 years. She has spent that number of years in the gold fields, wielding a pick and shovel like a man, nursing back to health those who fell sick, making her claims, only to have them "jumped" again and again; befriending young and inexperienced—and at the end she came out victorious, winning the war she was an indefatigable worker for the Red Cross and other patriotic activities. In her work she gathered 1400 tons of clothing for Belgian relief.

Smallest Millionaire

"Girls, pick the little fellow!" So says the bride of P. W. Myer of Long Beach, Cal., "the smallest millionaire in the world." They have just returned from a three-month honeymoon tour of the Orient and she says it "was some honeymoon." Billy weighs just 71 pounds, and she says he is "all sugar." She certainly does love her Billy and she means to tell the whole world about it. See how cute they appear in their picture in the Sunday Supplement tomorrow.

Reed Rejected as Delegate

tion has struck," Frank Curlee of St. Louis said in opening the debate for the opposition.

He declared that "Senator Reed's political offenses ante-dated his opposition to the League of Nations covenant," and asserted that by his course in the senate during the war the senator "equivocated and condoned until he led the country to wonder whether Missouri was not more pro-German than pro-American."

Floyd Jacobs and Col. W. M. Harbor, both of Kansas City, made pleas that Reed be sent to the convention for the sake of party harmony.

The senator, Mr. Curlee said, condoned the sinking of the Lusitania by a German submarine and after the war broke out opposed measures designed to win the war.

"While I was in the United States army," he said, "Senator Reed was in Washington opposing the food control act upon which I depend for food."

Discussing Senator Reed's opposition to the league covenant he declared that "he had only hate for the president, hate for England; hate for humanity, hate for everyone, but the followers of his august personage."

"Today," he said in conclusion, "the despatches will carry to the far corners of the world the fact that Missouri is pure and patriotic and that her tyrant traducer has been de-throned."

"The most difficult problem the newly enfranchised democratic women voters have is explaining Senator Reed," declared Mrs. W. W. Martin of Cape Girardeau. "We can't explain how we can endorse the league and then send to the national convention a man who is opposed to it. The women do it think it logical. You ask us to help you keep Missouri in the democratic ranks this year. We can do it if you don't embarrass us with a handicap like Senator Reed."

Making the principal address in defense of the senator, Lee Merriwether of St. Louis said:

"We ought to thank God we have a man in Washington who can think for himself and not go to the White House every day to find out how he should stand. There was no Reed in the Roman senate to urge senators to think and so Rome lost its liberties."

OBJECTS TO EXPENSE

Home Rule Committee Opposes Chamber of Commerce Traffic Project

The street railway home rule committee went on record at its regular semi-monthly meeting held late yesterday afternoon in the mayor's reception room at city hall as being opposed to having the Lowell division of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. burdened by the expense entailed in carrying out the plan recommended by the streets committee of the chamber of commerce whereby French, Brookings and Paige streets would be utilized as traffic thoroughfares to relieve congestion in Merrimack square.

The committee included in its vote the fact that it was in no way prejudiced against the plan advocated by the chamber of commerce committee merely as a plan, but it felt in view of the present financial condition of the company and the absence of any indication of more business for it by the adoption of the project, that the matter should be held in abeyance or else financed from other sources.

This decision followed lengthy discussion of the project and explanation of the company's position in the matter by Thomas Lees, manager of the Lowell division. It would cost nearly $10,000 merely to lay rails in accordance with the details of the plan, he said.

Otherwise, yesterday's meeting was more or less routine in nature. It was called at 4:20 by Chairman John J. O'Rourke. Messrs. Campbell, Carney and Ricard were absent.

Mrs. Burke said that she had received complaints from Chelmsford people on the lack of judgment of some of the conductors on that line in the matter of holding their cars at the top of the stairs leading to the Boston & Maine railroad station until people have a chance to get up from incoming trains. In some instances, he said, Chelmsford-bound cars will reach the station just as a train is unloading its passengers, many of whom want to go to Chelmsford and instead of holding the car a little while, the conductor gives the signal to go ahead and the would-be passengers are compelled to wait for the next car.

Manager Lees said that the company frequently received complaints of that nature, but special cases were rarely brought to the office. The attention of conductors on the Westford street and Chelmsford Central lines is called to this matter frequently, he said.

Mr. Sullivan told about a lame man who boarded a Gorham street outward-bound car recently. It was crowded to the doors and he was forced to stand in the front vestibule. His wish to get off at Davis square, but when the car got there it was so crowded that he could not make his way to the rear he suggested to the motorman that the front door be opened so that he could go around to the rear and have the conductor punch the fare. The motorman refused and the passenger was forced to ride to Moore street before he could get off.

Manager Lees said that it would be difficult to frame a general rule allowing passengers to do as the lame man wished because people might take advantage of it and not pay their fare. However, he said, motormen and conductors were supposed to use their judgment in such a case as Mr. Sullivan cited.

Chairman O'Rourke spoke about the location of a pole in Broadway near Suffolk street. Its present location is beyond a curve and has been found inconvenient by many passengers. Mr. Lees said he would look into the matter.

Manager Lees then cited figures of interest regarding the road's financial condition. For the first three months of 1920, he said, the road had a deficit of about $57,000 as far as paying interest on the investment was concerned. The expense of snow removal for those three months was $32,313.35. That does not represent the entire expense caused by snow, he said, as it embraces only the cost of labor. Much of the company's equipment was damaged and will have to be repaired. It will be the middle of the summer before the company will have fully recovered from its losses from snow during the past winter, he asserted.

Chairman O'Rourke then brought up the proposition of the streets committee of the chamber of commerce whereby a loop track would be established in French, Brookings and Paige streets to divert some of the company's traffic from Merrimack square.

Manager Lees said he had consulted his engineers and found that the project would cost $9500 for trackage alone.

Mr. O'Rourke said that he believed many people were in favor of the idea of one central square or transfer point. Mr. Sullivan said he understood employees of the local division were about to ask for an increase in wages. Mr. Lees said that they were.

"Well, I don't see how we can lower fares or extend zone fares if we have many additional expenses," Mr. Sullivan commented.

Mrs. Burke said that she did not see where the plan advocated would relieve congestion tremendously. She suggested that cars continue to come through the square, but that various lines have various places for getting on and off. People coming from Belvidere might get off at Fairburn's market, she said, and those going to Belvidere get on at the railroad tracks.

Manager Lees said he believed the committee should express itself formally on the chamber of commerce matter.

Secretary Curtin moved that the committee go on record as being opposed to the plan, but Mrs. Burke suggested that it was not the plan so much as the expense that was objectionable.

Mr. Durfee amended Mr. Curtin's motion by moving that it be the sense of the committee that it does not approve the railway company being burdened with the expense embraced in the plan advocated by the chamber of commerce streets committee but that its action was in no way prejudicial as to the merits of the plan itself. It was so voted.

MONUMENT TO EDITH CAVELL

LONDON, April 23.—A monument to Edith Cavell, the British nurse who was shot by the Germans at Brussels, has been erected in Charing Cross road, just off Trafalgar square and almost under the shadow of the Nelson monument.

The unveiling ceremony was conducted before a huge crowd by the Queen mother, Alexandra, being the first act of state she has performed in London since the death of her husband, King Edward VII.

The monument is of grey granite and stands 40 feet high. On the four panels are the words: Humanity, Sacrifice, Devotion and Fortitude. On the back is the British lion trampling on a serpent, and above it are the words: "Faithful Unto Death."

The statue, of white marble, shows Nurse Cavell standing erect in her nurse's uniform. On the base is the inscription:

WILL NOT PARADE ON LABOR DAY

The local barbers are not in favor of parading on Labor day this year. Their sentiments in this direction were manifested at a recent meeting when they voted that it would be "inexpedient" to parade this year. The vote was taken in compliance with a request of the Trades and Labor council that the body go on record either for or against a parade on Labor day. Other labor organizations of the city have also been asked to take formal action on the matter so that a consensus of opinion may be obtained.

past three months. No one took seriously the prediction that the verdict would be reached last evening. But after the court had disposed of the high treason charge and that of "intelligence with the enemy," and had declared its own sovereignty in less than four hours, word was passed that a decision was impending and Luxembourg gardens were filled to overflowing in the neighborhood of the palace by dense crowds and police reserves had to be called out.

The ballots followed one another rapidly. The partisans of the former premier were thrilled with joy and hope when the treason charge was so promptly eliminated and confidently predicted acquittal and began to apportion among themselves the portfolios in the cabinet which Caillaux was expected to form within six months after his release.

When they attempted to have the senate refrain from establishing itself as the highest constitutional authority, with power to find the accused not guilty as charged, but guilty of a lesser offense, their enthusiasm waned.

The doors of the deliberation chamber were closed—almost hermetically sealed. Two ushers stood by each door for the purpose apparently of warding off inquisitive newspapermen. But occasionally a dishevelled, perspiring senator would rush out of the chamber and make a direct line for the senate bar, where he was immediately surrounded by correspondents offering to purchase for him the best vignettes in France if only he would talk.

The verdict may mean a sentence of five years' banishment for Caillaux, which may, however, be diminished to one year, according as extenuating circumstances are found. Incarceration in a fortress is another sentence which may be pronounced when the high court reconvenes. It was the consensus of opinion that the sentence would be light and that the 12 months which Caillaux has spent in jail and a sanatorium would be taken into consideration.

The former premier's attorneys were disconsolate over the verdict and rushed in an automobile to the Neuilly sanatorium to inform M. Caillaux of the verdict. The defendant had remained in the sanatorium throughout the day's sitting. Before he started away, however, M. Moutet said to the Associated Press:

"M. Caillaux was convicted not for what he has done, but for what he might do were he allowed to go free." It seems probable that Caillaux will be condemned to pay the costs of the trial, amounting to more than $500,000 francs. Among these is a bill for investigations in the United States which is one of the prominent items.

SUNDAY SPORTS

At Commons, Shedd Park and Lincoln School

Sunday sports which become effective in Lowell next Sunday will be permitted on the North and South commons, Shedd park and Lincoln school playground, the park commission voted at a meeting held late yesterday afternoon. The use of these playgrounds for sports on Sunday will be lawful only after a permit has been obtained from the superintendent of the park department. The same general regulations which have hitherto governed sports on Saturdays and holidays will cover Sunday sports.

An interesting feature of yesterday's meeting was the acceptance by the park commission of the quill pen with which Governor Coolidge signed the Sunday sports bill. The governor had given it to Representative Thomas J. Corbett of this city who in turn gave it to the park commission as a memento of its efforts to have Sunday sports made legal.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson conferred with the commission relative to the development of the Pawtucketville river bank and the First street oval. The financial condition of the city must be considered in both cases, he said, although he felt both projects should be considered favorably. In regard to the First street plan, he said he thought the city should acquire the oval provided the new highway is located on the river edge. On the other hand, if the new highway is to cut the oval in halves, he would be opposed to the city acquiring the land.

The Square is Overcrowded

ice team stationary within these limits. Undoubtedly they all were within their rights, but the situation was there, just the same, making it practically impossible for any traffic to move through the square. Within five minutes after that blockade had been removed, there were again five electric cars, three automobiles on the east side of the square and one loaded truck passing through on the west side, thus again making the square almost wholly occupied from Prescott to Central streets.

"I cite these two situations as fair examples upon a rainy morning, when traffic perhaps is not so heavy as in fair weather at the same hour. They came to my attention and each, for the time being, constituted a virtual blockade.

"Years ago," continued President Goodell, "when the old horse cars were in operation, they occupied exactly the same amount of space as is being used at the present time. This space never has been increased, although it is obvious to the most casual observer, that with a great increase of population and electric cars necessary to serve public needs and increased vehicular traffic, this congestion must continually grow as it has done. While today the situation is almost intolerable, unless some relief is afforded, this congestion is sure to be increasingly a public menace.

Necessary passing from curb to curb is a hazardous operation through such closely congested traffic, as is evidenced by the accident early this week, in which a woman was struck by a motorcycle. Serious accidents have been few, to be sure, but they are barely averted almost hourly. "The plan offered by the chamber of commerce to use French and Brookline streets as a loop for Centralville, Lakeview avenue and Lawrence line cars seemed to us like a practical one to effect a partial relief of conditions, at least. The only argument offered against it, as far as I can learn, is one of cost, with an immediate guarantee of increased revenue from fares. This argument, carried to its logical conclusion, would seem to forever prohibit any relief from the present condition.

"When the chamber put forward this plan, there was no disposition on the part of anyone in the city to inflict any undue hardship upon the street railway company, but the members of the chamber who have had the matter under consideration stand firmly to the position that the relief of this congestion is a serious proposition and that no effort along lines to accomplish it should be lightly discarded. These men firmly believe that the convenience and public safety of the great majority of our citizens is of paramount importance in this issue."

Caillaux, while escaping conviction for high treason, was found to have been recklessly imprudent and very close to treasonably ambitious, for such is the interpretation of the verdict of "guilty of commerce and correspondence with the enemy" which was rendered yesterday against him by the French senate.

This is the first verdict of the sort rendered in any of the allied countries since the war began, "commerce," as interpreted by the senators, who were the judges, not meaning financial trading, but commerce by means of common ideas, while "correspondence" in this particular case is employed in the sense of association.

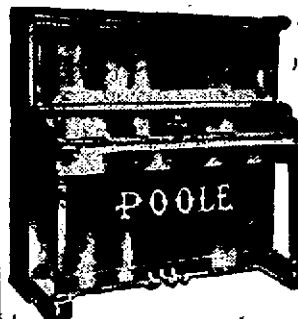

The senators entered Luxembourg palace yesterday afternoon determined to have finished with the affair, which has taken up their time during the

THE OVERALL CRAZE

Already a howl is raised against the overall craze as a protest against the high cost of clothing. It is alleged that the overall clubs will benefit principally the cotton growers of the south who at their recent session at Montgomery, Ala., passed a resolution to hold their cotton at a price of a price of sixty cents a pound.

This overall movement is said to come from the south and in proof of this it may be mentioned that a southern congressman was the first to enter the house of representatives in a suit of denim, while his wife appeared at the Waldorf Astoria in New York, also clad in cotton fabrics made in the south. The people who have taken up this overall craze may not realize the extent to which they will advance the price of all cotton goods and thereby aid the cotton planters of the south, the cotton growers who are in a combine to push up the price of their staple. Not only will the price of overalls go up, but that of shirts and other cotton garments already too high. It is very evident that the continuance of this overall club business must fail in its object and not only that, it will throw out of work hundreds of thousands employed in the clothing trades in the eastern states, demoralize the dry goods business of the retailers, while not affecting the wholesalers who have their contracts made many months in advance.

What then is the remedy for the present state of affairs? Why has the price of clothing advanced 355 per cent over the average of 1913, and 64 per cent during the past year? There can be no justification for such prices. They are the result of profiteering, pure and simple and something should be done by the government which has the power to deal with the offenders. Congress and the administration at Washington are responsible for having failed to bring the country to a peace basis as soon as possible. The department of justice might do more than it has done; but with the attorney general engaged in promoting his candidacy for the presidency, he cannot be expected to do much in fighting the profiteers. Mr. Palmer should either resign his office or cease to be a candidate. He cannot perform his full duty in fighting the profiteers while conducting a political campaign for the highest office in the gift of the people.

If the attorney general wants to advance himself in the good opinion of the people throughout the United States, he will let his candidacy take care of itself and devote all his time to the profiteering sharks who are imposing upon the people. In saying this we do not mean to imply that any class of dealers is responsible for the high level of prices; but that in every branch of trade there are certain unscrupulous men who will extort unreasonable prices from the people unless they are held in check by the strict enforcement of law.

So far as the overall movement represents thrift and simplicity in dress, it deserves encouragement but as to its being a remedy for the high price of clothing, we fail to see its efficacy and with a great jump in the price of overalls even at this early stage in the campaign, the final result may well be imagined.

MENACE OF THE REDS

Most people will agree with the attitude of District Attorney Tufts toward the "Menace of the Reds," the subject which he discussed before the Rotary club in this city. Mr. Tufts believes in a firm policy towards every form of lawlessness, included in the various organizations designated in a general way as "radicals." By this is meant the agitators who are openly advocating the overthrow of the government of the United States. He would support the Department of Justice in its efforts to drive the worst of these offenders out of the country. He thinks the federal authorities have not been sufficiently active in the enforcement of the law against the Reds. It is rather remarkable, however, that in many quarters the government is criticized for deporting the radicals. Even Bishop Lawrence of the Episcopal church takes this stand in connection with various other clergymen, holding that these people are not the dangerous characters they are represented to be and that by proper treatment they can be made peaceful and law-abiding citizens. Such critics defend the radicals on the ground that all classes should enjoy absolute freedom of speech. This freedom had been in force without restriction before the war and it gave us such professional agitators and anarchists as Emma Goldman, Mr. Berkman and various others. It seems absurd to allow professional agitators to go about the country inciting ignorant foreigners to rise in revolt against our government.

That is practically what the L. W. W. leaders have been doing for some years past and they are advocating the same principles today under various disguises. They have tried to cover in the ranks of labor unions, from which they claim they can bore from the inside. We believe the government must adopt a stern policy towards such professional enemies and wherever they are found, if the evidence against them be sufficient to secure conviction, they should be deported. There are, however, native anarchists whom we have no right to deport. They are more dangerous than the foreigners and many of them are highly educated men, who hold high positions.

PRESIDENTIAL PRIMARIES

On next Tuesday will be held in this state the presidential primaries for the choice of delegates to the national conventions of the two great political parties. It is remarkable that on the democratic side there is practically no drive for any particular candidate. The manner in which affairs have been conducted at Washington has given the democratic party no opportunity to secure the crystallization of sentiment in favor of any candidate.

The candidates whose names are announced on the democratic side are: Newton D. Baker, William J. Bryan, Champ Clark, James M. Cox, Josephus Daniels, Edward I. Edwards, James W. Gerard, G. M. Hitchcock, T. R. Marshall, William G. McAdoo, A. M. Palmer, William C. Redfield, Woodrow Wilson.

The republican candidates thus far are: Nicholas M. Butler, Arthur Capper, Calvin Coolidge, Albert B. Cummings, James P. Goodrich, Warren G. Harding, Charles E. Hughes, Herbert Hoover, Hiram W. Johnson, Frank O. Lowden, John J. Pershing, Miles Poindexter, William H. Taft, Leonard Wood.

Strange as it may appear, there is not much of the favorite son talk among the republicans in favor of Governor Coolidge. Frank E. Dunbar and Gardner W. Pearson are candidates for election as delegates to the republican convention and the latter is outspoken in favor of General Wood. Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan and Lawyer Joseph P. Donahue are the delegate candidates on the democratic side and, as on the republican, there is no opposition.

Thus far nobody seems to know just what will be the main issue between the parties and on neither side is there any preponderance of sentiment in favor of any particular candidate. Hiram W. Johnson seems to be the leading American candidate on the republican side and Hoover, who spent 23 years of his adult life in London, as a manipulator of mining properties, is a sort of international figure much in favor by England and other European nations.

AERIAL SUPREMACY

During the war the American government (you) spent one billion dollars on airplanes and aviators. The great American stride forward in aviation was taken then. Shall this country now stop backward?

European nations are not going back to their pre-war aviation standards. They are going ahead. Millionaire American newspaper man, in London, writes:

"All over Europe the wide-awake nations are pushing to the utmost the matter of civil aviation."

Great Britain, France, and even Germany, are forging forward, carrying mails via the air, passengers, freight. They are using the aerial equipments of war, with their war-trained aviators, to build up large peacetime aerial programs. They realize the future is in the air, and that years hence the question will not be: Who is supreme on land or sea? They are wide-awake to possibilities—commercial and military—of the air. And the question will be: Who is supreme in the air?

What is the United States doing? Nothing!

Harry B. Hunt, Washington correspondent, writes:

"Indications are that congress will not only fail to enact legislation to develop national strength in the air in any effective way, either military or commercial, but will permit the disintegration of the service to such an extent as to wipe out the greater part of the advantages purchased by the billion dollars already spent."

That may be the way congress feels about the matter. But it is not, this newspaper believes, the way the people of this country feel about it. They are not content to be last, nor even second, in the aerial race. They hope to be first in the air!

A noteworthy ambition. Not impossible of achievement. But to attain it there is need for early, consistent, determined effort. Congress must lead the way.—N. E. A.

MUNICIPAL DANCING

Assuredly a municipal dancing pavilion would be useful in many ways. It would offer a suitable place in which to hold municipal dances which never can be successful on the green sod, despite the poetical allusions to the "village green." The pavilion would also serve as a shelter for women and children caught by sudden showers on the common. But not the least important use of such a structure, would be its convenience for various forms of organized play, which we understand is to be taken up this year with increased enthusiasm in view of its value from an educational and Americanization standpoint. Dance halls conducted under municipal authority are preferable to those directed by private parties whose sole object is to make money, regardless of the moral tone that should be maintained in all such places of amusement.

RAILROAD WAGES

Although the railroad men who some months ago were promised an early settlement of the wage question, expected that it would be forthcoming before May 1, there is now a proposition that the roads shall furnish data for the Railroad Labor board as a basis of settlement of all pending claims. Certain classes of railroad men have been fed on promises so long that their patience must be well nigh exhausted. Any further postponement, it seems, is liable to bring fresh interruption of the service at the busiest season of the year. The railroad men naturally protest that this new scheme would put the settlement off at least three months longer, which is very probably true. The government, it seems, is to blame for leaving such legacies of trouble to the railroad companies when the roads were transferred to private ownership.

MEXICAN REVOLT

It is difficult to judge of conditions in Mexico at the present time. The one thing certain seems to be, that several states have decided to follow certain leaders in rebellion against the Carranza government. Sonora was the first to raise the standard of rebellion and declare an independent republic. Now, however, it seems that if the rebels can defeat Carranza and choose his successor, they will probably be satisfied to drop the idea of independent states. Mexico, it seems, is destined to go through another bloody revolution. She will never have peace until some strong man arises to follow the rigorous methods of former President Diaz in quelling the disturbing elements.

The presidential election is due in July and the present troubles are what we might call part of the preliminary campaign.

According to the returns from Nebraska, it seems that General Pershing has been eliminated from the presidential contest in his own state. Running away behind ex-Senator Johnson and General Wood, he seems not to have been taken seriously. That is a rather surprising situation, considering the fact that Pershing is the war general who conducted the fighting while General Wood who leads him filled a minor place at home. But Wood is a politician and Pershing is merely a soldier.

The Other Tooth

The physician deals largely with misery, but, just the same, humor comes into his life at times. For instance, a colored woman came to a physician in a little western town and complained that two of her teeth were aching. "I am no dentist," he said, "but I think I can pull them for you. I guess I'll have to, as long as there is no dentist here."

So he did pull one. He did not have the proper instrument or the proper experience. It was a long and painful operation. Finally, though, the tooth came out.

"Now," he said, "wiping his brow, 'we'll go after the other one.'"

"No, indeed, Mistah Doctor Man," said the woman, "You've done scared that other tooth so bad now dat it'll nevah ache no more."

Dad Knows

How often have you heard a young fellow remark that "Dad always seems to know what's best in the business world for me. I go in his tips often—times—even against my own hunches—and they usually pan out pretty good."

What's the answer? Maybe it's simply this:

A dad is likely to know his own son from the point of what the boy will best fit in—he should know his son's ways and habits and general make-up. Consequently a dad is likely to advise from that standpoint.

The son has little youthful desires—maybe he likes a certain city; maybe he knows the bunch in a certain business establishment; maybe he wants to be located near her.

And he's likely—in youth days—to let that influence him.

Dad would have you where he thinks you ought to be. You may pick the place where you think you'd like to be.

Such Is Life

Oh the world's hard knocks are as sharp edged rocks.

On the highway to Success, And the brilliant height that I hold in sight is a long way off, I guess.

There are chasms vast that are yet unpassed, And gaps that are still unspanned, While a dingy room, with its close drawn gloom,

Is my hall of fame, at hand, And the plaster falls from the crackling walls.

But instead of lathe, I see Through the openings there, in the distance fair, A summit that beckons me, And each barren space holds the kindly face.

Of one of the friends I've known, They are at my side when my feet would slide.

"They urge me to make my own, That tower of hope on the glistening slope."

MAN ABOUT TOWN

One of the causes of Bolshevism is untidy streets, according to a pamphlet which Commissioner Dennis A. Murphy has received in connection with the present "Clean-up week" in this city. The author of the pamphlet says that much of the unrest current in the country at the present time can be traced to people who were brought up in unclean streets. He says in part: "Let us start a campaign for clean streets in our own cities and at the same time not confine this cleaning to our principal streets, show-places or high class residential sections. Let us take the cleaning department over to the workingmen's section and over to the poorer quarters for they have just as much right to clean streets as the up-town citizen has. Give them a chance at cleaner conditions and gradually they will become mentally clearer and we shall consequently have loyal citizens in our midst, who will repel the agitator and cast him forth as a menace to their peace and comfort."

HISTORICAL PAGEANT COMMITTEE MEETS

The executive committee in charge of the historical pageant to be given on the South common on June 5 under Community Service auspices met late yesterday afternoon, with Mrs. Julian B. Keyes, chairman, presiding. Good progress on formation of special committees has been made and it was reported that Mayor Thompson has promised to furnish a band for the pageant. Albert Edmund Brown will be in charge of the music committee.

The pageant has been divided into five episodes, and a prologue. The prologue will be taken over by the State Normal school, but the episodes have not been definitely assigned as yet. The executive committee is indebted to Mrs. Sara Swan Griffin, Frederick W. Cushman and Miss Mabel Hill for historical data, which, in turn, have been compiled by Miss Katherine Bailey of the Girls' Community Service club staff.

The five episodes will be headed as follows:

1. Indian days.
2. Colonial and Revolutionary days.
3. Lowell developing.
4. Civil war era.
5. Lowell today.

"Death Valley," between Panamint and Funeral mountains, in California, is the driest and hottest place in the United States.

LECTURED ON SCHOOL GARDENS

A very interesting lecture upon "School Supervised Gardening" was given at the Normal school yesterday by Miss Mabel E. Turner, garden supervisor at Malden. Her talk was illustrated by picture slides showing the progress of gardening in connection with the various schools in the state. The lecture was greatly appreciated by all members of the Normal school class.

The regular social of the school will be held at the school this evening under the direction of the School and Society League, and immediate supervision of Miss Emma Paresky. There will be many guests present.

LOWELL SCHOOL OF RELIGIOUS EDUCATION

With simple but impressive exercises the Lowell School of Religious Education graduated its second class of nine members at the First Congregational church last evening. The following graduates were presented diplomas by Rev. Appleton Grannis, rector of St. Anne's church: Miss Lilian Pearl Anderson, Mrs. Arthur Stanley Boule, Mrs. D. Gertrude Carmichael, Miss Ida J. Clark, Arthur Lundwell, Miss Viva A. Palmer, Miss Esther A. Sanders, Mrs. Frank M. Sweet and Thomas R. Williams.

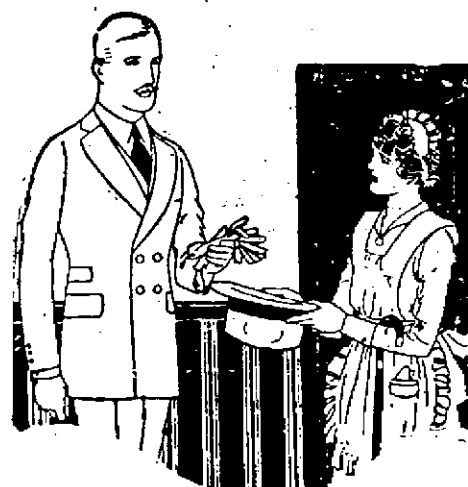

Dr. Arthur B. Bennett, dean of the department of religious education of Boston University, was the principal speaker. He stressed the need of religious education in the home and said that it is the duty of the church to provide social opportunities for young people. He also referred to the inter-church, world movement and urged his hearers to aid in the work of spreading the gospel. Rev. T. A. Williams, director of the school, was in charge of the program.

The use of the word "lynching" to represent the action of mobs has become common since a Virginia farmer by that name instituted the first vigilance committee in America.

HABEAS CORPUS WRITS FOR 13 "RADICALS"

BOSTON, April 23.—Writs of habeas corpus were granted by the United States district court yesterday to 13 alien radicals who have been ordered deported as undesirable. This action was taken by Judge George W. Anderson after he had declared that the arrest of radicals and their detention without warrants for two weeks was a lawless proceeding, and that the round-up of radicals by department of justice and immigration agents "seems to have been carried out on the theory of hang first and try afterward."

The writs were made returnable next Saturday at which time, the court announced, half of the 13 persons involved will be released from custody now $10,000 in some cases to $500 each. Judge Anderson explained that it would probably be six weeks before he would be able to return a decision on the petitions to prevent deportation, and probably six months before final action could be taken on an appeal.

William Collier of Wellesley, who, with his wife, Mrs. Amy Collier, is the principal figure in the group awaiting deportation, announced that he did not wish his freedom on bail. Collier and his wife now are at liberty under $10,000 bonds. He told the court he preferred to return to the barracks at Deer Island where the radicals have been held because "the United States having taken such means of livelihood, it does not seem too much to ask that it pay our board for a while." Collier said he and his wife had $1200 between them.

The court's expression of opinion regarding the procedure of federal agents in effecting the round-up of last January came during the testimony of Ivan Hrynchuk, who was arrested at a communist meeting here. It developed that although Hrynchuk was arrested on Jan. 2, the warrant for his detention was issued by telegraph on Jan. 15.

When Judge Anderson remarked that the case appeared to have been conducted on the theory of "hang first and try afterward," Assistant United States Attorney Louis Goldberg asserted that proceedings in the form followed by the federal agents were sanctioned by the supreme court in cases involving the immigration laws. "I am familiar with these cases," replied Judge Anderson. "I wish you would show me one case in which the department of justice has the authority to arrest persons and hold them for two weeks without warrants. A more lawless proceeding is hard to conceive. Talk about Americanization—what we need is Americanization of those who carry on such proceedings. I can hardly sit on the bench as an American citizen and restrain my indignation. I wish with horror such proceedings as this."

Robert M. Valkenburgh, an agent of the department of justice, who testified that he had detained persons without having a warrant, was asked by the court if that was his notion of liberty under the law. Attorney Goldberg interjected that the agent was acting under orders from Washington, to which Judge Anderson replied, "Any citizen with a knowledge of American law should resign when given such instructions."

MINSTREL SHOW

And Dance by the Crescent Hill Association

The first annual minstrel show and dance of the Crescent Hill Association held last night in Associate hall, was so successful that that organization must now be considered one of the foremost of local amateur entertainers. The hall was filled to capacity last evening and the financial returns were more than gratifying to the members.

The minstrel show was a top-notch. Charles D. Slattery was the director. Joseph Perry the interlocutor and Leo Bettencourt, the musical supervisor. Since encores were demanded of each entertainer, special mention of any particular one is needless.

The program was as follows:

Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises

TELLS SAFE, SIMPLE WAY TO TREAT AND RELIEVE AT HOME

If you have catarrh, catarrhal deafness or head noises caused by catarrh, or if phlegm drops in your throat and has caused catarrh of the stomach or bowels you will be glad to know that these distressing symptoms may be entirely overcome in many instances by the following treatment which you can easily prepare in your own home at little cost. Secure from your druggist 1 ounce of Parmit (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it 1 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar; stir until dissolved. Take one tablespoonful four times a day. An improvement is sometimes noted after the first day's treatment. Breathing should become easy, while the distressing head noises, headaches, dullness, cloudy thinking, etc., should gradually disappear under the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell, taste, defective hearing and mucus dropping in the back of the throat are other symptoms which suggest the presence of catarrh and which may often be overcome by this efficacious treatment. It is said that nearly ninety per cent. of ear troubles are caused by catarrh and there must, therefore, be many people whose hearing may be restored by this simple, harmless, home treatment. Adv.

COLLEGE SCHOLARSHIP FOR ESSAY AWARD

WASHINGTON, April 23.—High school pupils of the country are to be given an opportunity to compete for a four years' university scholarship to be awarded for the best essay submitted in connection with ship by truck—Good Roads week, May 17-22, according to an announcement made today, which said that the essays will be read and the prizes awarded by judges to be appointed by the federal bureau of education.

The contest, it is said, is for the purpose of focusing public attention on the necessity for good roads and the feasibility of the motor truck as a short haul medium.

According to plans approved by Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton, contestants, to be eligible to compete for the national prize, first must have won one of the prizes to be awarded by various organizations and individuals in their respective communities. The national prize is to be known as the H. S. Firestone university scholarship, and will be given in any college or university chosen by the winner. All high school pupils may submit a 500-word essay, which must be entitled, "Ship by Truck and Good Roads," but if the national prize is won by any pupil other than a senior, the award will be deferred until the winner is ready to matriculate at the institution of his choice.

Judges who will make the national award will be named by Commissioner Claxton before May 22, by which time all essays must be submitted. School superintendents and principals of high schools are being acquainted this week with the terms of the contest and, it is expected, more than one million essays will be written upon this subject, serving to accentuate the interest and to widen the scope of discussion to be created by Ship by Truck—Good Roads week, during which time caravans of motor trucks will tour every section of the country.

Organizations whose members are lending the weight of their influence and activities toward making this week a success, include the American Automobile association, the United States chamber of commerce, the American automobile chamber of commerce, the national grange, the ship by truck bureau, the army, the navy, and churches and schools generally.

State superintendents of instruction are being requested to direct their contents within their commonwealth. Prizes are to be awarded in each community and will be determined by local committees.

Announcement of other national prizes to be awarded by organizations which are lending their support to the program for the week is expected to be made soon. H. S. Firestone, donor of the scholarship, is originator and sponsor of the ship by truck movement.

GIBBS AND CURRY DRAW
MANCHESTER, N. H., April 22.—Sailor Joe Gibbs of Boston and Joe Curry of New Haven fought 12 rounds to a draw here last night. Joe Mor-kan of Manchester defeated Kid Lee of Chelsea in 10 rounds and Kewpie Roy of Manchester stopped Young Dundee of Laconia in two.

HOCKEY TOURNAMENT
ANTWERP, April 22.—The United States hockey team will play Switzerland in the opening round of the Olympic games hockey tournament here on Saturday afternoon, according to the draw made for the seven contesting nations last night. Unless there is an unexpected upset, it is the consensus of opinion among hockey experts that the United States team will face the Canadian Falcons of Winnipeg in the championship match Monday night.

When Shoes From the Sea Rival Shoes From
The Cattle Ranch, Will Prices Drop?

NEW YORK, April 21.—"Shoe leather is going up!" "Price of shoes to drop!" "Shoe price may become prohibitive!" What is she to think—millions of fashion, housewife, business woman, or school girl? Amid conflicting predictions she has not an idea of what will really happen. Not one, except that, come what may, she must wear shoes.

Leather From Fish Skin

But one man has a very definite idea of one thing which will happen in the shoe industry. That man is Alfred Ehrenreich, president of the Ocean Leather company, and more—inventor of the process by which leather is being made out of fish skin!

Mr. Ehrenreich proposes to make leather out of the skins of such sea creatures as sharks, dogfish and porpoises. He first had the idea 14 years ago.

Years of Experiments

In his time he had been a great fisherman, and he conceived the idea that a valuable source of leather was not being utilized. He set to work and many times saw his experiments fail. But one day he drew out of the tanning vat a perfect sheet of leather, a shark skin, covering an area of almost a hundred square feet.

Today the daily haul of fish for

Mr. Ehrenreich's plant is likely to be anywhere from 1000 to 10,000 fish. This fact, he believes, points to a future when everyone will be using shark skin in some form, inevitably helping to reduce the high cost of shoes and other leather goods.

Cheap and Durable

It is said that sea leather is more durable, cheaper and takes color and finish better than steer or cowhide. It is also amenable to splitting and to thinning by friction. Sea leather tans in from one to two weeks; leather of land animals takes from one to two years. The cost of producing the sea leather is almost nothing, and the supply practically unlimited.

As yet it has not proved profitable to use the skins of scale fish. The removal of the scales leaves minute holes and shows scars, just as a picked bird shows a scar for every plucked feather. Leather made from scale fish is, however, very decorative for toilet articles, for where the scales have been there remains a pattern.

Upholstery, cardcases, boots, gloves, whips, book bindings—these are only a few of the ways in which the new leather can be employed.

Riotous Scenes at Indianapolis

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., April 23.—Indianapolis was quiet today, following riotous scenes last night when the police dispersed a mob of more than 1200 persons intent upon lynching William Ray, colored, who is alleged to have confessed to the murder of Martha Huff, a young white girl. One person was wounded in an exchange of shots in the vicinity of the Marion county jail, where Ray is confined, and the police made 15 arrests. The entire city police force was held in readiness today in anticipation of possible further demonstrations.

LOWELL MOOSE TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY

The ninth anniversary of Lowell Lodge, No. 618, Loyal Order of Moose, will be held in Associate hall on Tuesday evening, May 11th. The evening's entertainment will be split up into a concert from 8 o'clock to 9, and dancing from 9 o'clock to 12. Last year the annual celebration was a great success, the concert being provided by the best of local talent and this year an equally pleasing program is planned. Soloists who have made hits with Lowell audiences at every appearance in the past will take part and repeat their many successes as well as surprise the audience with new selections specially chosen for the occasion. An extensive dance order is being planned and the music will be furnished by one of the foremost orchestras in the city. This affair will be entirely complimentary and any of the 700 members of the Lowell Lodge of Moose has tickets.

Mr. Ernest A. Parsons, present dictator of the local fraternity, states that the organization in this city has shown a remarkable growth within the past few months. At the last two meetings a total of 75 applications for membership were considered.

NEW TAXATION PLAN IN CANADA

OTTAWA, April 23.—A new plan of taxation by which the Dominion government would become a partner in business concerns instead of taking money from them in the form of excess profits taxes, was proposed today by H. H. Stevens, unionist member of parliament for Vancouver. Under the plan advocated by Mr. Stevens the Dominion would not collect the excess taxes but would allow the money to remain in the concerns as capital and draw interest or dividends as earned. He proposes to make the plan retroactive to April 1, 1919.

EMERGENCY GIVEN TO ARMENIA
SAN REMO, April 23.—(Havas) The afternoon session of the council was devoted to the Turkish treaty. After hearing the statement of the Armenian delegation, the conference gave Lirzeum to Armenia.

The control of Constantinople also was taken up, and the project recently advanced from London for a high commission composed of England, France and Italy was considered.

The advance of the Bolshevik forces on Batoum was taken up. The military experts gave it as their opinion that the Bolshevik troops were too strong for the forces at Batoum, which should be evacuated.

"GEOPHONER" LISTENING THROUGH HALF A MILE OF SOLID ROCK

HEARS THROUGH 2000 FEET OF SOLID COAL

The "geophone" has been converted into a rescuing agency in locating abandoned miners.

The device has a capacity of catching vibration sounds through a mine-shaft for a distance of 1500 feet, through solid coal for 2000 feet, and detects sounds through solid rock for one-half mile.

The apparatus consists of an iron ring, three and one-half inches in diameter, within the center of which is suspended a lead weight that is fastened by a bolt through two metal discs, one of which covers the top and the other the bottom of the ring. Two brass cap pieces are fastened with bolts to the iron ring, the top brass cap having an opening in the center to which is fastened a rubber tube leading to a stethoscopic earpiece.

In practice, the instrument simply consists of a lead weight suspended between two thin discs, which extend across a small air-tight box. Pounding or digging in the vicinity of the instrument causes the earth waves to shake the geophone case. Vibrations are transmitted to the ear drum, the rapid air waves producing sound effects.

Talking can be understood through 50 feet of the solid coal, and detected 150 feet away.

The geophone locates leaks in water mains. In Pittsburgh the water company had spent two weeks of fruitless effort in locating one leak—the geophone accomplished the job in a few minutes, the leak being heard from the surface from any point within a circle 50 feet in diameter.

ASSESSORS WANT AN AUTOMOBILE

Unless the municipal council see fit within a short time to make some provision for automobile service for the board of assessors, members of that body will be forced to hire a machine at $10 per day to carry on their real estate valuation work properly, Chairman Albert J. Blazon says.

At the present time the assessors are making their annual rounds in a 1914 Buick model which they claim is next to worthless for the nature of the work in which they are engaged. The old carry-all used in the days before autos were common was more satisfactory than the present machine, Mr. Blazon asserts.

"We don't care what kind of a car we get as long as it gives us the service," Chairman Blazon said this morning. "All the assessors have cars of their own if they want any joy-riding, but we ought to have some sort of a suitable vehicle to make our rounds."

U. S. AMBASSADOR MEETS KING OF ITALY

ROME, April 22.—Robert Underwood Johnson, American ambassador to Italy, presented his credentials to King Victor Emmanuel today, driving from the embassy to the Quirinal palace in a gala court carriage with outriders.

Mr. Johnson later left for San Remo, where he will meet the secretary of the American embassy in Paris who has been ordered by the state department at Washington to go to the scene of the conference of the supreme allied council.

The ambassador was met at the Quirinal by Marquis Rocco Dolmo, prefect of the palace. Mr. Johnson was introduced to the king and had a cordial audience with the sovereign for about 30 minutes. He then presented the personnel of the embassy, with whom the king conversed.

WILL HOLD DRILL THIS EVENING

The O.M. I. Cadets will hold a drill tonight in their armory in East Merrimack street, and as it may be the last chance for many of the boys to get in trim for the battalion night exercises to be held next Wednesday night in Associate hall, a record attendance is expected. The cadets who are to drill for the prizes have been put under several hard grillings by the instructors and are now working like machines, so precise are they in the manual of arms. The other features to be presented next Wednesday will receive attention tonight.

Col. Alfred Burns will be present and he states that a very important meeting for the officers will be held after the drill. Instructions will be given and final plans outlined in regard to the exhibition and dance.

WHO WANTS A BABY?

NEW YORK—Although janitors are supposed to be prospering these days, the Carden family decided it was too large to combat the high cost of living. Mr. and Mrs. Carden have had nine children. Margaret Carden, their mother, has advertised for adoption the three youngest children, shown in this picture. "I'd rather have someone else keep them than to have them go hungry," said Mrs. Carden.

To Investigate Events in Siberia

VLADIVOSTOK, April 23. (By Associated Press.)—Decision to investigate recent events in Siberia was reached by the inter-allied railway commission here today. This action was a sequel of many complaints that the Japanese military command in Siberia had violated the allied military agreement. The commission also sent an address to the provisional government here, asking it to induce railway workers to return to their posts, "in the interest of the Russian people."

READ WHAT IRON-LAX-TONIC IS DOING IN LOWELL

LOWELL SHOEMAKER GIVES TESTIMONY—HARD WORKING PEOPLE HEED WHAT HE SAYS

Leon Lamothe is a shoemaker by trade. He lives at 115 Salem street, Lowell, Mass.

Here is the story he told: "I am 26 years old. I have been a shoemaker since the age of 15. Very often I have worked from 7 a. m. till 11 p. m. I lost my appetite. I had pains in my stomach, which were very severe. I was exhausted. I could not sleep well. I got up in the morning feeling tired. I followed a treatment by one of the best physicians in the city and tried everything I was told about, with no results whatever. And then I thought I should have to give up work. A neighbor asked me to try a few of his tablets which were Iron-Lax-Tonic tablets from which he had received great benefit. I did, and in a few days began to feel better. I bought a bottle and before I was half finished with it I felt altogether different. I started to eat. I could sleep all night and got up in the morning feeling fine. My bowels moved regularly and a rash which had broken out all over my body disappeared. I am on the second bottle and I feel strong. I work hard and feel well. "Since I have told all my friends about Iron-Lax-Tonic, and a number of them have thanked me. For they are getting the same results as I do from Iron-Lax-Tonic and they too are telling all their friends as I did. And you can rest assured that those who feel as I did should not hesitate but start now." Adv.

CONGRESSMEN TO SEND PROTEST TO ENGLAND

BILL TO RELIEVE AUTOMOBILISTS

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, April 23.—A bill to relieve automobilists of many technical violations of the law was reported favorably today by the legislative committee on roads and bridges.

Under existing law, an automobile which is operated frequently in Massachusetts and in an adjoining state as well is required to be registered in both states, but the Massachusetts law provides that only Massachusetts plates may be shown while the vehicle is in this state. Consequently an owner registered here and operating in another state is required, under a technical interpretation of the law, to stop at the state line each time he crosses it and change his number plates.

To do away with this necessity the committee has reported a bill providing that "motor vehicles and trailers which are commonly operated in this commonwealth and in an adjoining state may display the register number plates of both states, whenever the motor vehicle or trailer is required by law or local regulation to be registered in this commonwealth and also in the adjoining state, provided, the said number plates on the front and the rear of the vehicle or trailer are always plainly discernible."

Ladies!

A penny saved is a penny earned. So said Ben Franklin.

If you buy your hat from us we don't save you pennies; we save you dollars. Our small overhead expense enables us to do this. We do not brag about being able to buy cheaper than others, any more than the man who runs a small, modest but clean hostelry can claim he buys food cheaper than the one who conducts a big, high class luxurious hotel. But he can and he does sell you the same wholesome clean food for half the price of the big PALACE, simply because, having a small expense, but a small profit is sufficient to cover it. Surely you are not going to pay $12 if we can sell you the same hat for $8. This is just what we do every day of the week. Come and see the wonderful values we continue to have on trimmed and untrimmed hats for $2.98

Don't forget we lead everybody on Children's Hats.

CROWDS HUNT BEAR IN CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND — It might be called a bare-faced job if there wasn't the picture to prove that bear-hunting is popular in Cleveland's city limits. Bill, a brown bear cub, six months old, escaped from his pit at the city park. Bill went a cruising in the park. Cops and crowds chased Bill for 18 hours. Bill eluded 'em. Then he took to a tree and Keeper John Connors came with a rope and lassoed the playful baby.

CONSIDER REFERENDA ON FEDERAL AMENDMENTS

WASHINGTON, April 23.—The supreme court today begins consideration of whether federal constitutional amendments must be submitted to the voters for ratification in states having referendum provisions in their constitutions. The question is involved in appeals from Ohio supreme court decisions sustaining the state constitutional referendum amendment and dismissing injunction proceedings brought to enjoin submission of the prohibition and woman suffrage amendments to popular vote.

The case is the first of its kind to reach the supreme court and upon the court's opinion, it is asserted, would likely depend whether the women of the country would be able to vote at the forthcoming presidential election. Should the court hold the suffrage amendment must be submitted to a referendum, Ohio would be withdrawn temporarily from the list of states which the secretary of state has certified as ratifying. It would be impossible, it was said here, to submit the amendment to the voters in that state before next fall.

RUMANIAN MINISTER ARRIVES

Puff Sleeves, Small Bodices, for Gibson "American Girl"

BY CORA MOORE,

New York's Fashion Authority.

NEW YORK, 23.—Not so long ago, at least not more than twenty years ago, short sleeves were emphatically "in." But not the abbreviated unobtrusive affairs of today. They might be elbow length or half of that, but always they were of balloon-like fullness.

Fashionable gowns of that day had distinctly light bodices which might be pointed, and quite evident hips. Skirts were long, sweeping the floor, and of a urolino stiffness, though far from the hoop-skirts.

Heavy satins, corded silks and velvets were popular. Fanciful dresses of chambray were in favor. Heavy, pearl-white satin was chosen for the gown in which Olie La Vaine, French mannequin, poses as the Chas. Dana Gibson bride of that period, in the "Brides of the Centuries" feature of "What's in a Name?" A great four-in-hand bow of tulle behind an orange blossom bandeau is her head dress.

ANNUAL MEETING OF Lowell Community Service, Inc.

"Five to hold office until the annual meeting in 1921; five to hold office until the annual meeting in 1922, and five to hold office until the annual meeting in 1923; thereafter five directors shall be elected at each annual meeting of the Corporation."

The constitution further provides that "no member under 21 years of age shall have the right to vote at meetings of the Corporation."

The meeting will be called to order at 8 p. m.

TO THOSE NOT YET MEMBERS

In Lowell we have the Community Club for Service Men, Ex-Service Men and Civilians. This Club is the Center for General Activities.

We also have the Community Service Club for Girls and a Center for Women's and Girls' Activities.

These were established and maintained, the former up to January 31st, 1920, and the latter up to November 1st, 1919, out of funds supplied out of the United War Work Fund, later partly by the National Community Service and privately. Both are invaluable to Lowell and a responsibility Lowell is asked to assume; else they must be given up sooner or later, if the People of Lowell do not unite to support and maintain them. Lowell Organizations, Leaders and People in the Community have had the matter placed in their hands. Over 8500 People have responded to the call to establish their own Community Service, but less than $5000 has been subscribed, and there is a population of 100,000 in the Community.

What is the matter? Is Lowell going to fall down?

The Board of Directors have done their best—they have fairly and squarely done their part; organized and planned so that the Lowell Community, including each individual, could have a part in this Organization of Service to Lowell.

The President appreciates the right of any and all to throw him and the Board of Directors down and will make no complaint, but to throw down the Men who have been in the Service, to throw out the girls and the Service Center, the value of which is so well known, would be a crime and a disgrace to Lowell, and a reflection on the organization and individuals, who refuse to assist through being too self-centered or too indifferent to Lowell's needs, failing to see their responsibilities, as members of the Community.

The Election takes place April 28th. What will be handed to the new Board of Directors? WHAT DOES LOWELL SAY?

Body May Be That of "Blink" McCloskey

PARIS, April 23.—"Blink" McCloskey, an American pugilist, who for the past nine or ten years has been prominent in fight circles of Europe, has been missing since March 8. The torso of a man found in the Seine just outside of Paris recently has been viewed by men well acquainted with McCloskey and they have expressed the opinion the body may be that of the missing pugilist. McCloskey left his hotel on March 8, having $200 on his person which he told Johnny Coulon and "Biz" Mackay, also American fighters, he intended to convert into francs.
